Sausalito School Integration Will Get Full Study

Sausalito School District trustees last night decided to make a study of full integration of schools in the district —from kindergarten on up.

As a start, the board decided to move 14 pupils, of which 13 are Negroes, from Richardson Bay School to Bayside School. Richardson Bay is about 60 per cent Negro while Bayside is almost completely made up of white students.

Action came at a special meeting following a demand by parents a week ago that fourth grade pupils be moved from Richardson Bay to Bayside instead of vice versa as had been proposed by the administration. Several parents claimed last week there was a definite segregation problem and asked for integration.

The students will be moved tomorrow, Supt. Marcus F. Davis said. This equalization will keep the same number of fourth grade classes at each of the schools but will give each class an average of 26 students. Classes have been overloaded at Richardson Bay and undersized at Bayside.

"I move that we make a complete study of the means by which full integration can be achieved in the Sausalito School District," said trustee John S. Wellington.

Davis asked, "What do you mean by full integration?"

"I mean the integration of classes from kindergarten on up," replied Wellington.

Trustee Stanley Wolfe said, "To me it means assignment to classrooms without regard to where the kids live."

The vote was 4-0 with trustee George R. Kowski absent.

Davis said a citizens committee was suggested to make the study but the board decided the superintendent should make it. He is to make progress reports to the board through the year and, if there is a need for funds to implement integration, is to make such recommendations prior to the time the board begins work on the 1963-64 budget.

About 50 persons attended the meeting, which was held in Bayside School gymnasium.

Next board meeting will be Nov. 13 at the district office, this being a postponement of one day since the regular meeting date, Nov. 12, is Veteran's Day.

90 Per Cent Of Reservists Are On Duty

Two days after its sudden call to active duty, the 349th Troop Carrier Wing (Air Force Reserve) at Hamilton Air Force Base was 90 per cent complete today, reported Brig. Gen. Rollin B. Moore Jr., wing commander.

"We have been unable to reach some men because of vacations and business trips," Moore said.

The wing has been assigned to the tactical air command. It will remain at Hamilton until further orders.

The men will be allowed to return to their homes after normal duty hours, the general announced.

General Moore said the wing is now operational and ready to carry out any mission assigned it by the tactical air command.

Civil Air Patrol Placed On Alert

The 30 members of Marin County Composite Squadron 4 of the Civil Air Patrol have been placed on an alert basis ready to put their six light planes into service.

The alert order came from California Wing headquarters of the Civil Air Patrol at the Presidio of San Francisco last Thursday, three days after the Cuban blockade order by President John F. Kennedy.

Capt. Harry Treanor, 39 Robert Avenue, San Rafael, squadron operations officer, said the alert notice served only to warn members that they should be ready for duty on very brief notice.

CAP duties in case of emergency would include courier and messenger service, surveillance of surface traffic, light transport flights of supplies and personnel, aerial photography and reconnaissance, radio communication, and in the event of an atomic attack, aerial radiological monitoring.

LULL IN THE CRISIS

The U.S. Navy cruiser Newport News passes today under the ancient guns of the Morro Castle, an old Spanish fort guarding the entrance to San Juan Harbor. The ship had been participating in the blockade of Cuba, and took advantage of the two-day suspension to take on supplies in Puerto Rico. President John F. Kennedy also called off air probes. U Thant Confers In Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States suspended today its aerial surveillance and arms blockade of Cuba, and was reported to have received assurance the Soviet Union has stopped construction of missile bases on the island.

The U.S. actions were described as temporary, and for the two days that Acting U.N. Secretary-General U Thant is conferring in Havana.

There was no official announcement of the assurances that the Soviet Union, on its part, has stopped work on the missile bases, but highly placed informants said such assurance were received yesterday. The channels by which these assurances were received were obscure.

SUSPENDED AT DAWN

Arthur Sylvester, assistant secretary of defense ,announced at a Pentagon briefing shortly before noon the temporary suspension of the aerial surveillance. The blockade had been suspended at dawn.

Thant left New York this forenoon for the critical negotiations in Cuba with Premier Fidel Castro.

Sylvester had no report on the results of aerial reconnaissance flights carried out by U.S. planes yesterday.

But he had a further explanation of the delaying in analyzing the reconnaissance photographs.

REVIEW OF MATERIAL

He said he had talked this morning with top officials in charge of analysis of the picturfes. Sylvester said he now could say:

"Analysis of aerial pictures entails a meticulous review of the material disclosed and a painstaking comparison of that material with previously obtained material in order to obtain accurate findings. One has to be careful about making conclusions because there are certain evaluation procedures to be observed in order to insure accuracy of the results obtained.

"All of this takes time, despite published reports to the contrary.

"In addition, the time since Chairman Khrushchev's message of Sunday morning is too

'No News, No Pretty Girls In USSR'

(Editor's note: This is the eighth of a series of interviews with Marinites who visited the USSR with the Marin Executive Delegation.)

By ALTON S. BOCK

The Soviet Union is a flat country with no news from the outside world and very few pretty girls.

These were some of the observations made by Roger J. Darrow of San Rafael after a tour of Western Russia with 21 other Marin business and professional men.

"What really impressed me most," Darrow said, "was the existence of what can be called an 'iron curtain.' There is a complete blackout of news. I was surprised that people as intelligent as they are seem to be getting nothing at all from the outside world.

"We saw no foreign newspapers except Communist publications like the Worker's World from London. Everything they read comes from the state-owned papers."

Darrow, former president of the Marin Title Guaranty Co., did not tour any comparable organizations in Russia because of course there's no need for title insurance since there's no privately owned land."

MSGR. CANTWELL SUCCUMBS AT 86

Rt. Rev. William J. Cantwell, pastor of St. Monica's Catholic Church in San Francisco and a former pastor of St. Anselm's Church in San Anselmo, died yesterday in Los Angeles.

Monsignor Cantwell, 86, was pastor of St. Anselm's from 1916 to 1929, during which time he built St. Anselm's parochial school.

He entered St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Los Angeles early this month for a routine physical examination. While celebrating Mass in the hospital chapel on Oct. 11 he collapsed, suffering a head injury in his fall which led to his death.

The oldest active Catholic priest in the San Francisco Archdiocese, Monsignor Cantwell had held his last post for 33 years.

He was born in Limerick, Ireland, into a noted Irish Catholic family. He was the brother of the late Msgr. John J. Cantwell of Los Angeles and the late Msgr. James Cantwell, chancellor of the San Francisco Archdiocese.

Monsignor Cantwell studied in St. Patrick's College, Thurles, Ireland, and was ordained in 1901. That year he was appointed assistant pastor of St. Francis de Sales Church in Oakland. In 1913 he became the first pastor of St. Bruno's Church in San Bruno, serving there until his appointment to St. Anselm's. He became pastor of St. Monica's parish when he left Marin.

Pope John XXIII elevated the priest to the rank of domestic prelate with the title of monsignor on Sept. 17 of this year.

Surviving are a sister, Nellie Cantwell of Los Angeles; two brothers, Rev. Arthur J. Cantwell, pastor of St. Elizabeth's Church in San Francisco, and

Hughes Case Decision Unchanged

Long and bitter controversy over the county administrator's dismissal last year of the assistant county personnel director was revived by supervisors today, but by 3-2 vote they stood by their action last April confirming the discharge.

Spurred by grand jury criticism, Chairman Walter R. Castro complained of the nature of the appeal proceedings. He proposed to "remove the cloud" from Stella Hughes, the ousted personnel assistant.

County Counsel E. Warren McGuire said the entire process had been legally correct but said he had been asked by Miss Hughes' attorney, Duane W. Anderson of San Francisco, to notify the board that court action is contemplated.

Supervisor Peter Behr, himself a lawyer, pointed out that any reversal by the board would leave it highly vulnerable in court.

The issued was precipitated

Lawmen Brewing Plans For Halloween Night

Police and sheriff's patrols in Marin County will be at least doubled tomorrow night to quiet Halloween haunts and goblins as much as possible.

Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa of San Rafael said his entire force will be working—about 18 patrolmen instead of the usual four or five on night duty. They will work in two-man teams in cars. Two foot patrolmen will work in the downtown area.

Chief Chiesa said Halloween vandalism has not been a problem in past years and he hopes to preserve the record.

Mill Valley Police Chief Dan Terzich said he will assign 12 police reserves to work with the normal four-man evening crew. Officers who usually go on duty at midnight will start two hours earlier, boosting the force during the time the most help is needed.

San Anselmo also will have three additional regular officers and four reserves on duty with all patrol units working, reported Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani. Fairfax's Chief James Orr will call in two extra men.

Belvedere Chief William Woodington will triple his force, with seven men on duty instead of two. Four extra men will work with the regular two-man night police crew in Sausalito. Chief Howard Clark's force in Larkspur will comprise six rather than the usual two. Corte Madera police will be on "special alert," said Chief Frank Nelson.

The sheriff's department will have about 45 men on duty, counting 30 regulars (the whole patrol division) and 15 reserves.

Usually only six or eight sheriff's deputies are on night duty.

Red China Is Rejected In U.N. Bid

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Red China suffered a resounding defeat today when the General Assembly rejected its latest U.N. membership bid by a bigger margin than a year ago.

The vote was 42 in favor, 56 against and 20 abstaining. In both cases it was far less than the required two-thirds majority.

The main switch was among some of the new African members.

The vote was seen as a big victory for the Western powers who had strongly opposed the seating of Red China. They argued that the Peiping regime's military action against India demonstrated its unfitness for membership.

The vote was on a Soviet resolution calling for the ouster of the Chinese Nationalist delegations from all U.N. organs.

Civil Defense Buildup Is Ordered In Marin

Chairman Walter R. Castro of the Marin County Board of Supervisors today ordered a buildup of disaster preparations.

He called a meeting tomorrow of all county department heads to discuss civil defense.

The order came on the heels of one county civil defense official's resignation, and after Castro discovered that the batteries were dead in 32 radiological detection kits throughout the county.

Yesterday afternoon Dr. Elmer A. Weden Jr. of San Anselmo called Castro to read a letter of resignation as the assistant medical coordinator for civil defense. He told Castro that he saw no need for preparations at this time.

Castro told fellow supervisors today that he directed Dr. Rafael G. Rufficy Jr., county medical director, last week to find out from Dr. Weden what preparations had been made. Dr. Weden's response was to ask, in effect, "what's the hurry?" Dr. Dufficy reported to Castro.

The supervisors' chairman said he wanted to know what doctors would take charge of hospital medical staffs throughout the county in case of disaster. Apparently no assignments had been made, he said.

Castro said he went to the courthouse on Saturday to help Mrs. Jean Smith, assistant civil defense coordinator, answer phone calls, which had been numerous throughout the week.

He asked for a check on radiological kits and found them inoperative.

He further found that additional emergency first aid kits are needed, he said, and recommended that kits be stored at Terra Linda High School and at St. Vincent's School for Boys.

Supervisors passed a motion to this effect. In the same motion they appointed Dr. Dufficy to replace Dr. Weden as civil defense medical coordinator.

U.S. Issues Call For 6,000 To Be Drafted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Defense Department today issued a call for 6,000 draftees to be inducted into the Army during December.

The quota was an increase over the 4,000-a-month draft rate for October and November.

IKE SAYS GOP HELPED KEEP UP ARMED POWER

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower says Republicans had a major role in giving the United States the armed strength that enabled it to take a strong stand against the Soviet Union in the Cuba crisis.

Eisenhower also told 10,000 cheering Republicans at a dinner-rally last night that GOP leaders had helped spur President John F. Kennedy to forceful action.

Although tensions are now eased, the Republican leader said, "We have no reason to relax" and the Soviet threat "we will bury you" still stands.

Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, seeking re-election, shared the platform at the Syracuse War Memorial Auditorium with Eisenhower, who has been campaigning through the country in support of GOP candidates.

Eisenhower endorsed Rockefeller as a man of integrity, sharpness of mind, energy and moral courage.

In addition to giving Republicans much credit for laying the groundwork for Kennedy's Cuban policy, Eisenhower again sharply attacked domestic policies of the Kennedy administration.

He hit at Edward M. Kennedy, the President's youngest brother who is Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate for Massachusetts, saying he was implying he has "free entry through all doors in Washington."

Eisenhower's 21-minute speech, interrupted 17 times by applause, appeared to be designed to crack down Democratic efforts to monopolize credit for the Cuban developments.

The former president had these comments:

"Through eight years of a Republican Eisenhower administration, Americans ceaselessly worked to transform their armed forces from World War II patterns into an effective, modern instrument of defense. The present military readiness of the nation would not exist were it not for the work of those eight years."

"It was a recommendation of the Republican leaders of the Congress that first inspired the joint congressional resolution under which the President was able to act in this latest crisis forcefully and with congressional approval of his acts."

"So our commander-in-chief, sure of his ready military strength, fortified by the tradition of American unity in foreign crisis, proclaimed our determination. Thereafter, the men in the Kremlin seemed to have some somber, second thoughts."

Eisenhower did not mention the President by name at any time during his speech.

Senators Rule Out Sanctuary

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Senate Republicans warned today against any Soviet missile-removal agreement that might provide a permanent sanctuary for communism in Cuba.

The Republicans said they would oppose any U.S. guarantee that Fidel Castro's Cuban government would be protected from Western Hemisphere harassment.

In agreeing Sunday to pull his missile bases out of Cuba, Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev told President John F. Kennedy in a message, "I regard with respect and trust your statement that no attack will be made on Cuba, that no invasion will take place, not only by the U.S.A. but also by other countries of the Western Hemisphere, as your message pointed out."

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating (R-N.Y.), who contended weeks ago that the Soviet arms build-up was offensive and not defensive, said, "We must be very wary about any pact which will tie our hands in preventing the spread of communism to other countries in the Caribbean," he said.

Sen. Hugh Scott (R-Pa.), said he interprets the Cuban developments as "a victory over Khrushchev, but not over Castro."

Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) called on Kennedy to avoid any concession "which would have the effect of making Castro communism a permanent fixture."

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Priest Captures Killer In Rectory

CHICAGO (UPI)—A Roman Catholic priest today shot and captured a knife-wielding burglar who had crept into the rectory and stabbed the housekeeper to death.

"I aimed at the legs," said the Rev. Stephen O'Donnell, 49, pastor of St. Patrick's Church. "It was the first time I ever shot anybody."

"I didn't want to kill him," said Father O'Connell, a former Army chaplain. "He came at me. I don't know what he did, but I shot him."

Father O'Connell said he was awakened by the screams of Betty Walsh, 36, the housekeeper, and her sister, Peggy, 44, the cook. The body of the housekeeper was found on a stairway. Her sister hovered near, critically wounded.

Teeners Admit Defacing Negro Home

SACRAMENTO (AP)—White brothers, aged 14 and 15, have confessed defacing a Negro family's home with painted hate slogans—the second such incident in Sacramento in recent weeks.

Juvenile Officer Eugene Camper said the boys told him they got the idea from newspaper accounts of the earlier incident, which they had nothing to do with.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Humbles, who moved into an all-white neighborhood last month, spent most of yesterday removing the paint from their house, fence, sidewalk and driveway.

The white boys said they got up at 5 a.m. and painted such things as "Nigger land," "Nigger go home to the jungle," "You black Mau Mau," and "Your son is going to die if you don't go back to the jungle."

The Humbles have a 9-year-old son.

Lemnitzer Arrives

PARIS (UPI) — Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer is taking over command of American Forces in Europe pending the postponed retirement of supreme allied commander Gen. Lauris Norstad, the Europe headquarters said today.

The announcement said Lemnitzer arrived from the United States this morning.

Siren Mistake

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — At the sound of a siren in the predawn darkness, an alert Memphis mother woke her husband, two children and the dog.

They hustled to a basement shelter well stocked with emergency supplies.

The mother, who prefers to remain anonymous, hurriedly flicked on a portable radio to hear the news. After 10 minutes of rock 'n' roll music in the dark, she realized the siren had been from a passing fire truck.

Satellite Delayed

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —Technical troubles forced a effort to launch a flashing light geodetic satellite to make more accurate measurements of the earth. The shot was rescheduled for 3:30 a.m. tomorrow.

MEDFORD, Mass. (AP) — Amy Otis Earhart, 95, mother of vanished aviatrix Amelia Earhart, died yesterday in a nursing home.

More Russ Tests

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet Union has fired three more nuclear tests—the 23rd, 24th, and 25th to be announced by the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission in the current series.

One was set off yesterday and two on Sunday, according to the AEC.

Mrs. FDR 'Serious'

NEW YORK (UPI) — A family spokesman said yesterday that Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt was "holding her own" but still seriously ill.

Mrs. Roosevelt, 78, suffering anemia and a lung infection, was taken home from a hospital 12 days ago. Only members of her immediate family are allowed to visit her.

Ex-Wife Can't Vote

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. (AP)—Mary C. Rockefeller,, former wife of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, is not eligible to vote in next Tuesday's balloting when he is up for re-election.

The Westchester County Board of Elections confirmed yesterday it had canceled Mrs. Rockefeller's voting registration because she established residence in Nevada last March to obtain her divorce there.

Against Prop. 24

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk says Prop. 24, the anti-Communist amendment, is "probably unconstitutional in many respects."

Mosk made the statement yesterday in a letter to five legislators who had asked his opinion. It was not a formal opinion by the attorney general.

He also called the proposal vague, ambiguous, and long-winded. He said control of subversion is desirable, but the FBI has the necessary tools.

Mosk also said there are moral arguments against Prop. 24 because it threatens the freedom to dissent, "to espouse the unpopular, the minority point of view, even the unworkable and the stupid."

Red Drive Slows Down A Little As India Stabs Back With Mortars

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Indian forces laid down a barrage of mortar fire and launched probing stabs today as the Red Chinese drive showed signs of slowing down —at least temporarily.

Battles appeared to be shaping up in the Himalayas as both sides poured in reinforcements. For the first time, the Defense Ministry told of Indian forces using mortars and holdings their own against the Communists. The only setback reported today was loss of one small military outpost on the Tibetan border in the center of the North East Frontier Agency.

With American and British weapons to be rushed here by air, a feeling of confidence swept the nation and shook it out of the despair created by a series of retreats since the Communists launched their offensive Oct. 20.

Major battles appeared to be shaping up near the Buddhist monastery town of Towang and at Walong, 250 miles to the east near the Burma border.

Strong Indian forces were being rushed to the two and one-half-mile-high Se Pass to try to blunt a Chinese threat to the thickly populated Assam plains. Informed sources said the Indians recaptured Jang, four miles east of Chinese-held Towang, which put them in a better position for defense of Assam.

Near the Burmese border, the Chinese were reported still on the outskirts of Walong.

On the Ladakh front, 1,000 miles to the west, the Indian government acknowledged the fall of Demchok and nearby Jara Pass to the Chinese Saturday.

A government spokesman said it was by and large untrue that Indian troops fighting in three-mile altitude on the Ladakh front were inadequately clothed against winter. The government conceded that the troops there and elsewhere lack sufficient rapid-fire weapons to repel the Chinese attacks.

Responding quickly to an Indian plea for assistance, the United States is expected to start sending modern infantry weapons by the end of this week.

New demands arose for the resignation of Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon, blamed by critics for the inadequacy of the military equipment with which the Indian army faced the first Chinese onslaughts in the 10-day-old border war.

A year ago, Menon blocked efforts by top generals to turn to the United States for weapons.

Opposition to Menon is becoming so strong within the ruling Congress party that some observers think Prime Minister Nehru may have to fire his closest associate. So far, Nehru has pushed Menon into the background and taken over most of his duties.

In a speech yesterday, Nehru said: "We had been conditioning ourselves not to think of war and all our operations had been directed to the development of our economy."

In contrast, he said, Red China prepared for war and has the world's largest army.

Bomb Plots Foiled In South America

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—Castro sympathizers planning a stepped-up sabotage campaign throughout Latin America were foiled from bombing American establishments in Santiago and communications facilities in Venezuela, authorities reported.

Pro-Castro demonstrators burned an American flag and toned government headquarters in Uruguay before an estimated 1,000 machete-swinging soldiers and policemen scattered the mob last night.

Spurred by the dynamiting Sunday of vital Venezuelan oil installations, Latin-American internal security officials were reported ready to tighten measures against subversive acts allegedly directed by Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

The premature blast of a bomb being assembled in a downtown apartment led to the discovery here yesterday of a cache of explosives and a list of bomb targets. Police said the list included the U.S. Embassy, U.S. firms and Chilean government buildings.

Four persons were arrested. Among them was July Armando Suardo, president of the leftist Progressive Social Movement and a former candidate for Congress.

In Caracas, the Venezuelan Interior Ministry said a time bomb was found Saturday at a radio television installation 20 minutes before it was set to explode.

In Montevideo, Uruguay, 70 persons were arrested in last night's demonstration. The crowd, mostly students, also aimed its fury at chief opposition parties, which had endorsed the American blockade of Cuba.

The Guatemalan Foreign Ministry said it had confidential information on potential sabotage and agitation in that nation.

Schools Are Urged To Tackle Drugs

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Richard A. McGee, administrator of the State Youth and Adult Corrections Agency, said today that the elementary schools could help solve the dangerous drug problem by doing more to develop children's emotional maturity.

McGee told a hearing by the State Senate Fact-Finding Committee on Judiciary that he realized the proposal is "a delicate matter with very real limitations."

"Most parents feel that the way they raise their children is their own business . . .

"However, we could, if we would make an effort, change some of the fixed attitudes in this regard through constructive demonstrations. The schools are in a strategic position to provide leadership in meeting the problem of deviant behavior.

"The schools have contact with virtually every child in the community — and at an early point in his development. This is important. The attack on divergence cannot wait until high school."

McGee also backed proposals that the schools identify maladjusted children by tests as early as possible. Several years ago Dr. Eli Bower of the State Education Department worked out such tests which met with much criticism from some parents who said the questions violated the family's privacy.

McGee said the schools' programs should incorporate psychology, psychiatry, social casework and special education, involving both the child and his parents.

"Most of the time," he said, "the child's parents need help as much as he does.

"Deviant behavior — of which the illicit use of pills is an example— is rooted in the development of the individual's charcter. The moulding of that character is a responsibility of the community as well as of the family."

McGee said that in California, since the 1961 laws toughening narcotics penalties, the narcotic arrest rate dropped 18 per cent, but the dangerous drug rose 27 per cent.

Dangerous drugs include barbiturates, such as seconal, nembutal, amytal, and phenobarbital;and amphetamines, such as benzedrine, and dexidrine. In massive dozes they make people feel drunk or excited, or happy—temporarily.

McGee said some produce addiction more difficult to break than the heroin habit, and some cause unconsciousness, death, personality deterioration, hallucinations and mental illness.

He suggested stronger penalties for dangerous drug traffic and federal controls on the shipment of such drugs to Mexico, where they can be purchased by Americans without prescription.

Such steps he said would reduce the traffic, but he warned that some other form of deviant behavior would rise to take its place.

Community effort to mould character is the best long-term solution, he said.

Lawyer Won't Take Chance On Juror

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Attorney Robert M. Odear objected to a prospective juror in a civil case. Judge Joseph J. Bradley smiled and excused the lawyer's wife from jury duty.

Odear told the judge: "I haven't won an argument with her since we were married. And I don't want to take a chance in this case."

McGee Tells Of State Crime Drop

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A significant drop in both adult crime and juvenile delinquency in California in the first nine months of 1962 was reported today by Richard A. McGee, administrator of the State Youth and Adult Corrections Agency.

McGee was first appointed head of California's prison system in 1944 by Gov. Earl Warren, and was promoted to the super-agency job by Gov. Edmund G. Brown last year.

In a speech prepared for a meeting of the Pasadena Chamber of Commerce, McGee said the number of new state prisoners committed from January through September was 18.3 per cent below last year. There was a slight decline in the number of youths committed to the Youth Authority.

"These reductions in actual numbers of adult and youthful criminal commitments become even more significant when the large increase in California's population between the two periods is taken into account," McGee said.

McGee said the FBI's statistics showed that California's crime rate went down 2.1 per cent in 1961, while the rate for the nation went up 1.4 per cent.

Monkeys Found Needing Friends Not Mothers

MADISON, Wis. (UPI) — A monkey needs a playmate more than he needs a mother, a team of psychologists said today.

Two University of Wisconsin psychologists said a monkey can be happy without a mother so long as he has plenty of friends around.

If all the monkey has is his mother, the psychologists said, he's apt to be moody, unhappy, and socially retarded.

Psychologists Harry and Margaret Kuenne Harlow reported in the current issue of Scientific American that laboratory studies of normal and abnormal development in monkeys have shed new light on the mysteries of human development.

"The close behavorial resemblances of our disturbed infant monkeys to disturbed human beings gives us confidence that we are working with significant variables and the hope we can point the way to reducing the toll of psychosocial trauma" in humans, they said.

Monkeys raised with their mothers alone, the researchers said, were the most socially retarded of the animals studied other than those raised in complete isolation.

Monkeys in complete isolation for 60 to 90 days or longer could readjust to society, the studies showed, but a six-month isolation appears "destructive."

Studies showed that four infants raised close together, but without a mother "give every indication of being socially and sexually on a par with infants raised by their own mothers and also given opportunity to associate with other young monkeys," the Harlows said.

by reading of a grand jury letter finding "no justification nor cause" for dismissal of Miss Hughes by Administrator Alan Bruce, "based on the transcript of the case and all other facts given." The letter asked for a response.

This was promptly challenged by Supervisor William D. Fusselman. "The most they can do is vote a censure," he said. "If, as indicated here, they want us to reverse ourselves, they're going beyond their scope."

Supervisor William Gnoss, who had backed Miss Hughes, said he felt she had been treated unjustly. "I feel that the whole thing wasn't handled correctly," said Gnoss.

Supervisor George Ludy said he had voted for dismissal after reading the transcript of the personnel commission hearing "very thoroughly" and that he felt the grand jury was overstepping its authority.

"I think the board should reconsider the cloud put on this woman," said Castro. He suggested the board instruct the county counsel to draw a resolution to such effect.

Behr pointed out that by agreement of the parties, the supervisors' part was limited to review of the 150,000-word transcript. He termed it "a close and difficult case" but said the transcript had disclosed, in his judgment, sufficient reason for dismissal.

McGuire then said the jury had the right to investigate; it also had the right to form a conclusion; but such conclusion could have no legal effect "because under the ordinance they are not a review or appellate body on personnel matters."

"They merely say," McGuire pointed out, "that they have found contrary to you. That is not unusual."

McGuire outlined the procedues followed in the dismissal. "There is no further proceeding under the personnel ordinance," he told the supervisors.

Castro moved that a resolution to clear Miss Hughes be drawn. Gnoss seconded; but the other three supervisors all voted "no."

$2,600 Theft Case Due Court

Edmund James Whalen, 55, formerly of San Rafael, will appear in Santa Rosa Municipal Court Thursday at 9 a.m. in a continued arraignment on grand theft charges that he took $2,600 from his employer, the Sebastopol Growers Union.

When he appears to enter a plea, Whalen either will have an attorney or the court will appoint a defender.

Whalen, already on parole from San Quentin for similar offenses, is charged with cashing a check on the fresh fruit department of the growers' union, of which he had been manager for two years.

STAN'S THE MAN

Demos Are Confident Of Carrow Deferment

Democratic Party leaders in Marin were confident today that their candidate for Seventh District assemblyman would be relieved from active duty with the Air Force for one week to carry on his campaign.

Robert D. Carrow, Novato lawyer who is running against incumbent Republican William T. Bagley of San Rafael for the Marin-Sonoma assembly seat, was called to active duty Sunday as an airman second class with the 349th Troop Carrier Wing at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Roger Kent, Democratic State Central Committee chairman for Northern California, said he asked the Defense Department yesterday for a one-week deferment for Carrow so the candidate might campaign until next Tuesday election.

"I am expecting a favorable decision at any moment," Kent said today.

Carrow, 28, had said he would not ask for a deferment but declared he was still "very much in the race."

He appeared in uniform last night at a debate with Bagley in Sausalito. But he spoke only on what he called "non-partisan issues" because of the Hatch Act which makes it unlawful for a government employee to be politically active.

"I hope I may be able to fulfill my campaign engagements during off-duty hours," Carrow said. "But I'm only one of 1,200 men called to duty, and I'm sure others are facing similar difficulties."

Floundering Cabin Cruiser Is Saved By Coast Guard

A floundering cabin cruiser in distress, being pounded by giant breakers off Stinson Beach this morning, was towed to safety by a Coast Guard cutter just before noon.

The pilot of the boat, not immediately identified, added a touch of drama to the rescue by tossing an instant coffee bottle toward shore, with a penciled note sealed inside.

Deputy Sheriff William S. Christensen said he saw the bottle being tossed overboard. The bottle floated to shore in about 15 minutes. The note read: "I need help. Battery won't start engine."

Mrs. Lloyd Bode of Alameda Patio, Stinson Beach, noticed the boat floundering offshore about a mile north of Stinson Beach. She notified the sheriff's office about 9:45 a.m.

Deputy Christensen said the cruiser, about a 20-footer, was about 225 yards offshore at first. The man in the boat tossed his anchor, but the anchor kept slipping and the boat gradually drifted toward shore.

A Coast Guard cutter arrived just as the floundering boat had reached the breakers. "In time, it would have been in the surf and the cruiser would have been lost although the man probably would have been saved," Christensen reported

Shortly after 11 a.m., the cruiser and the man aboard were reported safely out to sea, being towed toward San Francisco by 82-foot Coast Guard boat.

Civic Center Brochure Still Free

A recommendation that 50 cents a copy be charged henceforth for colored brochures on the new Civic Center was unanimously voted down by Marin County supervisors today.

This reversed a proposal put before the board in a letter from Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows and backed by his chief, Alan Bruce.

Barrows reported about 7,500 copies have been given out gratis. He forecast continuing demand and said 50 cents a copy would about offset the cost to taxpayers.

But nobody on the board saw it that way, Chairman Walter R. Castro leading the attack.

"I feel this is good advertising for the county," said Supervisor William D. Fusselman. "We're pretty small if we don't give it out free."

short to allow us to expect conclusive evidence."

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev promised in that message that Soviet missile bases in Cuba would be dismantled.

The Navy's ships and planes suspended the six-day-old blockade for two days as dawn broke across the wide area they are patrolling in the Atlantic around Communist Cuba.

The blockading force remained on station, ready to resume the quarantine if ordered to do so.

Informed government sources reported last night that U.S. destroyers and aircraft had detected and trailed more than two Soviet submarines for about two days last week in the quarantine area.

The Soviet crafts were trailed until they surfaced and recharged their batteries, then went their way without incident, the sources said. The Soviet subs were traveling separately, informants indicated.

Bradley's Fate Now In Jury's Hands

A jury of nine women and three men went into deliberation today to decide the fate of murder suspect Claude Hilton Bradley, 22.

The husky truck driver is accused of strangling to death Mrs. Carole Frederick, 29, mother of three, in her apartment at 45 Woodland Avenue last June 3.

During a four-week trial before Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. of Marin Superior Court, Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety put on a parade of witnesses in an effort to prove that Bradley tried to attack the victim, then choked her to death.

In his final argument yesterday, the prosecutor asked the jurors to find Bradley guilty of murder in the first degree.

"Carole Frederick gave her life to protect her dignity as a human being and her honor," Garety concluded.

Defense attorney Berwyn A. Rice argued that Bradley had been drinking heavily that night. Even if he did cause the woman's death, it certainly was not intentional, said Rice.

"This man had no intent to rape or to kill. . . . If there was no intent, then ladies and gentlemen, you've got manslaughter," the defense attorney argued.

Rafferty, Richardson Aides Will Speak

Representatives of the two candidates for state superintendent of schools will speak at 8 p.m. Thursday at a meeting of the Fairfax Manor Parent-Teacher Assn. at the school.

Ray T. Hass, chairman of the Parents for Rafferty committee, will speak on behalf of Maxwell Rafferty, and Richard L. Foster, former assistant superintendent of Marin County schools, will represent Dr. Ralph Richardson.

Directors Named For Hospital

Election of new directors of Ross General Hospital was announced today by Dr. John C. Siemens, hospital administrator.

Drs. Chester B. Noyes and Roger Hedin were elected to replace Drs. Warren L. Bostick and Martin L. Griffith Jr. on the board.

New officers of the board are Dr. Ira Degenhardt, president; Dr. Carroll A. Russell, vice president and Dr. Joseph Alderson, secretary. Roderick P. Martinelli and Dr. William A. Galeno remain as holdover directors.

The board agreed to ask Jack Hermann, Kentfield architect, to design a new business office and pharmacy to be built on the ground floor next to the hospital entrance.

Conversion of a two-bed room to a recovery room for for surgery patients was also approved.

Absentee Ballots Number 2,318

Applications for absentee ballots for next Tuesday's election totalled 2,318 by midmorning today.

By tonight's deadline for absentee applications, the total was not expected to reach the record 4,068 taken out in October of 1960.

Agnes Nathanson, chief deputy county clerk, said the number of absentee applications seemed to be running about normal.

tains" was remarkable, Darrow said. "You can say it's a flat country ringed by an iron curtain."

He also noted the drabness of Soviet clothing—"and they just seemed to lack style. I don't think we saw any pretty girls."

A few other things which Russia lacked, according to Darrow, were automobiles, good food, hard liquor other than vodka, air travel, and dogs and cats.

But there was no lack of hard-working people and entertainment in a grand style. "Everywhere people seemed to be busy," Darrow said, "and there are ballets and operas every night which attract big crowds."

There were also plenty of reminders of Lenin, Darrow said. 'We saw statues and pictures of Lenin everywhere. But on the other hand, it's interesting to see how completely they've erased Stalin. I saw his grave next to a wall behind the Lenin Tomb. There's no indication whose grave it is except for a small, nearly obscure marker with his name on it."

An inclination toward uniformity was also evident, Darrow said. "Even in simple things like ordering food in one of the state restaurants, they seem to resent variation. We had trouble getting service unless everybody at one table ordered the same thing. Of course, there was a language difficulty, too.

"Anyway, I thought the food was terrible—a lot of cabbage and meat cooked unimaginatively."

The Russians seem to be taking great care to preserve their history prior to the revolution, Darrow said. "They have retained and restored many landmarks dealing with the czars."

Darrow also saw evidence of declining interest in religion. "I went into one of the big Orthodox churches in Moscow, and the only people worshipping were old people."

Other things which were unfamiliar to an American, Darrow said, were people on the streets selling grapes and bottled water . . . an abundance of cigarettes but no cigars.

"One thing we noticed," he added, "was that wherever we went nobody said 'no' to us. They found some excuse to delay showing us something, or evaded a question, but they never said a flat 'no.'"

OBITUARIES

Annie L. Hess Last Rites Held

Private funeral services for Annie Laurie Hess, wife of Marin and Sonoma lumberman Henry Hess, were held today at Gray's Mortuary, San Francisco.

Mrs. Hess died Sunday in a San Francisco hospital after a long illness.

She and Hess were married in 1906. She was a native of San Francisco and resided there most of her life. Her father was a captain on Pacific sailing vessels during the late 19th century.

The Hess Lumber Co. in San Rafael is the last remaining yard of a chain of lumber yards established by Hess about 40 years ago. He began his lumber business in Sebastopol, and at one time also had a yard in Novato.

Main offices of the Hess firm are in San Francisco.

Mrs. Hess leaves her husband and three brothers, Thomas Roy Klinker and Halvor Dana Klinker of San Rafael, and Carl Victor Klinker of San Francisco.

Entombment was in Mountain View Cemetery, Oakland.

JOHN SIEMENS JR.

John Siemens Jr., a retired Mill Valley banker, died last night of a heart ailment at a local hospital. He had been ill for some time.

Siemens, 69, had lived one year at 76 Corte Madera Avenue. Before that, he spent his lifetime in his native Klamath Falls, Ore.

He and his father opened one of the first banks in Klamath Falls, the First State and Savings Bank. They were owners of the bank. Siemens, who began as a cashier, retired in 1947.

He is survived by his wife, Elsie; a son, Jack Siemens of Chiloquin, Ore.; two daughters, Mrs. Beverly Sinclair of Carmel and Mrs. Johanna Ray of Mill Valley; a brother, Jess Siemens of Medford, Ore., and six grandchildren.

OLE MISS STUDENTS BOMBARD MEREDITH

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — University of Mississippi students bombarded the dormitory of James H. Meredith with firecrackers into the wee hours today.

It was the most serious incident since the bloody rioting when the 29-year-old Negro enrolled four weeks ago.

Student leaders, faculty members and Army officers attributed the explosive campus feeling to Mississippi's coming football game with Louisiana State.

No arrests were made, but the MPs caused students away from Baxter Hall, the ivy-coated dormitory where Meredith has a two-room apartment.

Republican Candidates Have Chance In Alabama

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Republican candidates hope to ride into office in traditionally Democratic Alabama by stressing the Kennedy administration role in the recent racial crisis in Mississippi.

In their most intense vote-getting campaign in many decades, GOP challengers are putting pressure on the Democrats all along the line from Congress to the county courthouse.

The overriding issue is the use of U.S. marshals and federal troops at University of Mississippi, where the enrollment of Negro student James Meredith touched off violence.

Republican candidates have reminded the voters again and again that it was a Democratic administration in Washington which mobilized the federal forces.

Democratic nominees quickly denounced the federal action, too, and recalled that Republican President Dwight D. Eisenhower sent troops into Little Rock, Ark., during the integration uprising there in 1957.

One GOP group, the Montgomery County Committee, keynoted the party's battlecry with this slogan in newspaper ads: "Strike back at Kennedy—vote Republican."

Democratic candidates who normally would win without a fight have Republican opposition for the U.S Senate; three tion for the U.S. Senate; three House; two statewide offices; 28 seats in the 141-member legislature, and numerous county jobs.

For the first time within the memory of many politicians, Republican spokesmen are talking of the chances of victory. Always outnumbered in the past, they are counting on support from disgruntled Democrats.

GOVERNOR EDMUND G. "PAT" BROWN

Harold J. Powers Wants His Marin County Friends and Supporters to Know Why He Is Backing Governor Brown's Candidacy:

"The election of a qualified Governor to direct the affairs of our State Government during the next four years is of the utmost importance to all voters, irrespective of party affiliation.

"After careful consideration of the qualifications, integrity, experience, and demonstrated capabilities of both candidates, I have decided to join with a large number of concerned California Republicans in supporting the re-election of Governor Edmund G. "Pat" Brown, in the November 6th, General Election.

"The four year record of Governor Brown's administration is one of positive achievement and solid accomplishment!

"Under Governor Brown's competent leadership, California has made tremendous progress in every field of social and economic endeavor.

"Innumerable examples can be cited to conclusively prove that all the people of California are benefiting from the administration of Governor Brown.

"Among his many successful accomplishments are:

• Formulation and passage of The California Water Act. Which created the largest project for the conservation and distribution of water resources ever attempted in this county.

• Modernization and accelerated expansion of public educational facilities to meet the needs of a growing population.

• Fiscal responsibility in budgetary matters resulting in a healthy economic climate for California business, industry and labor.

"Governor Edmund G. "Pat" Brown merits your support and I urge all my friends, Republican and Democrats, to join with me in re-electing a great Governor for a great State."

Signed,
Harold J. Powers

CALIFORNIA CANDIDATES

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Campaigners for Gov. Edmund G. Brown say Richard M. Nixon is spending "a scandalous $1,440,000" —some of it eastern money—in a ruthless attempt to buy the California governorship Nov. 6.

Nixon workers answer that the accusations are "lies . . outright smears being used in desperation by the Brown campaign organization . . . we are spending only a fraction of that . . . Brown's spending is double that of our campaign."

They threw their punches in press releases issued only a few hours apart late yesterday.

First was a statement from Elizabeth R. Gatov, state co-chairman for the Democratic incumbent. She declared:

"The huge sum includes out-of-state money and money taken from other GOP candidates . . . Nixon's spending is a scandal. To pour $1.5 million into a governorship campaign is immoral. Governor Brown is spending approximately half that amount."

In reply came a statement from H. R. Haldeman, campaign manager for Republican former Vice President Nixon:

"The simple truth . . . is this: The Nixon campaign for governor is not costing $1,440,000 or anything near it. The figure was mentioned many, many months ago as a campaign budget goal for fund raising purposes. We are spending only a fraction of that, as the voters will see when we file our statements of campaign expenses with the secretary of state. The statement will show that Mr. Brown's spending is double that of our campaign . . ."

Meanwhile, the Democrats for Nixon Committee went on TV screens in San Francisco, Los Angeles and San Diego with what it called "six major charges" against the Brown administration. A Brown spokesman was on the phone immediately to news media with replies.

The committee's accusations, voiced by actors Lloyd Nolan and Victor Jory, and the Brown spokesman's reply:

1. Committee — Brown's strategy as governor and as a campaigner has been directed by a secret report compiled by a Madison Avenue public relations pollster.

Brown—Nixon also uses private polls in his campaign.

2. Committee — Brown's state disaster director has been guilty of "gross negligence in the handling of blood plasma."

Brown—The civil defense director in Washington complimented California only the past weekend on the state of readiness of California civil defense.

3. Committee — Brown's 1958 campaign benefitted from a $50,000 loan from a defense contractor.

Brown—The man in question was not a defense contractor but "Howard Hughes, when he lent $205,000 to Nixon's family, was then one of the largest defense contractors in the nation."

4. Committee — Brown and his administration allowed millions of dollars in losses to be suffered by California investors by failing to move quickly to investigate the financial manipulation of trust deed 10 per centers.

Brown— Rules under which 10 per centers operated were promulgated by Republican administrators, and it was the governor who appointed a special task force to force the 10 per centers into receivership. All are out of business.

5. Committee — Brown took a fishing trip in 1961 on a yacht owned by an oil company doing business with the State of California.

Brown— The company does less than $5,000 worth of business annually with the state. The governor and all other guests paid their own expenses and the governor has his check to prove it.

6. Committee — Brown in his television commercials is using fraudulent, untruthful pictorial representation.

Brown — They never document this. Twice this week Superior Court judges in San Francisco and Los Angeles have issued restraining orders against circulation of false and misleading campaign literature by Nixon supporters. There have been no complaints against materials used in the Brown campaign.

The television show, itself, the Brown spokesman called a fraud. It was originally advertised as being sponsored by the Citizens Committee for Good California Government, he said.

But when it came on the air, it was announced as sponsored by Democrats for Nixon. "Then they continued the fraud one step further by presenting two Republicans, who were the only participants. The contents of the show was just as fraudulent as the sponsorship," the spokesman declared.

The candidates also spoke for themselves yesterday.

Nixon declared in Sacramento that the Cuban crisis disclosed "major weaknesses" in California's civil defense setup. He didn't elaborate.

Brown at a meeting of the governor's council in the capital said the state's civil defense plan is among the most advanced in the nation. But he nevertheless ordered a setup in the program and said defense efforts must be "pushed ahead without respect to periods of crisis."

Nixon in a press statement said, "the experience of the Cuban crisis makes it clear that California cannot afford a provincial administration with an attitude of 'Stop the world; I want to get off.'

"My 16 years of experience in fighting the Communist menace can be put to work for California," Nixon continued.

Brown, in his first campaign speech on his return from a civil defense meeting in Washington, said in San Diego last night that Nixon has no special information about the Cuban crisis "but is simply trying to take political advantage of its existance."

"Let me say this to Mr. Nixon tonight: Leave Mr. Castro and Mr. Khrushchev to the man who won election to the presidency. That's his job."

In other developments:

Superior Court Judge Kenneth M. Chantry in Los Angeles issued a temporary restraining order forbidding printing, posting or distribution of the 32-page booklet "California Dynasty of Communism" which Democratic leaders say smears Brown and other Democratic incumbents by saying they are soft on communism.

Earl Warren Jr., a Sacramento attorney and son of the chief justice of the United States, announced in Los Angeles that he is supporting Republican Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel for re-election. Warren, who changed his registration recently from Republican to Democratic, has been working for the re-election of Governor Brown.

Dr. Ralph Richardson accused Dr. Maxwell Rafferty, his opponent for the office of state superintendent of public instruction, of using campaign literature which he said casts doubt on the loyalty of some of Richardson's supporters. Richardson referred to a three-page sheet he said Rafferty supporters distributed in a bi-partisan adult education forum in Palo Alto Sunday night.

U.S. Sen. Clair Engle, stumping Northern California for Democratic candidates, told a Redding audience last night that the election of State Sen. Richard Richards to the U.S. Senate was "vital to the success of President Kennedy's program in Congress."

DRIVING HOME THE ELEPHANT

Lee Sherry, women's vice chairman of the Republican County Central Committee, symbolically drives an elephant "right back to Sacramento" as she and co-workers Shirley Ness (left) and Gerald E. Misner, central committee chairman, prepared Bermuda Palms for GOP "Night of Fun" Friday starting at 8 p.m. The rally, last major Republican event here before election, will have Joseph Martin Jr. as principal speaker. Assemblyman William T. Bagley and Congressional candidate Donald H. Clausen will be present.

NIXON DOES GOOD TURN, GETS BOOED

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Hundreds of cars were whizzing by a stalled car on the busy Harbor Freeway when Richard M. Nixon spotted it. A Nixon campaign aid gave this account of what ensued:

The Republican gubernatorial candidate told his driver to stop. He offered to give the auto a push.

The stranded motorist thanked Nixon.

But as Nixon's car began to push the stalled auto, a car came by plastered with stickers supporting Nixon's opponent, Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Commented Nixon:

Commercial Bakeries Producing Less Bread

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Commercial bakeries produced an average of nine fewer loaves of white, whole wheat and rye bread per person between the years 1947 and 1959, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reports.

To partially offset this decrease, the average person ate an additional three pounds of buns and rolls and almost two and one-half pounds of raisin and diet bread.

Angeloni To Answer Charges For Recall

Novato City Councilman John Angeloni said today he will file a written answer to the recall charges of Alfred W. Bowman within the week allowed by law.

Bowman filed notice of intention to circulate a petition to recall Angeloni, at the city hall just before noon yesterday.

In addition to the charge of representing a small minority and not the majority in choosing a freeway route, Bowman added two other charges not included in a notice served on Angeloni at the Oct. 16 city council meeting.

He alleged Angeloni purchased an interest in 10 acres west of Highway 101 between Novato Creek and Yukon Way, becoming a joint tenancy owner on July 9 of this year. He also charged that Angeloni "failed to observe the principles of good planning and zoning in meeting the needs of our expanding community."

Mill Valley Halloween Parade Set Tomorrow

Mill Valley's Community Halloween parade will start at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at Lytton Square, circling up Throckmorton and East Blithedale avenues and down Sunnyside Avenue to the square.

There will be games, prizes for the best costumes, and refreshments will be served. The parade, designed for preschoolers through grammar school children, is the cooperative effort of the Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Commission, Parent-Teachers Assn. and police department, according to Ray Bell, parks and recreation commissioner.

Whist Party Tonight

Mount Tamalpais Lodge 399, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, will hold a whist party at 8:15 p.m. today in the Odd Fellows Temple in Mill Valley. Those in charge are Paul A. Hughes, Herbert A. Maxey, and Clifford L. Spinney.

While thoroughbreds were streaking toward the last turn at the Sacramento State Fair in September, California herself was pounding into the stretch. The theme of the Fair—"Join in the fun! California's Number One"—prefaced the long-expected December turning point when this State is scheduled to drive ahead as the nation's most populous.

Sacramento has been looking even farther ahead to completion of a capital city worthy of California's new stature. By the year 2000, a treelined, fountain-graced 138-acre "campus" will provide room for 40,000 employees and thousands of visitors who will assemble at the Capitol every day. The first elements in this bold plan are under construction.

This constructive answer to the challenge of growth typifies Northern California. Here where 215 new industrial jobs must be created daily to maintain the economy——public, private and business groups work together in an intensive search for new payrolls. Already more than 100 industrial subdivisions provide the basic needs to attract new and expanding industry.

Bagley, Carrow Discuss Propositions

By CHAPIN A. DAY

The two candidates for Assembly from this Seventh District, William T. Bagley, incumbent Republican, and Robert D. Carrow, Democratic challenger, met face to face last night, but most of their time was taken up discussing the 25 ballot propositions.

For less than 15 minutes in the more than two-hour meeting sponsored by the Sausalito Women's Club in its Sausalito clubhouse, the candidates discussed issues in their own race. About 40 persons attended.

Carrow, in Air Force uniform following his call to active duty Sunday, said he was not permitted to "direct myself to partisan issues" although "I hope to get permission immediately from the Defense Department to continue campaigning. I'm still very much in the race."

When asked about a stand of Gov. Edmund G. Brown, Carrow straightened his uniform and said, "I'm really not here to ask for votes for Governor Brown tonight. The governor has his problems; I have mine."

The two candidates discussed the ballot propositions and their stands on them, with Carrow speaking on the first 13 and Bagley on the last 12.

Carrow favored all of his baker's dozen except Proposition 5, the award of death benefits in industrial accidents, when he opposed "because it would have an adverse affect on employers," and Proposition 8, which would reduce the number of days between the time a bill is introduced in the legislature and the time it can be heard by committee. He said he would vote no on both of these.

Bagley favored eight and opposed four of the last dozen propositions.

Those he objected to were: Proposition 17, which would increase legislative salaries to $10,000 Bagley said. $10,000 isn't enough to pay a fulltime legislator and get good ones; besides we should continue the citizen-legislator concept as long as we can. Proposition 18 which would make the liquor appeals board more independent of the governor — "the governor should be responsible for its operation." Proposition 23 which "demands, cries out for a no vote" in giving Los Angeles five more state senators. Proposition 24, the Francis Amendment, which he said "has fatal flaws."

In their brief personal battle, Carrow declared there is a major difference between "the type of philosophy" each would take to Sacramento. Bagley, he charged, would equalize civil rights and property rights. "I believe if civil rights come in conflict with property rights, civil rights must predominate," Carrow declared.

He also restated his charge that Bagley had mishandled a state appropriation for a legislative assistant by paying it to a public relations man.

Bagley answered that such a charge illustrated "the pathetic lack of issues" Carrow had been able to develop. He said he had not improperly spent any of the legislative assistance fund and that any portion of it given to a public relations man was for services in connection with legislation, not with campaigning.

Bagley also briefly reviewed his legislative accomplishments and said there "obviously must be a balance between civil and property rights with neither overshadowing the other." He charged his opponent had been "touting civil rights" and flouting property rights."

Carl W. Gabrielson of Sausalito was moderator. Mrs. Russell H. Papenhausen was women's club chairman.

Mosk Explains Election Rules Should Late Rep. Miller Win

If Clem Miller should be re-elected to the United States Congress postumously, a special election to fill the vacancy could be held as early as next Jan. 16, Atty Gen. Stanley Mosk said today.

Mosk reviewed the legal implications of the Democratic congressman's Oct. 7 airplane crash death in response to a query by State Sen. Carl L. Christensen (D-Eureka).

Because Miller died with 40 days of next Tuesday's general election, it was too late to remove his name from the ballot. He will appear as the Democratic nominee against Donald H. Clausen, Republican.

If Clausen wins, he will take his seat in Congress next Jan. 9. However, if Miller obtains a majority of votes in the six-county First Congressional District, the seat will automatically become vacant.

Under such circumstances, the governor must call a special election, giving at least 70 days' notice.

"As soon as the governor has reason to believe that Miller has received a majority of the votes, he is permitted to proclaim the election," the attorney general said. "Thus, if he were convinced on Nov. 7 that Miller had been re-elected, he could call an election for as early as Jan. 16."

For such an election, the "independent nomination procedure" would be used. Signatures of 500 voters in the district would be sufficient to place a candidate on the ballot. Party designations would appear on the ballot, but candidates would not be limited to one from each party. The candidate receiving the highest number of votes would be elected.

Grand Jury Indicts For Gommo Death

The San Francisco Grand Jury last night indicted John G. Trischan for the Oct. 16 jealousy slaying of Kentfield attorney Albert H. Gommo.

Trischan, who is charged with shooting Gommo in the attorney's San Francisco office, was released from the hospital this morning and placed in the city prison, said Inspector Milton Piro. Police said Trischan turned the gun on himself after shooting Gommo twice in the head. Gommo died of the head wounds two days later.

Piro said the 50-year-old San Francisco electrician will be booked on the murder indictment on Thursday and probably will be arraigned on Monday.

Trischan, police said, accused Gommo of having an affair with the suspect's estranged wife, Louise. The wife formerly worked for Gommo as a legal secretary.

Bolinas Meeting Set

Gerritt Orton, chairman of the Marin Federation of Improvement Clubs, will discuss the federation's purpose, projects and goals at a meeting of the Bolinas Beach Improvement Club Saturday in the Mesa Clubhouse. A potluck dinner at 7 p.m. will precede the meeting, according to Dorothy M. Paul, secretary.

Martinelli, Castro On Board Of New Bank

Jordan L. Martinelli and Walter R. Castro, both of San Rafael, have been elected to the board of directors of the recently approved Redwood National Bank, it was announced today by Byron W. Leydecker, president.

Martinelli, president of the Marin County Savings and Loan Assn., was a Marin Superior Court judge for 11 years before his retirement from the bench in 1960.

Castro is a longtime San Rafael businessman and is chairman of the Marin County Board of Supervisors. He and Martinelli are native Marinites.

Leydecker also announced that applications for stock subscription in the new bank, now being organized in San Rafael, were distributed today to leading citizens of Marin County.

Redwood National Bank will be located at Fourth and E streets in the old Pacific Gas and Electric Co. building.

Marinite Gets State Accident Referee Job

Morton R. Colvin of 137 Holmes Avenue, Santa Venetia, has been appointed a referee in the Stockton office of the State Industrial Accident Commission. He will be attached temporarily to the San Francisco office of the commission prior to the Stockton assignment.

Colvin has been an attorney since 1949 and was formerly a counsel for the State Division of Forestry and the State Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control.

Law On Lookout For Stolen Car

Marin law enforcement officers were on the lookout today for a white 1962 Austin-Healy Sprite which vanished from Tamalpais Valley during the night.

Owner Leon Vincent Silvertson of 240 Morning Sun Avenue reported the theft at 7:10 a.m. today. Silvertson told sheriff's deputies he had parked the car in front of his home about 9 o'clock last night with the ignition locked.

The car bore the license number XHL 843.

Vandal Breaks Window

A vandal with a strong throwing arm and a large tomato broke a 19- by 29-foot plate glass window at Shamrock Materials, 665 Irwin Street, San Rafael, yesterday, Henry Ghilotti of 32 Ridgewood Drive, San Rafael, reported to police. He said the tomato was thrown sometime between 6:30 and 8:30 p.m.

Man Suffers Injury At Folk Dance Club

Frank Bennet Rodman, 35, of Vallejo suffered a head injury when he fell during a folk dancing class sponsored by the San Rafael Recreation Department at the boys' gymnasium at San Rafael High School last night.

He was held at Marin General Hospital today for X-rays and observation. Mrs. Joe Angeli, 132 Dominga Avenue, Fairfax, wife of the dance instructor, said Rodman appeared to suffer a seizure. He stopped during the dance, groaned, and fell to the floor, she said.

Hospital District To Elect Nov. 6

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

Marin Hospital District, which has had a quiet political history, will elect three members of its five-member board of directors Nov. 6.

One of the five candidates has been on the board since the hospital district was created in 1946. She is Mrs. Marion C. Ibach of Mill Valley. She was appointed by the board of supervisors when it set up the district's first board, and has served as secretary continuously since then.

A second candidate for reelection has been closely associated with the district since well before Marin General Hospital, which it operates, was built. He is Dr. Wilson P. Goddard of Bolinas. He was named to the board in the district's first election, in 1948. Shortly before the end of his four-year term he resigned from the board to become chief of staff at the hospital, which then was nearing completion. He resigned that position in November, 1957, and the following July was named to the board again, to succeed a director who resigned. He was elected without opposition the following November.

The third incumbent director whose term expires, Allan Chambliss of San Anselmo, is not seeking re-election.

Also seeking election to the board are three who have not served on it previously: H. Wallace Hickman, Kentfield real estate man; Forrest N. Johnson, Terra Linda physical therapist, and Ernest N. Kettenhofen, San Anselmo industrialist.

The hospital district has shrunk since the election of two years ago. It formerly included the whole county. But Novato seceded, subsequently getting its own community hospital. All the rest of the county remains in the Marin Hospital District.

The district was set up by vote of the people in 1946, following a survey of Marin's hospital needs which showed only one hospital bed for every 1,000 residents—with the postwar housing boom rapidly increasing the population.

It is a taxing agency. It built Marin General Hospital in Greenbrae, which was started in 1950 and completed in 1952 with a rated capacity of 104 patient beds. It now has under construction a 116-bed addition to that hospital.

The district has avoided taxation for operation, but levies a tax rate to pay off building bonds.

The bonds are to pay for the original hospital only. The addition is being built from a half-million-dollar William Babcock Memorial Foundation gift; a half-million-dollar gift from an anonymous wealthy Marinite, and $1,486,374 in state and federal funds.

The tax rate this year will be only one cent per $100 assessed valuation. Last year it was one and one-half cents.

To operate virtually without taxation, the district levies charges comparable to those in hospitals which have been privately built and are privately operated.

For instance, Marin General Hospital's rates for private rooms are $29 to $31 per day, and for beds in two-bed wards, $25 per day. Novato Hospital gets $30 per day for private rooms, $25 in two-bed wards. At Ross Hospital, private rooms range from $26 to $30, and the rate in two-bed wards is $26. At San Rafael Hospital, a private room is $30, a bed in a two-bed ward, $26.

Similarly, Marin General Hospital charges $45 for use of the delivery room, as does Novato Hospital—the only other one in the county with a maternity section. And both charge $13 per day for the nursery.

Rates of pay of the hospital's employees also are comparable. Dietary aides, nurses' aides and others on the same pay scale get $255 to $330 per month at Marin General. Rates of pay for the same classes range from a minimum of $280 to a top of $375 per month at the other three hospitals in Marin County.

Nurses' pay scale is $360 to $460 per month at the publicly operated hospital; scales at the others run from $360 to $520 per month.

The hospital district has legal power to levy a tax toward its operating cost. It has not done so. The plant was provided by the taxpayers—through local, state and federal bonding. Directors have chosen to make operations pay their own way, on a basis competitive with privately owned hospitals.

(Tomorrow: Who are the five candidates for directors of the hospital district?

Two Die In Fiery Truck, Train Crash

ANAHEIM (AP) — Two persons died and more than 30 others were injured when a gravel truck rammed the center of a speeding train, spewing rocks and flames over screaming passengers in the coaches.

The impact broke the train in two. One car careened wildly into a trestle and a steel I-beam from the bridge railing speared into the coach.

Four cars of the seven-car San Diegan, a Sante Fe train bound for San Diego, were derailed in the wreck yesterday. The truck driver was burned to death. A train passenger was the other fatality.

Twenty-nine passengers were hospitalized, many with broken legs. Several others were treated at the scene and released, unidentified.

When it hit seats toppled, passengers flew through the air and rocks the size of golf balls from the truck's load rained down on the train.

"The front of the car just peeled right back like a piece of paper being rolled back and big hunks of gravel came flying in," a passenger, Army Pfc. Melvin Best, 19, said afterward. "One guy started yelling, 'goodbye' to his buddies."

The train was traveling about 65 miles an hour when the accident occurred, C. R. Robertson, assistant general manager of Santa Fe, said.

The dead passenger, whose leg was severed in the crash, was Larry Joseph Divis, 21, Cedar Rapids, Iowa. He died in surgery at Orange County General Hospital.

The accident occurred three miles from the famed Disneyland amusement park and 25 miles southeast of Los Angeles.

'Prayer For Peace' Services Tomorrow

Bob Hope Ribs Kennedy 'Royality,' Gets Laugh From Queen Elizabeth

LONDON (AP) — "We don't have titles in the United States," said Bob Hope last night, his eyes studiously avoiding the royal box at the Palladium.

A faint smile flickered over Queen Elizabeth's face.

"No, sir," Hope continued, "in America we have just two classes—the people and the Kennedys."

Elizabeth threw back her head and laughed out loud.

The occasion was the annual Royal Variety Performance which raised $126,000 for the Variety Artistes Benevolent Fund.

The queen appeared just as amused when Hope said: "President Kennedy's from Massachusetts, you know. He's going to split it in two parts—high Mass and low Mass."

Critic Fergus Cushin commented in the daily sketch:

"Why was the queen given the opportunity to throw back her head and laugh happily at jokes about the Kennedy family?

"Is there some hope here for the future of satire in our theaters?"

Jokes about the royal family are banned from the British stage.

The evening was a sentimental triumph for 78-year-old Sophie Tucker.

Impeached Student Not Guilty

Members of the congress Friday marked a secret ballot with three verdicts: Guilty, guilty with leniency, or not guilty. Had the majority voted "guilty," Robin would have been ousted from his student job.

Twenty-seven voted for "guilty with leniency," to 11 for "guilty." None found Robin, who had admitted the charge, "not guilty."

In separate action the judicial council yesterday voted unanimously that the impeach-proceedings were legal under the student constitution.

This ruling, agreed upon by five judges, was decided upon for two reasons: First, students said that, in observing other levels of government, the school constitution combines the regulations and procedures for impeachment; second, Cyril Beattie, student adviser who sat with the students who wrote the constitution, advised that the drafters did not realize a difference in spirit between recall and impeachment.

(Just knock.)

Visiting hours are Monday through Friday. And your money is free to leave with you at any time. That's one of the nice things about keeping your money in a bank. There are other nice things about it, too. While your money is in the bank it makes a lot of friends—for you. And when you want other banking services—loans, credit, financing—you get the service with a smile. If you want your money to get the very best of care, don't just knock on any door. Make sure you always head straight for the bank.

ARTIST TO JUDGE ART SHOW

Arthur Espenet Carpenter of Bolinas, working here on one of his handmade cabinets, is a judge for the ninth annual art show of the Marin Jewish Community Center. Open to arts and crafts of all media by both amateurs and professionals, the show will be open 8 to 10 p.m. Nov. 10 and 2 to 5 p.m. Nov. 11. Other judges are Harry Crotty, College of Marin instructor, and Warner Philipp, Bay Area painter.

Two Fishermen Landed By Wardens In Marin

Two sports fishermen from San Francisco, caught with 29 striped bass when they were legally entitled to only six fish, were scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court this afternoon.

Game Wardens Alfred Giddings and Russell Ild said they caught Phillip Phillips, 39, a shipyard worker, and Carl R. Steder, 22, a cannery worker, with sackloads of fish in Richardson Bay near the Golden Gate Baptist Seminary last Saturday.

The game wardens said the two men fished in Racoon Straits and apparently had fabulous luck. Phillips and Steder kept making trips into Richardson Bay to leave sacks of fish hidden on the banks near the seminary.

At day's end, Phillips and Steder gathered up their hidden sacks of fish. The game wardens were waiting for them to help them count and weigh the catch. The 29 bass weighed 220 pounds.

Mill Valley Youth Group Asking For Pink Houses

Mill Valley's two "pink houses' are a bother to the city council but they look good to the Mill Valley Youth Activities Committee.

The committee's youth council today announced it will ask the city council to refrain from destroying the buildings pending a survey to see if they can be obtained for use for a youth center at nearby Project 17.

The city council on Oct. 17 turned down such a request from the youth committee, saying the buildings are inappropriate. The council gave notice that the houses must be moved by Nov. 22 or the city will destroy them.

The houses have been on blocks at East Blithedale Avenue and Camino Alto since August when a developer had them moved there to convert to professional offices. His plan fell through.

Richard Parino, secretary to the youth committee, said today the teen-agers would like the buildings inspected by Preston L. Canfield, city building inspector, and a "disinterested contractor" to see if they could be converted to a teen center.

"The fundamental need for the teen-agers is a clubhouse," the youth council has decided, said Parino. "By having something to start with immediately it could be demonstrated by their work and attitude that they would be worthy of larger and more elaborate quarters as needed."

Girl Thrown From Scooter Treated

Diane Carr, 18, of 61 Mirabel Drive, Mill Valley, was treated for cuts on her right arm Saturday at San Rafael General Hospital after she was thrown from a motor scooter on which she was a passenger.

Jose I. Wheelock of Larkspur, the driver, told San Rafael police he was eastbound on Mission Avenue at Lincoln Avenue when the scooter skidded and hit the divider strip at 8:46 p.m.

JFK Conference

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy will hold a news conference Thursday at 4 p.m. (EST).

Press secretary Pierre Salinger said he expected live television coverage of the president's first meeting with newsmen in six weeks, but he said none of the networks had time so far to make commitments.

Common bond ☆ Local news unites the community

News of the world is important. News of the county is essential.

For local news is the daily bread of communication which brings people together—even on controversial issues—and shuts out isolation.

Local news coverage, then, is the first function of your daily newspaper. Only by being informed on local issues and events can a community govern itself. Only through a fress press that reports all the news can local government become responsible to those who must do the governing—an informed people.

To put these events on paper for you, our city editor works with a staff of 18 reporters, desk men, correspondents and photographers—and with a sixth sense for news and its values.

Each community in Marin is covered. And not just events in politics. But the story of who married the girl next door . . . what the school board decided . . . where the new plant is going up in town—all the stories, big and little, which help a community to know itself.

To serve you, a newspaper must be more than a business. It must help create a common bond for all . . . by keeping every reader well-informed.

Pro Football, Baseball Tougher On Fans Than On The Players

HANLEY

Elroy Hirsch is one of the nicest fellows you would want to meet. But old Crazy Legs, now general manager of the Rams, was talking through his hat when he said "there is more emotion wrapped up in pro football than there is in college ball."

Now, this may apply to some pro fans but Hirsch meant his estactic statement for the pros themselves. Hirsch doesn't realize it yet but he is a fan now, not a player. He was one of the coolest customers on the field in his playing days—emotionally detached—when catching passes from Bob Waterfield and Norm Van Brocklin.

Long ago George Halas discovered the difference between sitting in the stands watching the action and being on the field participating in the action. Periodically, Halas would relinquish his head coaching prerogatives of the Bears to Paddy Driscoll or Clark Shaughnessy and try to act like the owner of the team. Why did he go back to the sidelines a few years ago?

"I JUST couldn't take it any longer up there," Halas says. "Down on the field you're in the action and too busy to get all worked up emotionally, I really feel sorry for the fans. It's tougher on them than us."

Because Halas is a great story teller, a great showman and, incidentally, a very savvy man when it comes to football, we didn't attribute full faith and credit to his reason for once again moving Driscoll into an assistant's role.

IT TOOK Hank Sauer to convince us of the soundness of Halas' reason.

"Halas wasn't pulling your leg," said Hank. "I know from personal experience. When I was playing the outfield or at bat, I used to think fans were some kind of emotional nuts with all of their whistling and hollering in tight ball games.

"NOW, I'M THE same kind of nut — have been ever since my playing days ended and I began sitting in the stands. I find myself squirming in my seat, trying to put body English on a line drive I know is going foul. You don't have time for such stuff when you're on the field. You instinctively start after the ball, keeping after it if it is fair, pulling up if it sails foul.

Cal Soph A Smash Hit At Box Office

All hail California's Bears, the "best one-and-five team in the country!"

That's the latest appelation to be hung on Coach Marv Levy's gridders who have lost five out of six games this season but still expect to draw more than 50,000 at Berkeley this Saturday for their traditional against UCLA.

The original estimate had been 35,000. But then along came sophomore Craig Morton last Saturday who not only gave the Bears some great quarterbacking but an overnight drawing card even if they did lose to Penn State, 23-21.

Morton easily captured the "back of the week" award at yesterday's session of the Northern California Football Writers Assn. in San Francisco. Most of the scribes were present when Morton made his varsity debut by passing for three touchdowns against Penn State and netting a total of 285 yards gained to set a new Cal individual record.

The "lineman of the week" accolade went to end Frank Patitucci of Stanford who raced 82 yards for a touchdown with an airline fumble as the Indians were upsetting UCLA, 17-7.

Levy said that the last four games on Cal's slate constitute a new season.

"We're going after every one of them," Levy said. "You didn't need to look at the Penn State game films to know that Morton was great."

And an injured knee that had kept Morton out all season until the Nittany Lions came to town was tabbed as "medically 100 per cent," Levy learned from one of the quarterback's physicians.

Levy cautioned, however, that Morton could not be expected to come up every week with the kind of a performance he turned in against tough Penn State. And the Bear coach warned that UCLA is a good team despite its 2-2 mark.

"We're not counting on (quarterback) Larry Zeno to have another bad day as he did against Stanford," Levy said.

Jack Curtice of Stanford rated the forthcoming Oregon game as "one of our toughest."

"Oregon has such stars as Mel Renfro and Bob Berry plus a good interior line," Curtice said. "As for us, our offense has picked up even if we were a little over-courteous to UCLA by fumbling the ball away so often."

Curtice was asked point blank if he thought his team could register two straight upsets.

"I've never played anybody yet when I didn't think I would have a chance to win," he countered. "When a person doesn't think in terms of winning, he's not much of a coach."

OTHER QUOTES: Bob Titchenal, San Jose State (0-6-1): "We've got to quit playing Santa Claus, and it had better happen quick because we don't have many games left. We'll try again against University of the Pacific." . . . Pat Malley, Santa Clara: "We were beaten 25-12 by Chico State which had looked terrible against Sacramento State. Now we look to bounce back against U.C. of Riverside Friday."

A RUN OF BASS AT KEZAR STADIUM

MAYS, CEPEDA

$135,000 Worth Of Talent Makes Sick Call Today

By HUBERT J. ERB

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Willie Mays is scheduled to check into a hospital today and Orlando Cepeda has an appointment with an eye doctor as the two right-handed slugging mainstays of the San Francisco Giants try to unravel the nature of physical ailments each claims plagued him during the 1962 season.

The two represent $135,000 worth of talent. Mays reportedly is the highest paid baseball player at $90,000 a year.

Willie, the 1950 "say hey" rookie who ever since has roamed center field for the Giants, said from midsummer on, "I'm tired. Awfully tired." He collapsed in the dugout in Cincinnati's Crosley Field on Sept. 12. He was hospitalized, missed four games but then sparked the club in its pennant playoff victory.

Mays is entering Mount Zion Hospital to start a complete series of physical tests. His doctor, Harold Rosenblum, said the results would be known Friday or Saturday.

Cepeda, 25, brawny Puerto Rican first baseman with a ready smile, says a doctor has told him he has a cataract on his right eye, a condition that produces a haze over the lens. He reiterated his earlier statement that the condition came to light when he took a driver's test.

FUZZY SIGHT

"Then the doctor told me I have a cataract. I don't know. I feel O.K. My right eye is kind of fuzzy. But I can see, like when I close my left eye, which is fine."

Between them, Mays and Cepeda drove in 255 runs during the 1962 National League season and his 84 home runs. Mays led the majors in homers with 49. He had 141 runs batted in. Last year Cepeda led the league in homers with 46 and RBI with 142.

In 1962 Mays hit .304 and Cepeda .306.

Neither did well in the World Series, eventually lost by the Giants to the New York Yankees. Willie started fast, hitting safely three times in the first game but didn't live up to his slugging reputation thereafter.

Cepeda went 0-for-12 before getting three hits in the Giants' sixth-game victory and, as Giants' President Horace Stoneham said, "was missing the ball by inches."

Chub Feeney, the Giants' vice president, talked to both men yesterday and said the club had ordered Cepeda to see opthalmologist Dr. George Campion. He said Mays had said nothing about going to the hospital.

"But if he hadn't done it on his own, we'd have sent him," Feeney said. "We might send him to our doctors anyway, depending on the outcome of the tests."

When Mays collapsed in Cincinnati, Giants' manager Alvin Dark said it was a case of mental and physical exhaustion.

"You've got to be a ball player to know what kind of a strain a pennant drive is," Dark said, "especially for a player like Willie, who always goes all out."

Troy Expects Rugged Battle With Huskies

LOS ANGELES (AP) — If the Southern California Trojans can beat Washington here Saturday, they should go through the season undefeated and wind up in the Rose Bowl.

But there are grave misgivings in the Trojan camp about the Huskies, who were held to a tie last Saturday by Oregon.

"We are going to have a real battle on our hands this time," says Coach John McKay of Southern California. "Mel Hein of our staff, who scouted Washington, tells me this is the best Husky team and the best running team he has EVER seen among the collegians."

Hein, who starred at Washington State before he became an All-Pro center with the New York Giants, says the Huskies have a powerful ground game that comes out in four, five and six-yard chunks.

McKay says Washington appears stronger, physically, than the Trojans, and that his team will try to win the game in the air. Their best weapon this season has been the forward pass, and the giant Hal Bedsole has been hard to handle for everyone.

The Trojans have two fine pitchers in quarterbacks Bill Nelsen and Pete Beathard, and Bedsole tops the receiving corps.

Washington threw only three passes against Oregon last week.

"We'll have to throw, and keep on throwing to win this game," said McKay, "and that's what we intend to do."

Southern California has been made a 2½-point favorite, probably on the basis that the Trojans are undefeated while Washington, also undefeated, has two ties.

McKay has coached two Trojan teams against Washington, losing 34-0 in the rain in 1960, and playing to a scoreless tie last year in a game in which the Huskies had a 50-yard touchdown pass called back for holding.

The Washington defense, undoubtedly capable, is going to get its severest test Saturday. Not only must it contain the Trojan running game but it must stop an aerial attack against which only one interception has been recorded in 97 throws.

Palmer Far Ahead In Money Parade

Gene Littler is in second place on the top 10 list released by the Professional Golfers' Assn. with $66,200 in 27 tournaments. But that still is more than $15,000 shy of the $81,448 Palmer has banked in 21 events.

Yanks To Rebuild Pitching Staff; Turley Sent To L.A.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bob Turley's conditional sale to the Los Angeles Angels was interpreted today as the first move by General Manager Roy Hamey in his announced plans to rebuild the New York Yankees' pitching staff.

After the Yankees knocked off the San Francisco Giants in the recent World Series, Hamey admitted that the champs got by all season with only seven pitchers. The other four members of the Yankee staff —Turley, Luis Arroyo, Tex Clevenger and Rollie Sheldon —were only of nominal value, according to Hamey.

Now Turley is gone and Clevenger and Sheldon may be next. Arroyo had some arm trouble this year, posting a disappointing 1-3 record, but the veteran relief pitcher is being counted on for a comeback next season.

"We're still trying to make a deal for a starting pitcher," Hamey said, "and we aim to get him."

Hamey was disappointed when the St. Louis Cardinals recently traded Larry Jackson to the Chicago Cubs because he figured the veteran right-hander was just the man he was seeking.

The Yankee G.M. still is trying to dredge a starter out of the National League. Failing this, he may turn to his own league and the Boston Red Sox, where Bill Monbouquette and/or Gene Conley might be available.

Turley's sale to the Angels rests on his ability to shake off the arm trouble that has hampered him for the last two seasons.

"If Bob is retained by the Angels on opening day of 1963, they will send us a mutually satisfactory player in return," Hamey said in announcing the transaction.

49er Lineup Uncertain; Two Injuries

REDWOOD CITY (AP) — Coach Red Hickey says he's uncertain whether there will be lineup changes when his San Francisco 49ers play the Baltimore Colts at Kezar Stadium Sunday.

Still smarting from Sunday's loss to Los Angeles, Hickey said, "We've got to check the injuries and talk over the situation."

Offensive tackle Bob St. Clair and offensive guard Ted Connolly were two of the injured doubtfuls. St. Clair has a rupture in the calf and Connolly is suffering from a pinched nerve.

Hickey watched films of the Rams game yesterday and then noted that the Los Angeles club deserved a better reputation than it received before whipping the 49ers.

Marin Baseballers Take 13-0 Victory

"Dons of Marin," a baseball team representing all of the county's high schools, chalked up its second win in three games in the San Francisco "A-A" midwinter league by clouting the Vaughn Liquors nine, 13-0, Sunday.

Dave Beswick of Marin Catholic allowed only four hits and struck out 15 batters. Batting leaders for the Dons were Larry Gerughty of Drake with four hits, Dave Perlis of College of Marin with a single and a triple and Beswick with a single and a double.

Wilt Leads Scoring, Rebounding In NBA

NEW YORK (AP)—A franchise shift from Philadelphia to San Francisco hasn't affected the scoring and rebounding prowess of the Warriors' Wilt Chamberlain in the early weeks of the 1961-62 National Basketball Assn. season.

League statistics showed today that Wilt the Stilt has accumulated 205 points in four games for a 51.2 average, exactly the same average he had at a corresponding period last year. Chamberlain has hauled down 120 rebounds, an average of 30 per game.

Walt Bellamy of the Chicago Zephyrs is runner-up to Chamberlain in the scoring race with 200 points and a 33.3 average. Elgin Baylor of the Los Angeles Lakers ranks third with 191 points for a 31.8 average. Both Bellamy and Baylor have played two more games than has Chamberlain.

Bellamy and Baylor also trail Wilt in the rebounding department. Each has snared 96 for a 16.0 average. Bill Russell of the Boston Celtics a perennial rebounding leader, has averaged 22.7 retrieves in three games.

Sam Jones of the Celtics has been the most accurate field goal shooter with a .618 percentage. Dave Gambee of the Syracuse Nats is the most effective free throw marksman with a perfect 13 for 13 and a 1.000 percentage from the foul line.

Guy Rodgers of the Warriors and Oscar Robertson of the Cincinnati Royals are tied for the most assist, 48. Rodgers, however has th best average, 12.0, as compared to 9.6 feeds per game by Big O.

FAIRFAX PRO IN FINALS OF PGA TOURNEY

MODESTO (AP) — Sacramento's Dave Bancourt and Leroy Silva of Fairfax meet today in 36 holes of match play golf for the Northern California PGA championship.

Bancour defeated Joe Zakarian, host pro of the del Rio Golf and Country Club, 7-and-5 yesterday. Silva topped Eddie Duino, Pleasanton, 2-up, in semi-finals matches. Silva is the professional at the Meadow Club.

Golden Gate Winner

ALBANY (AP) — Furyvan ($6.40) hustled home first in the top event at Golden Gate Fields yesterday.

USC Captain Is Lineman Of Week

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Damon Bame, Southern California defensive captain, was designated big six lineman of the week today, Executive Director Thomas J. Hamilton announced.

Bame, a major contributor to the defense that has made the Trojans a major football power this year, was selected for his work as linebacker in USC's 28-16 victory over Illinois Saturday.

The Trojan junior called the defensive game and repeatedly led the USC tacklers. He has called the defensive signals all season for his unbeaten team.

Big Baseball Project On Tiburon Peninsula

The culmination of a long-range plan for Little League and Pony League facilities on the Tiburon Peninsula is coming within sight, according to H. F. Green, Tiburon Peninsula Little League president. When the season opens next spring, well developed fields will be in use at both the Bel Aire and Del Mar Schools.

Although Judge Field will remain as the peninsula's main Little League field, its facilities can no longer meet the increasing needs of the 240 youngsters registered in Little League, as well as providing the facilities for the semi-pro games of the Tiburon Pelicans. The Bel Aire and Del Mar fields will supplement Judge Field in the program.

The Del Mar and Bel Aire development program has been a joint venture of Little League and the Reed Union School District resulting in mutual benefits, according to Green. Sparked by past president William F. Carroll, the project has been underway for more than a year with school and league authorities dividing the cost and the responsibility.

The necessity for cooperation stems from the fact that because of the topography of the peninsula, no flat land, except that belonging to the schools, is available and there are no public parks which can be used.

In addition the school district, because of budget restrictions, is unable to provide backstops, bleachers and other requirements for a complete Little League program.

With monies from community service funds and undistributed reserves the district supplied $1,500 for Del Mar Fields and $4,000 for Bel Aire, committing itself to the purchase of top soil, the materials for a sprinkler system and a promise to maintain and water the area once the turf was grown.

TOP QUALITY

The Little League has provided professionally drawn plans, architectural supervision and expert volunteer engineering and construction personnel to insure top quality for both fields. It also agreed to contribute the equipment and qualified labor necessary to grade the sites, install the sprinkler system and turf, provide backstops, dugouts, bleachers, fences and see the diamonds.

The league's estimated cost of $6,500 is being met through a fund campaign, sponsorships, dances, barbecues and an annual brunch sponsored by Brice Bros. Market.

As yet the Little League has not completed raising its financial commitment and has borrowed money which it is paying off in monthly installments. About $2500 is still to be raised to achieve solvency.

MAJOR EFFORT

The Del Mar field was completed last spring and was in use for the 1961 season. Bel Aire, the major effort, is currently being developed. Thousands of cubic yards of dirt have been moved and, last Saturday, a dozen volunteers turned out to start installing the sprinkler system which should be completed next weekend. The field will be ready for Pony and Little League games next Spring.

When completed the facilities will be used jointly by both the Little League and the school district under a contract for an indefinite period. The schools on which the sites are located will have prior rights to the diamond during the regular school hours for use as play areas. The Little League will have prior rights for certain days and hours during the Little League season, unless a special school event is scheduled. Otherwise the play areas will be open to the community at large.

GUIDING LIGHT

Green gives credit to Carroll as the guiding light in the entire project; to district superintendent Edward C. Pino for cooperation and to John C. Fitch, Bel Aire school principal, who has acted as the chief trouble shooter. Little Leaguers who have contributed most to the installation are Charles Estudillo, engineer, Paul Hantzsche, who has been in charge of major construction, and Robert MacCarthy, who is supervising the installation of the sprinkler system.

GRID RATINGS

Northwestern Voted No. 1 Troy Third

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Northwestern's Wildcats, current favorites to win the Big 10 championship, went into first place today in the national college football rankings.

Northwestern crushed Notre Dame 35-6 Saturday for its fifth straight victory and climbed past Alabama and Southern California in the weekly poll by the Associated Press.

For a school which has had little to cheer about in the past, Northwestern took its lofty ranking in stride. There were no demonstrations on the Evanston, Ill., campus and the players showed little concern.

"I don't believe Northwestern ever has been voted No. 1" said Coach Ara Parseghian. "Naturally it gives our boys a lot of pride."

PRIME OBJECTIVE

The Wildcats' prime objective is a Big 10 title they have not won in 26 years. Northwestern, however, must get by Indiana, Wisconsin and Michigan State on successive Saturdays to reach the goal.

Texas, the top team the last two weeks, dropped to fifth after being tied by Rice, 14-14. Alabama, the defending national champion, held second place following a 35-6 triumph over Tulsa.

The special panel of sports writers and broadcasters gave Northwestern 34 of the 52 first place votes cast.

The top 10 teams, with the first-place votes in parentheses, points on a 10-9-8, etc., bases:

POINTS

1. Northwestern (34), 494; 2. Alabama (15), 445; 3. Southern California (1), 351; 4. Louisiana State, 304; 5. Texas, 281; 6. Mississippi (1), 270; 7. Michigan State (1), 174; 8. Arkansas, 126; 9. Washington, 54; 10. Auburn, 50.

Cougars Dominate Big 6 Statistics Despite Setback

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Washington State was the most surprising loser of Big Six football teams last weekend, but two Cougars were the only players to retain their leads in the circuit's individual statistics.

Despite a 13-12 shocker at the hands of University of Pacific, Hugh Campbell held onto his pass receiving lead with 30 catches for the season. Bill Mathieson held onto his commanding total offense edge with 766 yards, 833 in the air and minus 67 on the ground.

Mathieson took the passing lead away from Cal's Larry Balliet. He has completed 58 of 113 and had only four intercepted.

George Reed became the new rushing leader with 287 yards in 72 carries, but lost his scoring lead to Hal Bedsole of USC, who has scored 44 points to Reed's 40.

Marin Golfer Is Sonoma Champion

Mat Palacio of Santa Venetia defeated Bill Mason of Mill Valley for the Club Championship of the Sonoma Golf and Country Club Sunday.

Palacio, former California and Kansas state amateur champion in the late 1930's, won the Sonoma championship with a 4 and 3 victory over Mason in the 36-hole tourney.

Mason was the Mill Valley city golf champion for five consecutive years and is former Marin amateur champ, and the North Bay champion. He won the club championship at the Sonoma Golf and Country Club in 1956 but couldn't repeat the win Sunday.

Judge Cracks Down On Poachers; Pheasant Season Opens On Nov. 10

STEVENS

In these days of ever-increasing costs it seems that everything is affected. We pay more for sardines, for shotgun shells and even for poaching. For example, in the old days a guy got caught with an illegal duck or goose or deer, a kind hearted judge slapped a 50-buck fine and told the culprit he was a naughty boy, and go and sin no more. Not so today.

No wonder poachers Warren Lucas and Larry Shull, of Campbell, are crying in their beer. All these two did was to kill two yearling does in the Mendocino National Forest. They carefully wrapped the animals in a tarp, and gloated over the feast to come.

But alack and alas, two other men, wardens both, tracked the hardy hunters for eight hours and bingo! Judge Glenn Evans in the Covelo justice court fined the boys $500 apiece, placed them on probation for three years, suspended a six-months jail sentence and took away their hunting licenses and deer tags. Oh yes, the deer were taken away from them, also.

A READER called me the other day asking where would be a good spot to hunt pheasants last Saturday. Claimed he had read that the season opened on that day.

Not in California, it didn't. The season opens on Nov. 10. Runs through Nov. 25 in our section of the state, but to Dec. 9, down south.

I opine what my caller read was the opening date for pheasants in Nebraska. Pheasants opened on the 27th of October in that mid-western state (and runs through January 20—the longest season in United States).

SPEAKING OF hunting pheasants, Dick Shaffer of Nebraskaland informs that permits to hunt from out-of-state nimrods have come, so far, from 37 different states.

Schaffer also reports, however, that due to extremely high growth of vegetative cover, all hunters will have a toughter time finding and flushing the ringnecks. Could be that the wise guy will wait a few weeks before heading for Nebraska.

GENERALLY SPEAKING, shooting was good on all the state-managed waterfowl areas. The four areas that opened on the 21st did better than many expected. Especially Mendota where there were 352 vacancies. On Saturday, 699 hunters took 3,042 ducks for an average of 4.6, and that's about as close as you can come to legal limits. (The figures include six coots.) At Grizzly Island, the average was 2.3; at San Luis Wasreway it was 4.1; and at Los Banos 3.8. Not perfect, but pretty good, eh?

Sunday's take was a bit under the averages, with Los Banos dropping to 2.3, San Luis Wasteway to 2.4, Mendota to 3.3, and Grizzly Island came last with just over one bird per hunter.

FISHING HAS maintained the status quo. I will report on current conditions in my next. Until then, goodbye, good luck and go get 'em!

Warriors Vs. Knicks In S. F. Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Warriors return home tonight against the New for a change they'll have to play just 48 minutes of basketball.

The Warriors split their two-game road trip, but played their second and third consecutive overtime games. They're now 3-1 in the National Basketball Assn.'s Western Division, a half game behind the St. Louis Hawks.

The Knicks are 2-4 in the Eastern Division. They feature a flock of players who played college ball on the West, including Willie Naulls from UCLA, Ken Sears from Santa Clara and John Rudometkin from Southern California.

The game is at University of San Francisco's Memorial Gymnasium, 8:15 p.m.

Waterfield Still Insecure In Job

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Bob Waterfield, Los Angeles Rams' football coach, says he doesn't know whether his job status has changed since his club beat San Francisco for its first victory of the National Foodball League season.

"It's nice to be a winner for a change," Waterfield told the Football Writers Assn. Monday, "but I don't know if I feel any more secure than I did the week before."

Pender Title Bout Reset For Nov. 15

BOSTON (AP)—A heavy cold suffered by challenger Jose Torres wrote a new chapter today in the tortuous trial of title defenses by partial middleweight champion Paul Pender.

Pender, who was to risk his version of the 160-pound crown this Friday night at Boston Garden against the unbeaten Puerto Rican, now must wait until Nov. 15.

The latter is the date set by promoter Sam Silverman yesterday after a series of secret conferences with both camps.

While Torres' cold was the official reason given for the postponement, Silverman revealed another. On Nov. 15, the Pender-Torres fight will be followed by a closed-circuit showing of the Archie Moore-Cassius Clay heavyweight bout in Los Angeles.

By such a combination the promoter hopes to gain a bigger box office for a fight which lost some of its luster after the Dick Tiger-Gene Fullmer brawl in which the former won the title recognized in 50 states.

Pender, 31, recognized as champ in Massachusetts, New York and Europe, reluctantly agreed to the delay. He closed down his North Falmouth, Mass., training camp, returned to his Brookline home and announced he'll do the rest of his work in the Boston area.

Postponement is the word Pender knows best. He has lost four dates with Fullmer, three of which had been set to clear up the title picture. Fullmer just didn't show in Boston for a fight before either reached the champion level.

Rejuvenated Seals Face Hot Vancouver

VANCOUVER (AP)—The rejuvenated San Francisco Seals run into the Western Hockey League's hottest club tonight at Vancouver.

The Seals, in a three-way tie for the Southern Division lead, face a Canucks club that is 6-1 and already four points ahead in the Northern Division race. San Francisco is 4-6.

Voters' President Says Women MUST Go Into Politics

(EDITOR: Gay Pauley is on special assignment gathering material for the woman's view column. In her absence, authorities in the women's news field will be guest columnists. Today, Mrs. Jerome A. Schack, president, League of Women Voters of New York City, discusses why women should go into politics.)

By MRS. JEROME A. SCHACK,

NEW YORK (UPI) — Why should women go into politics, you ask. Why indeed:

This is a question well calculated to raise the hackles of modern woman.

Women MUST go into politics. And, let it be said, so must more of the men.

This country needs all the brain power it can command. It need a citizen body that not only can, but will, understand the problems with which the country must deal and then seek and support logical solutions.

Politics determines the character of our government and the government, in turn, affects almost every aspect of our lives.

Only the un-reconstructed feminist wants to be dealt with as a woman when it comes to politics. Today's woman has learned that she must be politically "hep" if she is to be effective. She is learning who and what makes the wheels of government turn and how to put the heat on when necessary.

TODAY'S WOMAN wants to be and is becoming a politician. She wants to be regarded as an intelligent citizen and neither wants nor expects special treatment because of her sex.

It cannot be said that the old line politicians have greeted this attitude of women with great delight. It's doubtful, however, that they would be any happier if large numbers of men suddenly took an interest in political affairs.

THE OLD-FASHIONED political leader welcomes the "green horn," the "do-gooder," and women during the heat of the campaigns, but hopes they will disappear immediately after election day.

In recent years, women have not retreated at the end of election campaigns to traditional female concerns.

INSTEAD, they have stayed in the club houses, have fought for, and, in some cases, won the right to participate in political decisions. Others have joined such organizations as the League of Women Voters and have fought for, and in some cases won, major governmental reforms.

None of this has been easy.

SUCCESS STORIES of women politicians and women's civic organizations will continue to require years of hard and dedicated work. And, will require bitter fights against prejudice of politicians in general and woman politicians in particular.

WHICHEVER avenue for political activity they take, women are in the political arena to stay. They are interested in everything from space exploration, Cuba, world trade and business cycles to the cost of living, schools and the draft status of their men.

Robert Forsyths Are Given Housewarming In Tiburon

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Forsyth (Loa Bacigalupi) who recently moved in their beautiful new home in Lyford's Cove, Tiburon were given a surprise house warming recently by a group of San Rafael friends. The Forsyths lived for many years in San Rafael. Loa is a third grade teacher at Bel Aire School in Tiburon. Her husband owns the Forsyth Dental Laboratory in San Rafael.

Among those attending were: Messrs. and Mesdames Rich Rich, Frank Ench, William McDevitt, Edward Kaenel, William Seegar, Carl Schieck, Joe Petersen, W. C. Cornwell, Guido Todaro, Robert O'Brien, Miss Marie Caletti and Dr. George Fuller.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM R. BATEY of Marin Bay entertained at a cocktail party Saturday night before the barn dance at Peacock Gap Country Club. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Carol Snyker, co-chairmen of the dance and Dr. and Mrs. John Beales, Messrs. and Mesdames Hale Wiss, Jock Dawe, Paul Jensen, Nathan Pinkus, Robert Finley, Roy Claxton, Frank Tavel, Mike Lescander, Robert Carpenter and Mr. Deane Cooke.

For the barn dance, bales of hay were at the club entrance. Saddles and bridles were in a corner of the lounge and the decor was completed throughout the clubhouse with brightly colored autumn leaves. A breakfast was served at midnight, Mrs. Fred Alston and Mesdames Pinkus and Dawe were in charge of decorations.

PATRICIA ANN Blaskover, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard B. Blaskover of Ross, reached the semi-finals of the 1962 Eastern Collegiate Tennis Tournament for Women. She represented Vassar College, Poughkeepsie, N. Y. at the tournament. Patricia, a graduate of Katharine Branson School, is a member of Vassar Class of 1966.

A LONG WEEKEND at Del Monte Lodge, Pebble Beach was enjoyed by eight Marin County couples. The Rudy Langs, Henry Skinners and LeRoy Pages went to Del Monte Wednesday. The others, Dr. and Mrs. Harry Hensler, the Richard Tissots, Mel Wolfs, Floyd Gilmans and Charles Trosts drove to the Monterey Peninsula Friday and all the couples were back in Marin Sunday night. Both men and women played golf and the men staged a tournament which Floyd Gilman won. Dominoes and bridge were the pastimes at the lodge.

THE FIRST CHILD of Sgt. and Mrs. Daniel Dunlap of Tiburon has been named Kevin Mitchell.

The baby's father is stationed at Hamilton Air Force Base and the little one was born at the bast hospital last week. The baby's mother, the former Margo Mitchell, is the daughter of Mrs. James Mitchell of Tiburon, formerly of Lenerkshire, Scotland. The paternal grandmother, Mrs. Georgina Dunlap, lives in Texas.

NEW VOGUE FOR WOMEN, THE CIGAR

LOS ANGELES, (UPI)—As if the plunging neckline and caused enough controversy high hem line haven't in feminine fashion circles, a new accessory may further complicate the ideal vision of womanhood—the cigar.

The Cigar Institute of America, noted in the past for staunchly opposing the smoking of cigars by women, has done an about face.

The institute's president Eugene L. Raymond has gone on record as encouraging the invasion of the woman into this previously all-male pleasure "providing women smoke cigars in keeping with their femininity."

Raymond said the Corona-sized stogies were out for lady cigar smokers, and urged women to stock to the small cigars just slightly larger than a cigarette.

Explaining his organization's turnabout on the issue Raymond said, "When you can't lick 'em, join 'em.

Red Cross Enrollment To Begin

November is enrollment month in the American Red Cross for Marin youth from public, private, and parochial schools. Students in senior high schools will become members of High School Red Cross, and those in elementary schools, members of Junior Red Cross.

For the second year, the enrollment campaign will be headed by a high school student, Mike Boss, from Marin Catholic High School. Under his direction, the high school Red Cross County Council will plan and carry out the campaign.

Junior and High School Red Cross programs, operated with separate funds, are used to build a bridge of understanding between children of all nations, creeds, and colors. In addition to international programs, there is an opportunity for children's service both in community endeavors and to children with physical or mental handicaps.

Contributions from students at the time of enrollment are deposited by the teacher-sponsor with the chapter treasurer and make up the chapter high school and junior Red Cross Service Fund. The money pays enrollment fees, supports local service projects and contributes to the American Red Cross Children's Fund which makes possible the gift box program.

POLISHING THE APPLE

Marion School first grade teacher, Mrs. John Terry, right, receives an apple from Mrs. Peter Ruona of the Novato Junior Women's Club, which sponsored "Teacher Appreciation Day" on Friday. Teachers and principals, all 171 of them, in the Novato Unified School District were surprised to find an apple on their desks when they arrived at school Friday morning.

Theaters Must Stress Conduct To Insure The Best Behavior

(Q) "There is a nice little neighborhood theater near our home. My children go to the Saturday matinees; occasionally, I take them to evening shows. During the past six months the conduct of the boys and girls has deteriorated. Now they run up and down in the aisles and scream at the wrong times. The older ones pet openly. The big boys even tear up the seats. The manager is an ineffective person. He says he is powerless to stop them. What do you suggest?"

Mrs. D.L.

(A) Ask the manager to go to the principals of your nearby schools, the P-TA presidents and the officer in charge of the nearest police precinct station. He should tell them what is happening. With their help he, or someone else, should set up a temporary theater conduct committee. Bulletins can be prepared and sent home through the schools, stressing good behavior. The police can cooperate by taking troublemakers home, and laying the law down to their parents. The worst of the kids might need a trip to Juvenile Hall. However, if all the people concerned will work together they can improve the children's conduct overnight. I've seen it happen many times.

(Q) "Our girl is in the fifth grade. She gets straight "A" marks in all the subjects. Her teacher and principal want her to skip to the sixth grade. Then she can start junior high school next year. She is very anxious to do it. Should we say yes?

Mrs. N.R.

(A) Check these questions carefully first: Is she big for her age? Does she seem mature? Does she enjoy being with the slightly older children? Has she already mastered information and skills taught in the fifth grade? Is her IQ well above the average? If the answers are yes, let her go ahead. Years ago schools skipped pupils carelessly. Far too many were moved ahead and some lives were ruined by it. That caused a reaction which was so strong that for a long time skipping was completely abandoned. Now schools are working toward a more reasonable position. A few bright, hard working boys and girls are moved ahead after careful study. The results are excellent.

Woman In Kentfield Is Selling Candy, Ice Cream And Antiques

Unusual retail combination: Candy, Ice cream — and antiques. But it seems to be working out satisfactorily for Kay's of Kentfield, newly opened store of Mrs. George Fossey at 943 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield. This is in the same building that houses Michelle Craig, women's wear.

Mrs. Fossey, a former newspaperwoman, has secured the Marin franchise for Edy's candy and ice cream, uses extra store space for old porcelain and china pieces. Husband George is with Cal-Wide Realty.

BROTHERS Milton and Richard Schwartz of Casa Marin Furniture Co., San Rafael have returned from a week of looking over new selections at the Southern Furniture Exposition in Highpoint, N.C.

The South accounts for 64 per cent of wood bedroom furniture, 54 per cent of wood dining room furniture and 35 per cent of upholstered pieces, according to the Department of Commerce.

More for the money and a wide variety in early American, French provincial, Italian provincial and classic, 18th Century English, contemporary, Scandinavian and transitional styles is the report on fall showings.

DIRECTOR Joseph M. Cullen of Internal Revenue for the San Francisco district, announces that residents who suffered property damage as a result of recent storms in Northern California may deduct casualty losses on federal income tax returns under certain conditions.

Deductible casualty losses, he said, include losses of property resulting from fire, storm, flood, automobile accident, hurricane or similar event—complete or partial destruction. Generally speaking, it must have been caused by an identifiable event of a sudden, unexpected or unusual nature.

On personal or non-business property, the loss is computed by comparing decrease in the fair market value with the adjusted basis. The loss, for tax purposes, is the lesser of these amounts. From this must be subtracted insurance or other compensation received or expected. Remainder is deductible as a non-business casualty loss.

PATTERSON AND HALL, a commercial art service in San Francisco but owned and staffed by several Marinites, recently received the "SCORE" award in Chicago for the outstanding annual report design of the year. The award was based on the firm's production of the 1961 Bank of America's annual staff report.

Chet Patterson lives in Greenbrae; Haines Hall lives in Kent Woodlands; Tom Hall is a resident of Terra Linda; Jim Hasse and Milt Ghee with the firm are of San Rafael and Corte Madera.

G. RAYMOND KALLMAN of San Rafael has been named assistant advertising manager of Schlage Lock Co., San Francisco. He joined the firm in 1957; has been art director for the past three years.

KEITH M. ASKEW of San Anselmo spent last week in Hartford, Conn., representing the Pacific department of the Hartford Insurance Group at a conference of company officials from all over the U.S. and Canada. He is assistant manager in San Francisco for nine western states, Alaska and Hawaii.

Insurance Firm 'Not Dragging Feet' In Mill Valley Plan

Occidental Life Insurance Co. of California declared today it is not "dragging its feet" with the City of Mill Valley with regard to closing out its insurance contract with city employees so they may switch to a pension plan with the California State Retirement System.

Further holdup is expected, however, in effective date of the state plan, adopted in August by the city council to become effective Oct. 1.

Occidental has written to City Manager A. E. Almcrants that it has no plans to make a cash payment to the city of $90,154 in acturial reserves since it is not provided in the contract. It proposes the money go into the state plan in paid-up annuities.

Almcrants said he doubts if this can be done since the two plans are different. Occidental's plan covers only a portion of employees. The state's plan is to cover all employees.

He added that the state plan cannot become effective until Occidental turns over the funds.

Bringing Up Baby®

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

Toddlers are by nature inquisitive and acquisitive. (Ever know one who didn't want everything he could lay his hands on?) And somehow, your favorite "what-nots" are always most desirable. A few helps to satisfy baby's curiosity . . . spare your breakables and your patience:

- Let baby have safe things to inspect. Pots 'n pans have great play and put-together value.
- It's wise to remove non-touchables before baby sees them. Be surprised how this cuts down "no-no's."

Thumbs down. You can cut down excessive thumbsucking if you: (1) provide toys and play 2-way games that require the use of both hands; (2) distract your toddler with a finger-food snack.

New, nutritious snack or main course! Gerber Meat Sticks . . . the fine-and-dandy finger food for toddlers. These delicious baby sausages are made from selected Armour Pork and Beef, plus nonfat dry milk. The happy result? Flavor galore . . . quality protein to spare. More protein, far less fat than regular sausages. P.S. Gerber Meat Sticks make wonderful sandwich fillings for older children.

Shoe cue. Toddlers dearly love to do things with their hands. Why not give your pet a pair of outgrown shoes to play with? He'll have fun trying to lace 'em, acquire deftness to boot.

Table talk for tots with more "grown-up" tastes. Gerber Junior Foods are seasoned with a just-right touch for developing taste buds. Straight food flavors sing! Combination foods, like the dinners or high meat dinners, are wonderfully tasty . . . have a "second helping" quality to tempt even a persnickity eater. Marinite Helping Bring Two Asti's Together

A San Rafael resident has provided the spark which is bringing Asti, Italy, and its namesake in Sonoma Counay together in a friendship program.

Mrs. G. V. Thring of 320 Third Street, San Rafael, a native of the Italian town, which is located in a northern wine-growing province, returned from a visit to Italy.

She proposed to officials of Italian Swiss Colony Wine in Asti, Sonoma County, a sister city program with its namesake because they seemed to have more than their names in common.

The idea was taken up by city officials and plans to exchange wines of the two regions for sampling and cultural and historical information are being studied.

Mrs. Thring met with city officials in Asti, Italy, on her visit. Also attending the meeting was Leon Adams of Tiburon, a writer and wine authority.

Immigrants from the region of Asti settled in Northern Sonoma County and gave the city there its iname.

The last official contact between the two communities was in 1898 when Italian Swiss Colony wines won gold medals at a wine exposition in Asti.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Strong Man Is Needed As State's Lieutenant Governor

The office of lieutenant governor in California is at present a sterile position. Its legislative power as speaker of the Senate was emasculated several years ago. Its administrative powers are dependent upon the whims of the governor. Only as member of boards and commissions does it have its own authority, and here it is diluted by other members of the boards and commissions.

In such a situation, the job of lieutenant governor can become only as important as the ability and leadership of the man who holds the office and the cooperation, respect and confidence that the governor has in his lieutenant governor.

Unhappily, in California today we have a poor situation in all respects. The man in the office is not strong in himself, has little leadership ability, has practically no cooperation, respect or confidence from the governor's office.

As a result, although he advertises himself as the "hardest working man in Sacramento," (a boast some of his coworkers in the Capitol resent) his hardest work has been to find something to do.

Happily, there is a remedy for this situation.

A candidate for the office of lieutenant governor is George Christopher, mayor of San Francisco. We have not always favored the mayor's activities; sometimes we felt him so overzealous in his determination to serve San Franciscans that he overlooked the interests of Marinites.

But he has shown tremendous leadership ability, rugged determination and insatiable drive.

His combination of political experience and that of a businessman has given him an insight into the difference between beaurocracy and efficiency.

He is quite capable of stepping up to governor if called upon to do so, an eventuality which even the Democrats look to with apprehension with the incumbent lieutenant governor.

All in all, he's the kind of a man we'd like to see in Sacramento.

We recommend George Christopher for lieutenant governor.

Apple Cider Season

As an adjunct to the "dreadful night," apple cider is as necessary as Jack-o-lanterns and horror masks. On a warm day a glass of cool cider transports us to a cool shaded orchard. On a chilly evening nothing is quite so delightul as a cup of hot, spiced apple cider.

Those of us with stomachs and tastebuds full of pits and corrosion caused by stronger drink might be pleasantly surprised with the smooth, fruity taste of fresh cider.

Surprisingly, fresh cider is believed by some competent medical men to contain an unknown, natural tranquillizer. Generations of frontier Americans knew of the tranquillizing effect of cider that had been allowed to "set" for a while.

MARIN LOOKS AT POLITICS

Campaign Has Quieted Down In Marin Except For Schools Battle

By CHAPIN A. DAY

'CHIP' DAY

Next week by this time you should have voted and within a few hours we should have a pretty good idea of the election results. These last few days of the campaign actually have become rather quiet for most of the party workers in Marin County. The tragic air crash eliminated a contest in the race for Congress; the call-up of the Air Force Reserve units took the Democratic candidate for Assembly back into uniform, and the Cuban crisis has practically eliminated Gov. Edmund G. Brown from his last-minute campaigning.

Of course we still have the bitter battle for state superintendent of public instruction, one of the nastiest, mud-slinging affairs we've seen in many years.

Dr. Max Rafferty, speaking Sunday to a group gathered on the cruise boat "Barbary Coast," said he expects a last-minute attack from supporters of Dr. Ralph Richardson. He predicted that in the last three or four days of the campaign it would be charged he had been a patient in a mental hospital in Southern California last month. Of course it's not true, he said, but watch for the smear. He did not say how he found out it will take place.

Dr. Rafferty talks tonight at a dinner meeting in the Corte Madera Recreation Center. If you want to hear him and can't get there for a beef and spaghetti meal, he's scheduled to talk about 8 p.m.

IN THE LAST weeks we're hearing from the minority parties too.

We've had a couple of communications from and about Dr. Robert L. Wycoff. You may remember him as the gubernatorial candidate of the Prohibition Party about which I wrote a couple of columns at the time of their annual state convention last August.

He's asking for votes for the "American (Prohibition) Party." That's the way he phrases it because he wants to change its name. On the ballot it will be Prohibition Party.

His major objective is not to get elected, but to keep the party on the ballot. He needs to get 2 per cent of the vote to do it. He's trying by saying there's no difference between the candidates and the major parties, so why not vote Prohibition?

AND THERE IS the Constitution Party, which always appears about this time of year. It's big pitch is a write-in campaign for R. C. Irvine for governor.

In case you've forgotten, the Constitution Party wants the sale of all government property back to individuals, repeal of the income tax, repeal of the inheritance tax, opposition to "compulsion where labor is involved," local control of schools, take the government out of loan and all other business in conflict with free enterprise.

And then there's the Committee For The Preservation Of The Democratic Party in California; but Roger Kent is suing them already.

PROBABLY THE LAST chance for Marinites to see Richard M. Nixon in person in action before the election is tomorrow night (Halloween) when he will be main attraction at a rally in Santa Rosa's Veterans Memorial Auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

Cuba Crisis Has United Americans

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

As the Cuban crisis continues to dominate the thoughts of most of the citizenry of the nation, not to mention the world, the unification of all patriotic Americans is significant.

It is soul satisfying to see Democrats and Republicans forget their party affiliations long enough to turn with one accord towards the ugly face of communism and shake their fists, yelling: "We've had enough. You have pushed me as far as we have allowed. It is enough."

The nationalistic feeling is strong at this time, and the times make it necessary.

Larkspur-Corte Madera
School Board
Larkspur

Does the Larkspur-Corte Madera School Board plan to abolish the common cold from public schools?

At the board meetings of Oct. 9 and 23, some board members expressed concern over the minutes lost each week of regular school work by children being released for religious instruction. They expressed their concern for the following reasons: 1. Release time interrupted classroom routine; 2. Teacher could not introduce new material with some of their class absent; 3. Classes were being held back due to these absences.

What happens in our classrooms when three children are ill, or two are out having school music lessons, or nine are out to an opera, or six are practicing band or orchestra, or the milk girls and boys have left the room?

I can't believe that the teachers despair and don't go on teaching the remaining children—I can't believe that we don't have capable and able teachers who CAN manage to carry on!

My understanding of school policy regarding absences is that when a child misses his regular school work, it is HIS job as well as the teacher's to see that he gets the lesson assignments missed and that his classmates need not suffer for HIS cold, HIS music lesson, HIS religion, etc. etc.

Am I mistaken in this, or does the board have TWO policies—one for religious release time and one for other absences? Surely the board isn't planning to devise a complicated schedule over such a common thing!

What alarms me is the inherently sterile approach of measuring education by minutes—what amount of time equals an excellent education? Has the board forgotten that in our "affluent society" we have many technical devices and gadgets—our need is for literate, thinking human beings to man them—not just "globs" that have had an "X" amount of time poured into them—and that if these literate, thinking human beings have picked up a little understanding and tolerance along the way—that we stand to gain as a nation rather than lose?

Draws Cynical Conclusion

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

This is the first time I have written a letter of this type, but I feel it involves a very important and ethical point which should be made.

This afternoon (Oct. 27) I took three little children to the Sequoia Theater in Mill Valley to see the movie, "Lady and the Tramp." We had been previously disappointed when the feature ran at the Rafael Theater a couple of weeks ago, and the youngsters (ages 4-6) were especially anxious after waiting in line on two separate occasions, to see the picture.

We waited a total of 45 minutes this time, and would have been seated easily had it not been for the "cut-ins" of about a hundred other children and their parents.

In many cases, parents deposited the children (many in costume) by the carload, and these boys and girls joined others ahead of us in line whom they knew.

As the number of available seats grew small, I saw parents pushing up to the box office and buying tickets (having actually formed a separate "line" of their own), and then instructing their children to "march right up to the door and give the man your tickets."

Just in front of us was a mother and two boys from San Rafael. The boys wanted to do the same thing (after all, an "adult" had set the example) but their mother steadfastly refused to allow them to join the "hoodlums" (my description). So they too missed getting in, as we did, by a few seats.

The important thing about this experience was not the fact that many children were unable to see the picture, after waiting almost an hour in line. Had the affair been run fairly, it would merely have been a lesson in learning to take disappointment cheerfully.

But, my children and those of the lady ahead of me, understandably concluded that "next time, we'll crowd ahead, too." None of our theoretical and moral explanations got through to them. All they could say was: "But, they got to see the movie!"

I hope some of the children and parents involved in this shameful incident see this letter and blush.

I trust the management of the Sequoia will also. I realize financially they couldn't care less, since they filled every seat and got their profit regardless of how the line moved. But, I feel that the theater management had a moral responsibility to see that justice was served and could have done so by having someone police the line, especially since they admitted to me that they were well aware of the situation.

What pains me the most, however, is the cynical conclusions we all were forced to draw concerning present-day moral standards, and the effect this will have on future generations.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

W. C. Fields was host one evening at his Hollywood hacienda to a group of convivials that included Robert Benchey,, Roland Young and Jack Barrymore—all past masters at the gentle art of bending an elbow. The liquor supply gave out—scant wonder—and the party decided to move on to another oasis down the road.

Fields' swimming pool lay in their path. "Let's walk across," suggested Mr. Fields. The entire gathering thereupon walked solemnly into the pool, sank like plummets, and were rescued by kindly and totally unsurprised neighbors.

Veteran raconteur Harry Hershfield tells of a dictator who ordered one of his victims to receive 50 lashes on his bare back. The victim bribed the lash-wielder to take it easy. For 49 strokes, the wielder stuck to his bargain, but the 50th stroke was so wicked that it sent the victim reeling.

The victim screamed, "You broke your bargain! Why?" The weilder told him, "I wanted you to realize what a bargain you got!"

Novato City Runs On Even Though All Top Brass Goes To Convention

Who runs the city?

That might be a good question to ask after observing Novato last Monday.

Mayor M. E. Silva and Councilmen Lucile Cannon and Howard Schoof attended the League of California Cities convention in Los Angeles. With them were City Administrator J. Julien Baget, who is also the city clerk, and Chief of Police Roy McLeran.

In addition, the deputy city clerk had the day off.

In short, there wasn't anyone of supreme authority in the City Hall to run the government.

So what happened?

Nothing.

Everyone else did his job as usual. No crisis arose. No problems were unsolved. The city did not come apart at the seams.

Let this be a lesson to them. They had better not try that too many times, or people will begin to think that their services aren't essential to running the city.

LAST SPRING I wrote a feature story about some baby ducks that were being cared for by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Morley Jr., of 565 Sunset Parkway, Novato.

A mother mallard duck had just hatched her brood near Highway 101 and the Black Point cutoff. She started across 101 just during the rush hour. A car killed her and two of her babies.

Highway Patrolman Theodore E. McGuire of Santa Venetia caught the ducklings. Morley asked for them and was given the ducklings to take home where he had a shallow concrete pond for them.

When the story was written, the ducks were thriving under the Morley's care. But like so many wild creatures, they were not resistant to diseases of civilization. They contracted a fungus disease of poultry. Only three of them grew up.

Then the Morleys took these three to Calistoga where friends of theirs had a ranch with a stream and pond. There the three were given their freedom.

I wish I could report that they are still there enjoying life, but that is not the truth. One of them flew away with some wild ducks. One disappeared, probably the victim of some predator, which left only one lone duck on the pond at the ranch.

AFTER NOVATO Police Department moved into the old Presbyterian Church manse, I tried for two months to find the history of the two trees in the front of the building. Local inquiry led me nowhere.

Finally I got a lead that took me to Hilda MacDonald in Forestville. She wrote me the history of the trees, which I quoted in this column two weeks ago. In it she said that the two Irish yew trees were planted right after the manse was built in 1915.

The ink wasn't dry on the paper when I received a call from Mrs. William Hanen of 908 Sherman Avenue. She said that the trees were planted in 1934, and not in 1915.

So I am passing this along, too.

Kennedy And Republicans Both In Line To Lose In The Election

SALT LAKE CITY — When it comes to choosing the 88th Congress on Nov. 6, the outlook is that the voters are going to be perverse.

The way the Congressional campaign is now going there is every probability that President Kennedy and the Republicans are both going to lose.

Barring the most unexpected developments, the prospects now are:

THAT DEMOCRATS will lose enough seats in the House to put into total jeopardy the President's New Frontier legislative program, much of which failed to pass the 87th Congress.

That Republicans will fail to gain enough seats to demonstrate anything more than anemic party strength in the off-year voting when, by all the norms of politics, the party out of office should make substantial gains.

SUCH A RESULT — that is, the loss of as few as six to 10 Democratic seats—would be a serious blow to the administration. It would be a rejection of Kennedy's early participation in the congressional campaign—a far more active participation than any President since Woodrow Wilson tried to elect a pro-League of Nations Congress in 1918. More than that, it would mean the election of a Congress less responsive to the President's leadership than the one which has already defeated him so often, and more conservative.

Such a result—that is, the failure of the Republicans to gain at least 25 to 30 House seats—would be a serious blow to the Republicans. It would mean that the strength of the Democratic Party, whether pro-Kennedy or anti-Kennedy, would have proved itself pretty much unshatterable.

All this is why I report that it looks as though the voters are going to prove to be rather perverse this fall.

Most of the evidence suggests that the shape of the new Congress will appreciably hurt the President without appreciably helping the Republicans.

IT IS ONLY in the governorship contests that the Republican prospects are promising. Here the Republicans have their best chances. They will almost certainly make significant gains and may score something near to a nationwide sweep in the populous states.

If this should happen, it will be noteworthy that in nearly all of these states — New York, Pennsylvania, Michigan, California—it will be the progressive, activist Republican leaders whose appeal extends far beyond party ranks who would be the big winners.

Better Plan To Stop, Think, Work To Make The Most Of Your Cards

There is a happy land, far far away, where you never have to work for your tricks.

Until you move to that land, however, you'd better plan to stop, think, and work to make the most of your cards.

East won the first trick with the queen of diamonds and contentedly led the ace of diamonds next.

This made for contentment all around; South made the contract, and nobody noticed that East had muffed the defense.

SOUTH RUFFED

South ruffed the second diamond and led a trump to West's ace. Declarer took the club return, drew two more rounds of trumps and tried a heart finesse.

Back came another club to dummy's ace, and South tried another heart finesse.

When the king of hearts appeared, South was home.

WORK IT OUT

You can work it out if you take the East seat and concentrate on just your own hand and the dummy. You win the first trick with the queen of diamonds and ask yourself how you can get three additional tricks to defeat the contract.

You don't expect to win a second diamond trick in view of West's raise and the fall of the jack. If West has nothing in hearts, your king will be useless, and your partner will have to take three tricks all by himself.

This is impossible, since West would have bid more if he had held so strong a hand.

ONLY HOPE

The only hope is that West has something in hearts.

Hence you switch at the second trick to the king of hearts. South must win the trick and lead a trump, but West takes the ace of spades and the queen of hearts, after which he leads his last heart to give you a ruff.

Your ruffing trick defeats the contract, but you had to work for it.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Many Experts Talk Like Farmers When It Comes To Predicting Flu

VAN DELLEN

Many health authorities talk like farmers when it comes to predicting an epidemic of influenza. Asian flu crops out in two or three year cycles. This coming winter will be the third since the last outbreak in the U.S. and it is natural to suspect another epidemic.

There is another clue. Last spring isolated cases of Asian flu occurred in many parts of the country. Such spring seeding, as it is called, usually is the forerunner of fall and winter outbreaks. The influenza virus goes into hibernation during warm weather and comes to life with cold, damp days.

BUT HEALTH authorities can be as wrong as those who forecast the weather. The epidemic may fizzle out or never get started if our population has acquired immunity through contact with the A2 virus during the two previous epidemics or via the flu vaccine. There is no simple way to determine whether immunity exists and it is safer and easier to get the vaccine than to take a chance of becoming a statistic.

In late 1957 and early 1958, the first wave of Asian flu struck a susceptible population and the number of deaths above the normal expectation increased 59,300. The second epidemic hit two years later and the excessive death toll amounted to 26,700.

INFLUENZA is a common cause of absenteeism in industry and schools but most of the victims get well after a few days at home. Some experience fatigue thereafter and complications prolong the illness for much longer periods. Prevention is stressed because there are no specific remedies. Many industries offer the flu vaccine to their employees for this reason, giving the first dose in October or November and the second, two or three months later.

Influenza is particularly dangerous to pregnant women and persons with chronic heart, circulatory, or kidney disorders. More than 50 per cent of those who died during the previous epidemics suffered from one or more of these general ailments. Many of the victims also developed pneumonia which added to the burden of chronically diseased lungs.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

BALD PATCHES

R. P. writes: My 5-year-old granddaughter has thin hair and patches with just a light fuzz. Her parents cut her hair before she was a year old. Could this be a cause of her poor hair?

REPLY

No, but the almost bald patches are not normal and the condition should be investigated for ringworm or other disorders.

SMOKER'S DISEASE

I. N. writes: Does Buerger's disease favor diabetics?

REPLY

No. Circulatory disorders are common in diabetics but are caused by hardening of the arteries rather than by Buerger's. The latter is a disease of young men who smoke. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on this disorder.

ABNORMAL BLOOD COUNT

W. B. writes: Is a person with a low blood count in danger of developing leukemia?

REPLY

No. I assume you mean anemia when referring to a low blood count. This is not the cause of leukemia, a condition in which there is an excessive number of white blood cells. On the other hand, the two disorders may co-exist.

HEALED BONE

S. S. writes: Can a person who has a cured case of osteomyelitis of the knee become active in sports?

REPLY

Yes, but he should avoid sports in which there is body contact, such as football. This bone infection tends to recur, especially after injury.

One-Acts Plays Set At Dominican

Dominican College Troupers, the school's drama club, will perform the contemporary one-act plays "Impromptu" and "John Turner Davis," Friday, Saturday and Nov. 10 in Angelico Hall on the San Rafael campus.

"Impromptu," an expressionistic drama by Pulitzer prize winner Tad Mosel, examines the motives and inner conflicts of a cast of four characters played by Hansi de Petra of Carmel, Maureen Minehan of Los Angeles, Tom Bertken of San Francisco and Monte Hickok of Hawaii, a student at College of Marin.

"John Turner Davis," by Horton Foote, is the story of a 12-year-old boy abandoned at a Texas river camp by a family of migrant workers. Harry Matsinger, 12, of San Rafael, plays the title role.

Feminine roles are played by Dominican students Sharon Cross of San Francisco, Cecilia Heinz of Salinas, Dianne Phoenix of Bakersfield, Jean O'Meara of Stockton, Jean Murphy of Piedmont, Marion Zingheim of San Jose, Marianne Geiger of Pasadena, Sue Schaafs of Anaheim, Nancy Vasconcellos of Honolulu and Penny Becknell of Washington, D.C.

Male roles are played by Don Van Ettem of Corte Madera, Don McLaughlin of Terra Linda, Larry Selna of Mill Valley, Stan Morris of San Francisco, Kenneth Franceschi and Guy Robinson of San Rafael.

Performances are to be at 8:15 p.m. Friday and Nov. 10 and at 2 p.m. Saturday.

Measles, Mumps Lead Disease List

Nineteen cases of measles and 24 of mumps termed a "seasonable amount" by Marin County Health Officer Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, were reported last week in San Rafael.

The only other case of measles was recorded in an unincorporated area. There were no reports of mump cases other than in San Rafael.

The highest number of streptococci infections was registered in San Rafael with eight. Six cases of strep infection were reported in Novato, two in Corte Madera, one in Mill Valley, and four in unincorporated areas.

There were two cases of gonorrhea in San Rafael and one in Belvedere-Tiburon. One case of syphilis was reported in Marin City and one in Belvedere-Tiburon.

Promoted To Captain

Thalidomide Babies

LONDON (AP)—The Ministry of Health reports that 390 thalidomide babies were born in Britain between January 1960 and last August.

At least 302 of these are still alive—224 with malformed limbs and 58 with internal deformities which may never be cured.

The news of today's events is always waiting for you in your evening I-J. (Which is a little different than waiting until tomorrow to read about "yesterday.")

As an evening newspaper, our deadline is always today. Our entire editorial staff combs the county, the nation, the whole world, to bring you the news as it happens. That is the basic job of a newspaper . . . and of the far-flung news-gathering resources of AP and UPI who serve us that we may serve you.

As a result, 68% of all Marin County families take the I-J. By being part of today it's part of their lives . . . and part of the fun of coming home.

NOTICE OF SALE OF REAL PROPERTY AT PRIVATE SALE

In the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the City and County of San Francisco.

No. 160056, Dept. No. 9

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on or after the 7th day of November, 1962, the undersigned, WELLS FARGO BANK and ALICE BRADY, as Executors of the Last Will and Testament of Herbert Luhn, deceased, will sell at private sale to the highest bidder, subject to confirmation by the above-entitled Superior Court, all the right, title and interest of the Estate of said decedent in and to all that real property situate, lying and being in the County of Marin, State of California, described as follows, to wit:

Property commonly known as 19 Fern Lane, San Anselmo, Marin County, California, described as follows:

Bids or offers are invited for said property and must be in writing and may be delivered to Mr. D. S. Green, Real Property Management Department, Wells Fargo Bank, Seventh Floor, 464 California Street, San Francisco, California, or may be filed in the office of the clerk of the Superior Court at any time after the first publication of this notice and before the making of said sale.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF SAID SALE:

All bids shall be for cash, ten percent (10%) of the purchase price offered for said real property shall accompany bid for the same, and shall be by certified check or Bank cashier's check, the balance to be paid upon confirmation of said sale by the Court, and upon the recording of deed conveying title to the purchaser.

Said real property shall be sold subject to rights, rights-of-way, restrictions, covenants and easements of record. Also attention is directed to the fact that a survey of this property on behalf of the Executors indicates that the old frame garage encroaches approximately 4 ft. 7 inches on the property to the northwest. A copy of the survey is available at the Real Property Management Department, Wells Fargo Bank, 464 California Street, San Francisco, California, for anyone's inquiry. The property will be sold in its present "as is" condition; taxes for the fiscal year to be prorated as of the date of the recording of deed; also proration of any rent, insurance, expenses, etc. Recording of Executors' deed of conveyance to be at the expense of the purchaser; Escrow charges and title insurance to be paid by the purchaser.

Executors reserve the right to reject any offers.

PROJECT NO. 2452

MARIN COUNTY DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS SAN RAFAEL, CALIFORNIA NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Sealed Proposals will be received by the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin, State of California, until November 13, 1962, for:

Resurfacing and constructing channelization of Sir Francis Drake Blvd., from Drake Market to the Hub.

The work shall be done in accordance with official plans and specifications prepared in reference thereto which may be seen at the office of the Department of Public Works, County of Marin. Request for forms or information shall be addressed to the Department of Public Works, County of Marin, 1711 Grand Avenue, San Rafael, California.

Plans, Specifications (but not including Standard Specifications or other documents included by reference), and Proposal Forms may be obtained by prospective bidders upon payment of a deposit of Ten Dollars ($10.00) (cash or check made payable to the Department of Public Works, County of Marin) to guarantee safe return of the plans and specifications within ten (10) days after bid opening. Failure to so return the plans and specifications will cause forfeiture of the deposit to the County.

All bids must be submitted on the Proposal form obtained from the Director of Public Works and shall be accompanied by a Proposal Guaranty of at least ten (10) percent of the bid. Guaranties shall be in the form of a certified or Cashier's check or a Bidder's bond. Failure of the successful bidder to execute and return the contract, or to file acceptable bond, as required, within the time allotted shall be cause for the annulment of the award and the forfeiture of the Proposal Guaranty. All guarantees not so retained by the County shall be returned to the bidders within fifteen (15) days after the award of the contract.

Proposal shall be filed with Clerk of the Board of Supervisors, Court House, San Rafael, California.

Said Proposals will be opened and read by the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors at 1:30 P.M. on the day specified above for receiving bids, or as soon thereafter as the matter may be heard. The Clerk will read only the total amount bid and not specific items going to make up said total unless written request for reading of each sub totals and individual items of the bid is requested in writing at the time of the submission of proposals. Bidders will be at liberty to inspect and review bids in the Office of the Director of Public Works to which they will be removed for this purpose of checking after the opening and reading of the totals by the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors.

Bids are required for the entire work described herein, and neither partial bids nor contingent bids will be considered.

The Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

GOVERNING BOARD OF THE SAN JOSE SCHOOL DISTRICT, MARIN COUNTY
RESOLUTION NO. 7
RESOLUTION OF THE GOVERNING BOARD OF THE SAN JOSE SCHOOL DISTRICT OF THE COUNTY OF MARIN DECLARING ITS INTENTION TO CONVEY REAL PROPERTY BELONGING TO THE DISTRICT FOR PUBLIC UTILITY PURPOSES.

WHEREAS, the SAN JOSE SCHOOL DISTRICT is the owner of the following hereinafter described land:

All of that real property, situate in the County of Marin, State of California, and more particularly described as follows:

The parcel of land, situate in Rancho San Jose (Pacheco), conveyed by Kaehler Construction Co. to San Jose School District of Marin County by deed dated September 29, 1960 and recorded in the office of the County Recorder of said County of Marin in Book 1404 of Official Records at page 632, and the parcel of land, situate in said Rancho, described and designated PARCEL ONE in the deed from Beverly-Maple Corporation to San Jose School District of Marin County dated September 8, 1960 and recorded in the office of said County Recorder in Book 1404 of Official Records at page 183.

WHEREAS, the PACIFIC GAS & ELECTRIC COMPANY, a corporation, has requested an easement from the School District for the purpose of placement of wires, cables, etc., over and across the following strip upon said land:

All of that real property, situate in the County of Marin, State of California, and more particularly described as follows:

Beginning at the 1¾ inch iron monument (marked R.E. 7595) marking the northwest corner of said lands and running thence S. 89° 58½' E., along the northly boundary lines of said lands, 809.2 feet to the 1⅜ inch iron monument (marked R.E. 7595) marking the northeast corner of said lands; thence along the easterly boundary line of said lands on a curve to the left with a radius of 630 feet, through a central angle of 9° 24' 23", and tangent at the northerly terminus thereof to a line which has a bearing of S. 5° 51' 57" E., an arc distance of 103.4 feet; thence N. 87° 56' W. 837.5 feet to a point in the westerly boundary line of said lands; thence N. 7° 01½' E., along the westerly boundary line of said lands, 72.3 feet, more or less, to the point of beginning.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that this Board hereby declares its intention to convey said property as above-described to the Pacific Gas & Electric Company for the purpose of placement and maintenance of cross-arms, wires and cables, etc., over and across said property, said conveyance shall be made for the consideration of FOUR THOUSAND DOLLARS ($4,000.00) and shall be upon the terms and conditions more particularly set forth in the proposed form of deed which is on file in the office of the School District;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that Tuesday, the 13th day of November, 1962, at 8 o'clock P.M., at the regular meeting place of the San Jose School District, Hamilton Field, California, is hereby fixed as the time and place for a public hearing upon the question of making the above set forth conveyance;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Clerk of this Board be and he is hereby directed to give notice of the adoption of this resolution and of the time and place of holding the meeting by posting copies of this resolution in three public places in the District, not less than ten days before the date of said meeting, and by publishing said resolution once, not less than five days before the date of said meeting, in the INDEPENDENT-JOURNAL, a newspaper of general circulation published in Marin County.

PASSED AND ADOPTED this 22nd day of October, 1962.

Council To Set Freeway Hearing

A date for a public hearing on freeway routes through Novato will be set by the Novato city council at its meeting at 8 p.m. today in the community building.

The state Division of Highways has held its final hearing on a freeway route through Novato. The Novato council is holding its own hearing before giving the state its official stand.

Drainage on Vallejo Avenue also is to be discussed at tonight's meeting.

26 Students Join Journalism Society

Six Tamalpais High School journalism students have been initiated into Quill and Scroll, a national journalism society, and received key pins.

They are Vicki Poling, Tamalpais news editor; Pam Windsor, Pete Lieberman and David Locey, page editors and Jean Norton and Moira O'Connor, reporters. Ann Rogers, journalism teacher and news adviser, received her first advisory key pin, a gift from the staff.

Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon"

New laxative discovery re-creates 3 essentials of normal regularity

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge.

Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style bulks and moisteners may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and drugs frequently cramp and gripe. Of all leading laxatives, only new COLONAID gives you its special 3-way relief that works only on the lower colon (area of constipation).

(1) COLONAID prevents the formation of dry, hardened waste for easy passage without pain or strain. (2) COLONAID'S unique rebulking action helps retone flabby colon muscles. (3) And COLONAID acts gently on the nerve reflexes that stimulate the vital "mass movement" of your lower colon.

COLONAID relieves even chronic constipation overnight; is so gentle it was hospital proved safe even for expectant mothers. And COLONAID won't interfere with absorption of vitamins or other food nutrients. Get COLONAID today! INTRODUCTORY SIZE 43¢

Shakespeare Due California Setting

Redwood's Bill To Give 'Shrew' New Background

The shrew still be Katherine but she'll be dressed like Catalina in Redwood High School's production of "Taming of the Shrew."

The Shakespearean comedy will be played — with early Cailfornia flourishes — in the high school's little theater in Larkspur Thursday, Friday, and Nov. 8 and 9 with curtain at 8:30 p.m. It will be the first play presented in the new little theater.

DIRECTOR OF PLAY

Joseph E. Wadlington, Redwood drama instructor who is directing the play, is responsible for the Spanish California costuming of the Elizabethan masterpiece. The setting has been changed, too, to California of the grandee days. But the dialogue remains as Shakespeare wrote it.

Twinka Thiebaud, daughter of Mrs. Patricia Hardesty of Mill Valley, will play Katherine, the shrew. Jeff Garrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Garrison of Corte Madera, will play Petruchio, the man responsible for the taming.

Bianca, sister of Katherine, will be played by Cindy Southmayd. Baptista, father of the two sisters, will be played by Dave Youens.

OTHERS IN CAST

Adults Helping Complete UNICEF Halloween Plans

More than 500 Marin women are working to complete plans for what they hope will be the largest United Nations Children's Emergency Fund drive ever held in the county on Halloween.

About 7,000 children will carry cartons from door to door tomorrow night for the collection. Churches, schools and youth service organizations such as Girl Scouts, Campfire Girls and Cub Scouts will aid in the drive.

Area chairmen for the UNICEF drive are Mrs. Joseph A. Moore, Mill Valley; Mrs. Thomas Laufer, Sausalito; Mrs. Donald MacKay, Tiburon Peninsula; Mrs. Harold Kling, Larkspur-Corte Madera; Mrs. Frederic S. Coolidge, Kentfield.

Mrs. Frank L. Miller, Greenbrae; Mrs. Hal E. Moore, Ross; Mrs. Arnold B. Come, San Anselmo; Mrs. Edward E. Hewitt, Fairfax; Mrs. Joseph A. McConnell Jr., San Geronimo Valley; Mrs. Taylor Smith, San Rafael; Mrs. Julian W. Mack II, Terra Linda; Mrs. Robert H. Conradt, Marinwood-Lucas Valley and Mrs. Earl Siegel, Novato.

Mrs. Dore N. Schwab Jr. of Ross is county chairman.

Great Books Course Set

Robert Shepardson of San Francisco, area director for the Great Books Foundation, will conduct the first session in a six-week course for discussion group leaders tonight at 8 o'clock in the Mill Valley School District office, 20 Miller Avenue.

There are no fees, membership or prior experience requirements for the course. Shepardson said there are nine Great Books groups in Marin County now, and more are expected to be formed.

Information on the program may be obtained from Mrs. Peter Ballinger of San Rafael.

On English Committee

Prof. Thurston Womack of 36 Fairway Drive, Mill Valley, a member of the English department at San Francisco State College, has been appointed to the Committee on Teaching English as a Second Language, National Council of Teachers of English.

Oklahoma State University has won five straight Big Eight golf titles.

Teacher Will Show Slides Of Finland

Cyril Beattie, Tamalpais High School counselor and history teacher, will show slides of Finland and tell of his experiences with Finnish people at 8 p.m. today at Ruby Scott auditorium. Beattie recently spent a year as an exchange teacher at Kemi, Finland.

Admission will be charged, with the benefits to go to American Field Service, Experment in International Living, and to a fund to be used to send English books to Kemi.

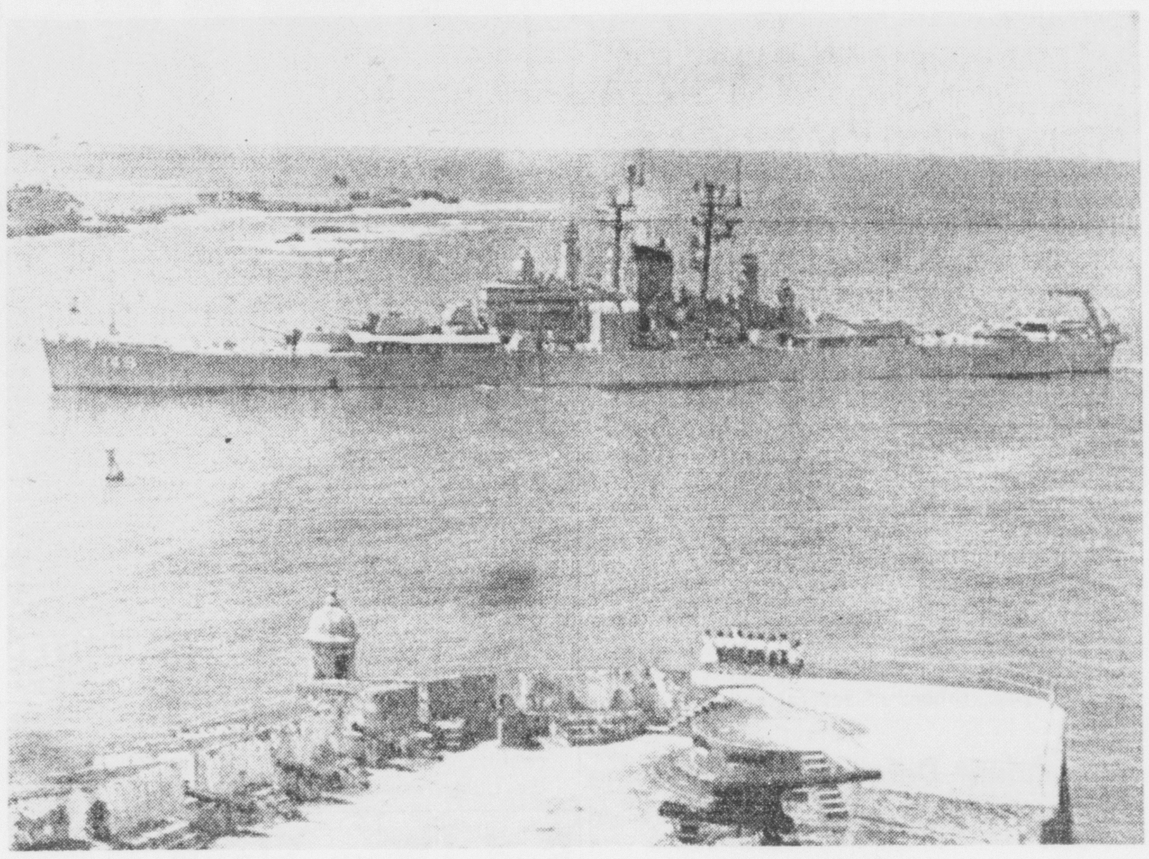
Ships Blockade, Air Probe Halted

LULL IN THE CRISIS

The U.S. Navy cruiser Newport News passes today under the ancient guns of the Morro Castle, an old Spanish fort guarding the entrance to San Juan Harbor. The ship had been participating in the blockade of Cuba, and took advantage of the two-day suspension to take on supplies in Puerto Rico. President John F. Kennedy also called off air probes. Acting United Nations Secretary-General U Thant has gone to Havana to confer with Cuban Premier Fidel Castro. (AP Wirephoto)



U Thant Confers In Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States suspended today its aerial surveillance and arms blockade of Cuba, and was reported to have received assurance the Soviet Union has stopped construction of missile bases on the island.

The U.S. actions were described as temporary, and for the two days that Acting U.N. Secretary-General U Thant is conferring in Havana.

There was no official announcement of the assurances that the Soviet Union, on its part, has stopped work on the missile bases, but highly placed informants said such assurance were received yesterday. The channels by which these assurances were received were obscure.

SUSPENDED AT DAWN

Arthur Sylvester, assistant secretary of defense ,announced at a Pentagon briefing shortly before noon the temporary suspension of the aerial surveillance. The blockade had been suspended at dawn.

Thant left New York this forenoon for the critical negotiations in Cuba with Premier Fidel Castro.

Sylvester had no report on the results of aerial reconnaissance flights carried out by U.S. planes yesterday.

But he had a further explanation of the delaying in analyzing the reconnaissance photographs.

REVIEW OF MATERIAL

He said he had talked this morning with top officials in charge of analysis of the picturfes. Sylvester said he now could say:

"Analysis of aerial pictures entails a meticulous review of the material disclosed and a painstaking comparison of that material with previously obtained material in order to obtain accurate findings. One has to be careful about making conclusions because there are certain evaluation procedures to be observed in order to insure accuracy of the results obtained.

"All of this takes time, despite published reports to the contrary.

"In addition, the time since Chairman Khrushchev's message of Sunday morning is too

Sausalito School Integration Will Get Full Study

Sausalito School District trustees last night decided to make a study of full integration of schools in the district —from kindergarten on up.

As a start, the board decided to move 14 pupils, of which 13 are Negroes, from Richardson Bay School to Bayside School. Richardson Bay is about 60 per cent Negro while Bayside is almost completely made up of white students.

Action came at a special meeting following a demand by parents a week ago that fourth grade pupils be moved from Richardson Bay to Bayside instead of vice versa as had been proposed by the administration. Several parents claimed last week there was a definite segregation problem and asked for integration.

The students will be moved tomorrow, Supt. Marcus F. Davis said. This equalization will keep the same number of fourth grade classes at each of the schools but will give each class an average of 26 students. Classes have been overloaded at Richardson Bay and undersized at Bayside.

"I move that we make a complete study of the means by which full integration can be achieved in the Sausalito School District," said trustee John S. Wellington.

Trustee Stanley Wolfe said, "To me it means assignment to classrooms without regard to where the kids live."

The vote was 4-0 with trustee George R. Kowski absent.

Davis said a citizens committee was suggested to make the study but the board decided the superintendent should make it. He is to make progress reports to the board through the year and, if there is a need for funds to implement integration, is to make such recommendations prior to the time the board begins work on the 1963-64 budget.

About 50 persons attended the meeting, which was held in Bayside School gymnasium.

Next board meeting will be Nov. 13 at the district office, this being a postponement of one day since the regular meeting date, Nov. 12, is Veteran's Day.

90 Per Cent Of Reservists Are On Duty

Two days after its sudden call to active duty, the 349th Troop Carrier Wing (Air Force Reserve) at Hamilton Air Force Base was 90 per cent complete today, reported Brig. Gen. Rollin B. Moore Jr., wing commander.

"We have been unable to reach some men because of vacations and business trips," Moore said.

The wing has been assigned to the tactical air command. It will remain at Hamilton until further orders.

The men will be allowed to return to their homes after normal duty hours, the general announced.

Civil Air Patrol Placed On Alert

The 30 members of Marin County Composite Squadron 4 of the Civil Air Patrol have been placed on an alert basis ready to put their six light planes into service.

The alert order came from California Wing headquarters of the Civil Air Patrol at the Presidio of San Francisco last Thursday, three days after the Cuban blockade order by President John F. Kennedy.

Capt. Harry Treanor, 39 Robert Avenue, San Rafael, squadron operations officer, said the alert notice served only to warn members that they should be ready for duty on very brief notice.

CAP duties in case of emergency would include courier and messenger service, surveillance of surface traffic, light transport flights of supplies and personnel, aerial photography and reconnaissance, radio communication, and in the event of an atomic attack, aerial radiological monitoring.

'No News, No Pretty Girls In USSR'

(Editor's note: This is the eighth of a series of interviews with Marinites who visited the USSR with the Marin Executive Delegation.)

By ALTON S. BOCK

The Soviet Union is a flat country with no news from the outside world and very few pretty girls.

These were some of the observations made by Roger J. Darrow of San Rafael after a tour of Western Russia with 21 other Marin business and professional men.

"What really impressed me most," Darrow said, "was the existence of what can be called an 'iron curtain.' There is a complete blackout of news. I was surprised that people as intelligent as they are seem to be getting nothing at all from the outside world.

"We saw no foreign newspapers except Communist publications like the Worker's World from London. Everything they read comes from the state-owned papers."

Darrow, former president of the Marin Title Guaranty Co., did not tour any comparable organizations in Russia because of course there's no need for title insurance since there's no privately owned land."

The flatness of the Russian countryside "as far as you can see west of the Ural Moun-

MSGR. CANTWELL SUCCUMBS AT 86

Rt. Rev. William J. Cantwell, pastor of St. Monica's Catholic Church in San Francisco and a former pastor of St. Anselm's Church in San Anselmo, died yesterday in Los Angeles.

Monsignor Cantwell, 86, was pastor of St. Anselm's from 1916 to 1929, during which time he built St. Anselm's parochial school.

He entered St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Los Angeles early this month for a routine physical examination. While celebrating Mass in the hospital chapel on Oct. 11 he collapsed, suffering a head injury in his fall which led to his death.

The oldest active Catholic priest in the San Francisco Archdiocese, Monsignor Cantwell had held his last post for 33 years.

He was born in Limerick, Ireland, into a noted Irish Catholic family. He was the brother of the late Msgr. John J. Cantwell of Los Angeles and the late Msgr. James Cantwell, chancellor of the San Francisco Archdiocese.

Monsignor Cantwell studied in St. Patrick's College, Thurles, Ireland, and was ordained in 1901. That year he was appointed assistant pastor of St. Francis de Sales Church in Oakland. In 1913 he became the first pastor of St. Bruno's Church in San Bruno, serving there until his appointment to St. Anselm's. He became pastor of St. Monica's parish when he left Marin.

Pope John XXIII elevated the priest to the rank of domestic prelate with the title of monsignor on Sept. 17 of this year.

Surviving are a sister, Nellie Cantwell of Los Angeles; two brothers, Rev. Arthur J. Cantwell, pastor of St. Elizabeth's Church in San Francisco, and

Hughes Case Decision Unchanged

Long and bitter controversy over the county administrator's dismissal last year of the assistant county personnel director was revived by supervisors today, but by 3-2 vote they stood by their action last April confirming the discharge.

Spurred by grand jury criticism, Chairman Walter R. Castro complained of the nature of the appeal proceedings. He proposed to "remove the cloud" from Stella Hughes, the ousted personnel assistant.

County Counsel E. Warren McGuire said the entire process had been legally correct but said he had been asked by Miss Hughes' attorney, Duane W. Anderson of San Francisco, to notify the board that court action is contemplated.

Supervisor Peter Behr, himself a lawyer, pointed out that any reversal by the board would leave it highly vulnerable in court.

The issued was precipitated

Lawmen Brewing Plans For Halloween Night

Police and sheriff's patrols in Marin County will be at least doubled tomorrow night to quiet Halloween haunts and goblins as much as possible.

Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa of San Rafael said his entire force will be working—about 18 patrolmen instead of the usual four or five on night duty. They will work in two-man teams in cars. Two foot patrolmen will work in the downtown area.

Chief Chiesa said Halloween vandalism has not been a problem in past years and he hopes to preserve the record.

Mill Valley Police Chief Dan Terzich said he will assign 12 police reserves to work with the normal four-man evening crew. Officers who usually go on duty at midnight will start two hours earlier, boosting the force during the time the most help is needed.

San Anselmo also will have three additional regular officers and four reserves on duty with all patrol units working, reported Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani. Fairfax's Chief James Orr will call in two extra men.

Belvedere Chief William Woodington will triple his force, with seven men on duty instead of two. Four extra men will work with the regular two-man night police crew in Sausalito. Chief Howard Clark's force in Larkspur will comprise six rather than the usual two. Corte Madera police will be on "special alert," said Chief Frank Nelson.

The sheriff's department will have about 45 men on duty, counting 30 regulars (the whole patrol division) and 15 reserves.

Usually only six or eight sheriff's deputies are on night duty.

Red China Is Rejected In U.N. Bid

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Red China suffered a resounding defeat today when the General Assembly rejected its latest U.N. membership bid by a bigger margin than a year ago.

The vote was 42 in favor, 56 against and 20 abstaining. In both cases it was far less than the required two-thirds majority.

The main switch was among some of the new African members.

The vote was seen as a big victory for the Western powers who had strongly opposed the seating of Red China. They argued that the Peiping regime's military action against India demonstrated its unfitness for membership.

The vote was on a Soviet resolution calling for the ouster of the Chinese Nationalist delegations from all U.N. organs.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States conducted its 34th nuclear test in the current test series in the Pacific today, the Atomic Energy Commission announced.

Civil Defense Buildup Is Ordered In Marin

He called a meeting tomorrow of all county department heads to discuss civil defense.

The order came on the heels of one county civil defense official's resignation, and after Castro discovered that the batteries were dead in 32 radiological detection kits throughout the county.

Yesterday afternoon Dr. Elmer A. Weden Jr. of San Anselmo called Castro to read a letter of resignation as the assistant medical coordinator for civil defense. He told Castro that he saw no need for preparations at this time.

Castro told fellow supervisors today that he directed Dr. Rafael G. Rufficy Jr., county medical director, last week to find out from Dr. Weden what preparations had been made. Dr. Weden's response was to ask, in effect, "what's the hurry?" Dr. Dufficy reported to Castro.

The supervisors' chairman said he wanted to know what doctors would take charge of hospital medical staffs throughout the county in case of disaster. Apparently no assignments had been made, he said.

Castro said he went to the courthouse on Saturday to help Mrs. Jean Smith, assistant civil defense coordinator, answer phone calls, which had been numerous throughout the week.

He asked for a check on radiological kits and found them inoperative.

He further found that additional emergency first aid kits are needed, he said, and recommended that kits be stored at Terra Linda High School and at St. Vincent's School for Boys.

Supervisors passed a motion to this effect. In the same motion they appointed Dr. Dufficy to replace Dr. Weden as civil defense medical coordinator.

U.S. Issues Call For 6,000 To Be Drafted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Defense Department today issued a call for 6,000 draftees to be inducted into the Army during December.

The quota was an increase over the 4,000-a-month draft rate for October and November.

IKE SAYS GOP HELPED KEEP UP ARMED POWER

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower says Republicans had a major role in giving the United States the armed strength that enabled it to take a strong stand against the Soviet Union in the Cuba crisis.

Eisenhower also told 10,000 cheering Republicans at a dinner-rally last night that GOP leaders had helped spur President John F. Kennedy to forceful action.

Although tensions are now eased, the Republican leader said, "We have no reason to relax" and the Soviet threat "we will bury you" still stands.

Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, seeking re-election, shared the platform at the Syracuse War Memorial Auditorium with Eisenhower, who has been campaigning through the country in support of GOP candidates.

Eisenhower endorsed Rockefeller as a man of integrity, sharpness of mind, energy and moral courage.

In addition to giving Republicans much credit for laying the groundwork for Kennedy's Cuban policy, Eisenhower again sharply attacked domestic policies of the Kennedy administration.

He hit at Edward M. Kennedy, the President's youngest brother who is Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate for Massachusetts, saying he was implying he has "free entry through all doors in Washington."

Eisenhower's 21-minute speech, interrupted 17 times by applause, appeared to be designed to crack down Democratic efforts to monopolize credit for the Cuban developments.

The former president had these comments:

"Through eight years of a Republican Eisenhower administration, Americans ceaselessly worked to transform their armed forces from World War II patterns into an effective, modern instrument of defense. The present military readiness of the nation would not exist were it not for the work of those eight years."

"It was a recommendation of the Republican leaders of the Congress that first inspired the joint congressional resolution under which the President was able to act in this latest crisis forcefully and with congressional approval of his acts."

"So our commander-in-chief, sure of his ready military strength, fortified by the tradition of American unity in foreign crisis, proclaimed our determination. Thereafter, the men in the Kremlin seemed to have some somber, second thoughts."

Eisenhower did not mention the President by name at any time during his speech.

Senators Rule Out Sanctuary

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Senate Republicans warned today against any Soviet missile-removal agreement that might provide a permanent sanctuary for communism in Cuba.

The Republicans said they would oppose any U.S. guarantee that Fidel Castro's Cuban government would be protected from Western Hemisphere harassment.

In agreeing Sunday to pull his missile bases out of Cuba, Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev told President John F. Kennedy in a message, "I regard with respect and trust your statement that no attack will be made on Cuba, that no invasion will take place, not only by the U.S.A. but also by other countries of the Western Hemisphere, as your message pointed out."

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating (R-N.Y.), who contended weeks ago that the Soviet arms build-up was offensive and not defensive, said, "We must be very wary about any pact which will tie our hands in preventing the spread of communism to other countries in the Caribbean," he said.

Sen. Hugh Scott (R-Pa.), said he interprets the Cuban developments as "a victory over Khrushchev, but not over Castro."

Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) called on Kennedy to avoid any concession "which would have the effect of making Castro communism a permanent fixture."

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Priest Captures Killer In Rectory

CHICAGO (UPI)—A Roman Catholic priest today shot and captured a knife-wielding burglar who had crept into the rectory and stabbed the housekeeper to death.

"I aimed at the legs," said the Rev. Stephen O'Donnell, 49, pastor of St. Patrick's Church. "It was the first time I ever shot anybody."

"I didn't want to kill him," said Father O'Connell, a former Army chaplain. "He came at me. I don't know what he did, but I shot him."

Father O'Connell said he was awakened by the screams of Betty Walsh, 36, the housekeeper, and her sister, Peggy, 44, the cook. The body of the housekeeper was found on a stairway. Her sister hovered near, critically wounded.

Teeners Admit Defacing Negro Home

SACRAMENTO (AP)—White brothers, aged 14 and 15, have confessed defacing a Negro family's home with painted hate slogans—the second such incident in Sacramento in recent weeks.

Juvenile Officer Eugene Camper said the boys told him they got the idea from newspaper accounts of the earlier incident, which they had nothing to do with.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Humbles, who moved into an all-white neighborhood last month, spent most of yesterday removing the paint from their house, fence, sidewalk and driveway.

The white boys said they got up at 5 a.m. and painted such things as "Nigger land," "Nigger go home to the jungle," "You black Mau Mau," and "Your son is going to die if you don't go back to the jungle."

The Humbles have a 9-year-old son.

Lemnitzer Arrives

PARIS (UPI) — Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer is taking over command of American Forces in Europe pending the postponed retirement of supreme allied commander Gen. Lauris Norstad, the Europe headquarters said today.

The announcement said Lemnitzer arrived from the United States this morning.

Siren Mistake

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — At the sound of a siren in the predawn darkness, an alert Memphis mother woke her husband, two children and the dog.

The mother, who prefers to remain anonymous, hurriedly flicked on a portable radio to hear the news. After 10 minutes of rock 'n' roll music in the dark, she realized the siren had been from a passing fire truck.

Satellite Delayed

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —Technical troubles forced a effort to launch a flashing light geodetic satellite to make more accurate measurements of the earth. The shot was rescheduled for 3:30 a.m. tomorrow.

Earhart Kin Dies

MEDFORD, Mass. (AP) — Amy Otis Earhart, 95, mother of vanished aviatrix Amelia Earhart, died yesterday in a nursing home.

More Russ Tests

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet Union has fired three more nuclear tests—the 23rd, 24th, and 25th to be announced by the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission in the current series.

One was set off yesterday and two on Sunday, according to the AEC.

Mrs. FDR 'Serious'

NEW YORK (UPI) — A family spokesman said yesterday that Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt was "holding her own" but still seriously ill.

Mrs. Roosevelt, 78, suffering anemia and a lung infection, was taken home from a hospital 12 days ago. Only members of her immediate family are allowed to visit her.

Ex-Wife Can't Vote

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. (AP)— Mary C. Rockefeller,, former wife of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, is not eligible to vote in next Tuesday's balloting when he is up for re-election.

The Westchester County Board of Elections confirmed yesterday it had canceled Mrs. Rockefeller's voting registration because she established residence in Nevada last March to obtain her divorce there.

Against Prop. 24

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk says Prop. 24, the anti-Communist amendment, is "probably unconstitutional in many respects."

Mosk made the statement yesterday in a letter to five legislators who had asked his opinion. It was not a formal opinion by the attorney general.

He also called the proposal vague, ambiguous, and long-winded. He said control of subversion is desirable, but the FBI has the necessary tools.

Mosk also said there are moral arguments against Prop. 24 because it threatens the freedom to dissent, "to espouse the unpopular, the minority point of view, even the unworkable and the stupid."

Red Drive Slows Down A Little As India Stabs Back With Mortars

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Indian forces laid down a barrage of mortar fire and launched probing stabs today as the Red Chinese drive showed signs of slowing down —at least temporarily.

Battles appeared to be shaping up in the Himalayas as both sides poured in reinforcements. For the first time, the Defense Ministry told of Indian forces using mortars and holdings their own against the Communists. The only setback reported today was loss of one small military outpost on the Tibetan border in the center of the North East Frontier Agency.

With American and British weapons to be rushed here by air, a feeling of confidence swept the nation and shook it out of the despair created by a series of retreats since the Communists launched their offensive Oct. 20.

Major battles appeared to be shaping up near the Buddhist monastery town of Towang and at Walong, 250 miles to the east near the Burma border.

Strong Indian forces were being rushed to the two and one-half-mile-high Se Pass to try to blunt a Chinese threat to the thickly populated Assam plains. Informed sources said the Indians recaptured Jang, four miles east of Chinese-held Towang, which put them in a better position for defense of Assam.

Near the Burmese border, the Chinese were reported still on the outskirts of Walong.

On the Ladakh front, 1,000 miles to the west, the Indian government acknowledged the fall of Demchok and nearby Jara Pass to the Chinese Saturday.

A government spokesman said it was by and large untrue that Indian troops fighting in three-mile altitude on the Ladakh front were inadequately clothed against winter. The government conceded that the troops there and elsewhere lack sufficient rapid-fire weapons to repel the Chinese attacks.

Responding quickly to an Indian plea for assistance, the United States is expected to start sending modern infantry weapons by the end of this week.

New demands arose for the resignation of Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon, blamed by critics for the inadequacy of the military equipment with which the Indian army faced the first Chinese onslaughts in the 10-day-old border war.

A year ago, Menon blocked efforts by top generals to turn to the United States for weapons.

Opposition to Menon is becoming so strong within the ruling Congress party that some observers think Prime Minister Nehru may have to fire his closest associate. So far, Nehru has pushed Menon into the background and taken over most of his duties.

In a speech yesterday, Nehru said: "We had been conditioning ourselves not to think of war and all our operations had been directed to the development of our economy."

In contrast, he said, Red China prepared for war and has the world's largest army.

Bomb Plots Foiled In South America

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—Castro sympathizers planning a stepped-up sabotage campaign throughout Latin America were foiled from bombing American establishments in Santiago and communications facilities in Venezuela, authorities reported.

Pro-Castro demonstrators burned an American flag and toned government headquarters in Uruguay before an estimated 1,000 machete-swinging soldiers and policemen scattered the mob last night.

Spurred by the dynamiting Sunday of vital Venezuelan oil installations, Latin-American internal security officials were reported ready to tighten measures against subversive acts allegedly directed by Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

The premature blast of a bomb being assembled in a downtown apartment led to the discovery here yesterday of a cache of explosives and a list of bomb targets. Police said the list included the U.S. Embassy, U.S. firms and Chilean government buildings.

Four persons were arrested. Among them was July Armando Suardo, president of the leftist Progressive Social Movement and a former candidate for Congress.

In Caracas, the Venezuelan Interior Ministry said a time bomb was found Saturday at a radio television installation 20 minutes before it was set to explode.

In Montevideo, Uruguay, 70 persons were arrested in last night's demonstration. The crowd, mostly students, also aimed its fury at chief opposition parties, which had endorsed the American blockade of Cuba.

The Guatemalan Foreign Ministry said it had confidential information on potential sabotage and agitation in that nation.

Schools Are Urged To Tackle Drugs

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Richard A. McGee, administrator of the State Youth and Adult Corrections Agency, said today that the elementary schools could help solve the dangerous drug problem by doing more to develop children's emotional maturity.

McGee told a hearing by the State Senate Fact-Finding Committee on Judiciary that he realized the proposal is "a delicate matter with very real limitations."

"Most parents feel that the way they raise their children is their own business . . .

"However, we could, if we would make an effort, change some of the fixed attitudes in this regard through constructive demonstrations. The schools are in a strategic position to provide leadership in meeting the problem of deviant behavior.

"The schools have contact with virtually every child in the community — and at an early point in his development. This is important. The attack on divergence cannot wait until high school."

McGee also backed proposals that the schools identify maladjusted children by tests as early as possible. Several years ago Dr. Eli Bower of the State Education Department worked out such tests which met with much criticism from some parents who said the questions violated the family's privacy.

McGee said the schools' programs should incorporate psychology, psychiatry, social casework and special education, involving both the child and his parents.

"Most of the time," he said, "the child's parents need help as much as he does.

"Deviant behavior — of which the illicit use of pills is an example— is rooted in the development of the individual's charcter. The moulding of that character is a responsibility of the community as well as of the family."

McGee said that in California, since the 1961 laws toughening narcotics penalties, the narcotic arrest rate dropped 18 per cent, but the dangerous drug rose 27 per cent.

Dangerous drugs include barbiturates, such as seconal, nembutal, amytal, and phenobarbital;and amphetamines, such as benzedrine, and dexidrine. In massive dozes they make people feel drunk or excited, or happy—temporarily.

McGee said some produce addiction more difficult to break than the heroin habit, and some cause unconsciousness, death, personality deterioration, hallucinations and mental illness.

He suggested stronger penalties for dangerous drug traffic and federal controls on the shipment of such drugs to Mexico, where they can be purchased by Americans without prescription.

Such steps he said would reduce the traffic, but he warned that some other form of deviant behavior would rise to take its place.

Community effort to mould character is the best long-term solution, he said.

Lawyer Won't Take Chance On Juror

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Attorney Robert M. Odear objected to a prospective juror in a civil case. Judge Joseph J. Bradley smiled and excused the lawyer's wife from jury duty.

Odear told the judge: "I haven't won an argument with her since we were married. And I don't want to take a chance in this case."

McGee Tells Of State Crime Drop

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A significant drop in both adult crime and juvenile delinquency in California in the first nine months of 1962 was reported today by Richard A. McGee, administrator of the State Youth and Adult Corrections Agency.

McGee was first appointed head of California's prison system in 1944 by Gov. Earl Warren, and was promoted to the super-agency job by Gov. Edmund G. Brown last year.

In a speech prepared for a meeting of the Pasadena Chamber of Commerce, McGee said the number of new state prisoners committed from January through September was 18.3 per cent below last year. There was a slight decline in the number of youths committed to the Youth Authority.

"These reductions in actual numbers of adult and youthful criminal commitments become even more significant when the large increase in California's population between the two periods is taken into account," McGee said.

McGee said the FBI's statistics showed that California's crime rate went down 2.1 per cent in 1961, while the rate for the nation went up 1.4 per cent.

Monkeys Found Needing Friends Not Mothers

MADISON, Wis. (UPI) — A monkey needs a playmate more than he needs a mother, a team of psychologists said today.

Two University of Wisconsin psychologists said a monkey can be happy without a mother so long as he has plenty of friends around.

If all the monkey has is his mother, the psychologists said, he's apt to be moody, unhappy, and socially retarded.

Psychologists Harry and Margaret Kuenne Harlow reported in the current issue of Scientific American that laboratory studies of normal and abnormal development in monkeys have shed new light on the mysteries of human development.

"The close behavorial resemblances of our disturbed infant monkeys to disturbed human beings gives us confidence that we are working with significant variables and the hope we can point the way to reducing the toll of psychosocial trauma" in humans, they said.

Monkeys raised with their mothers alone, the researchers said, were the most socially retarded of the animals studied other than those raised in complete isolation.

Monkeys in complete isolation for 60 to 90 days or longer could readjust to society, the studies showed, but a six-month isolation appears "destructive."

Studies showed that four infants raised close together, but without a mother "give every indication of being socially and sexually on a par with infants raised by their own mothers and also given opportunity to associate with other young monkeys," the Harlows said.

by reading of a grand jury letter finding "no justification nor cause" for dismissal of Miss Hughes by Administrator Alan Bruce, "based on the transcript of the case and all other facts given." The letter asked for a response.

This was promptly challenged by Supervisor William D. Fusselman. "The most they can do is vote a censure," he said. "If, as indicated here, they want us to reverse ourselves, they're going beyond their scope."

Supervisor William Gnoss, who had backed Miss Hughes, said he felt she had been treated unjustly. "I feel that the whole thing wasn't handled correctly," said Gnoss.

Supervisor George Ludy said he had voted for dismissal after reading the transcript of the personnel commission hearing "very thoroughly" and that he felt the grand jury was overstepping its authority.

"I think the board should reconsider the cloud put on this woman," said Castro. He suggested the board instruct the county counsel to draw a resolution to such effect.

Behr pointed out that by agreement of the parties, the supervisors' part was limited to review of the 150,000-word transcript. He termed it "a close and difficult case" but said the transcript had disclosed, in his judgment, sufficient reason for dismissal.

McGuire then said the jury had the right to investigate; it also had the right to form a conclusion; but such conclusion could have no legal effect "because under the ordinance they are not a review or appellate body on personnel matters."

"They merely say," McGuire pointed out, "that they have found contrary to you. That is not unusual."

McGuire outlined the procedues followed in the dismissal. "There is no further proceeding under the personnel ordinance," he told the supervisors.

Castro moved that a resolution to clear Miss Hughes be drawn. Gnoss seconded; but the other three supervisors all voted "no."

$2,600 Theft Case Due Court

Edmund James Whalen, 55, formerly of San Rafael, will appear in Santa Rosa Municipal Court Thursday at 9 a.m. in a continued arraignment on grand theft charges that he took $2,600 from his employer, the Sebastopol Growers Union.

When he appears to enter a plea, Whalen either will have an attorney or the court will appoint a defender.

Whalen, already on parole from San Quentin for similar offenses, is charged with cashing a check on the fresh fruit department of the growers' union, of which he had been manager for two years.

STAN'S THE MAN

Demos Are Confident Of Carrow Deferment

Democratic Party leaders in Marin were confident today that their candidate for Seventh District assemblyman would be relieved from active duty with the Air Force for one week to carry on his campaign.

Robert D. Carrow, Novato lawyer who is running against incumbent Republican William T. Bagley of San Rafael for the Marin-Sonoma assembly seat, was called to active duty Sunday as an airman second class with the 349th Troop Carrier Wing at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Roger Kent, Democratic State Central Committee chairman for Northern California, said he asked the Defense Department yesterday for a one-week deferment for Carrow so the candidate might campaign until next Tuesday election.

"I am expecting a favorable decision at any moment," Kent said today.

Carrow, 28, had said he would not ask for a deferment but declared he was still "very much in the race."

He appeared in uniform last night at a debate with Bagley in Sausalito. But he spoke only on what he called "non-partisan issues" because of the Hatch Act which makes it unlawful for a government employee to be politically active.

"I hope I may be able to fulfill my campaign engagements during off-duty hours," Carrow said. "But I'm only one of 1,200 men called to duty, and I'm sure others are facing similar difficulties."

Floundering Cabin Cruiser Is Saved By Coast Guard

A floundering cabin cruiser in distress, being pounded by giant breakers off Stinson Beach this morning, was towed to safety by a Coast Guard cutter just before noon.

The pilot of the boat, not immediately identified, added a touch of drama to the rescue by tossing an instant coffee bottle toward shore, with a penciled note sealed inside.

Deputy Sheriff William S. Christensen said he saw the bottle being tossed overboard. The bottle floated to shore in about 15 minutes. The note read: "I need help. Battery won't start engine."

Mrs. Lloyd Bode of Alameda Patio, Stinson Beach, noticed the boat floundering offshore about a mile north of Stinson Beach. She notified the sheriff's office about 9:45 a.m.

Deputy Christensen said the cruiser, about a 20-footer, was about 225 yards offshore at first. The man in the boat tossed his anchor, but the anchor kept slipping and the boat gradually drifted toward shore.

A Coast Guard cutter arrived just as the floundering boat had reached the breakers. "In time, it would have been in the surf and the cruiser would have been lost although the man probably would have been saved," Christensen reported

Shortly after 11 a.m., the cruiser and the man aboard were reported safely out to sea, being towed toward San Francisco by 82-foot Coast Guard boat.

Civic Center Brochure Still Free

A recommendation that 50 cents a copy be charged henceforth for colored brochures on the new Civic Center was unanimously voted down by Marin County supervisors today.

This reversed a proposal put before the board in a letter from Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows and backed by his chief, Alan Bruce.

Barrows reported about 7,500 copies have been given out gratis. He forecast continuing demand and said 50 cents a copy would about offset the cost to taxpayers.

But nobody on the board saw it that way, Chairman Walter R. Castro leading the attack.

"I feel this is good advertising for the county," said Supervisor William D. Fusselman. "We're pretty small if we don't give it out free."

short to allow us to expect conclusive evidence."

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev promised in that message that Soviet missile bases in Cuba would be dismantled.

The Navy's ships and planes suspended the six-day-old blockade for two days as dawn broke across the wide area they are patrolling in the Atlantic around Communist Cuba.

The blockading force remained on station, ready to resume the quarantine if ordered to do so.

Informed government sources reported last night that U.S. destroyers and aircraft had detected and trailed more than two Soviet submarines for about two days last week in the quarantine area.

The Soviet crafts were trailed until they surfaced and recharged their batteries, then went their way without incident, the sources said. The Soviet subs were traveling separately, informants indicated.

Bradley's Fate Now In Jury's Hands

A jury of nine women and three men went into deliberation today to decide the fate of murder suspect Claude Hilton Bradley, 22.

The husky truck driver is accused of strangling to death Mrs. Carole Frederick, 29, mother of three, in her apartment at 45 Woodland Avenue last June 3.

During a four-week trial before Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. of Marin Superior Court, Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety put on a parade of witnesses in an effort to prove that Bradley tried to attack the victim, then choked her to death.

In his final argument yesterday, the prosecutor asked the jurors to find Bradley guilty of murder in the first degree.

"Carole Frederick gave her life to protect her dignity as a human being and her honor," Garety concluded.

Defense attorney Berwyn A. Rice argued that Bradley had been drinking heavily that night. Even if he did cause the woman's death, it certainly was not intentional, said Rice.

"This man had no intent to rape or to kill. . . . If there was no intent, then ladies and gentlemen, you've got manslaughter," the defense attorney argued.

Rafferty, Richardson Aides Will Speak

Representatives of the two candidates for state superintendent of schools will speak at 8 p.m. Thursday at a meeting of the Fairfax Manor Parent-Teacher Assn. at the school.

Ray T. Hass, chairman of the Parents for Rafferty committee, will speak on behalf of Maxwell Rafferty, and Richard L. Foster, former assistant superintendent of Marin County schools, will represent Dr. Ralph Richardson.

Directors Named For Hospital

Drs. Chester B. Noyes and Roger Hedin were elected to replace Drs. Warren L. Bostick and Martin L. Griffith Jr. on the board.

The board agreed to ask Jack Hermann, Kentfield architect, to design a new business office and pharmacy to be built on the ground floor next to the hospital entrance.

Conversion of a two-bed room to a recovery room for for surgery patients was also approved.

Absentee Ballots Number 2,318

Applications for absentee ballots for next Tuesday's election totalled 2,318 by midmorning today.

By tonight's deadline for absentee applications, the total was not expected to reach the record 4,068 taken out in October of 1960.

Agnes Nathanson, chief deputy county clerk, said the number of absentee applications seemed to be running about normal.

tains" was remarkable, Darrow said. "You can say it's a flat country ringed by an iron curtain."

He also noted the drabness of Soviet clothing—"and they just seemed to lack style. I don't think we saw any pretty girls."

A few other things which Russia lacked, according to Darrow, were automobiles, good food, hard liquor other than vodka, air travel, and dogs and cats.

But there was no lack of hard-working people and entertainment in a grand style. "Everywhere people seemed to be busy," Darrow said, "and there are ballets and operas every night which attract big crowds."

There were also plenty of reminders of Lenin, Darrow said. 'We saw statues and pictures of Lenin everywhere. But on the other hand, it's interesting to see how completely they've erased Stalin. I saw his grave next to a wall behind the Lenin Tomb. There's no indication whose grave it is except for a small, nearly obscure marker with his name on it."

An inclination toward uniformity was also evident, Darrow said. "Even in simple things like ordering food in one of the state restaurants, they seem to resent variation. We had trouble getting service unless everybody at one table ordered the same thing. Of course, there was a language difficulty, too.

"Anyway, I thought the food was terrible—a lot of cabbage and meat cooked unimaginatively."

The Russians seem to be taking great care to preserve their history prior to the revolution, Darrow said. "They have retained and restored many landmarks dealing with the czars."

Darrow also saw evidence of declining interest in religion. "I went into one of the big Orthodox churches in Moscow, and the only people worshipping were old people."

Other things which were unfamiliar to an American, Darrow said, were people on the streets selling grapes and bottled water . . . an abundance of cigarettes but no cigars.

"One thing we noticed," he added, "was that wherever we went nobody said 'no' to us. They found some excuse to delay showing us something, or evaded a question, but they never said a flat 'no.'"

OBITUARIES

Annie L. Hess Last Rites Held

Private funeral services for Annie Laurie Hess, wife of Marin and Sonoma lumberman Henry Hess, were held today at Gray's Mortuary, San Francisco.

Mrs. Hess died Sunday in a San Francisco hospital after a long illness.

She and Hess were married in 1906. She was a native of San Francisco and resided there most of her life. Her father was a captain on Pacific sailing vessels during the late 19th century.

The Hess Lumber Co. in San Rafael is the last remaining yard of a chain of lumber yards established by Hess about 40 years ago. He began his lumber business in Sebastopol, and at one time also had a yard in Novato.

Main offices of the Hess firm are in San Francisco.

Mrs. Hess leaves her husband and three brothers, Thomas Roy Klinker and Halvor Dana Klinker of San Rafael, and Carl Victor Klinker of San Francisco.

Entombment was in Mountain View Cemetery, Oakland.

JOHN SIEMENS JR.

John Siemens Jr., a retired Mill Valley banker, died last night of a heart ailment at a local hospital. He had been ill for some time.

Siemens, 69, had lived one year at 76 Corte Madera Avenue. Before that, he spent his lifetime in his native Klamath Falls, Ore.

He and his father opened one of the first banks in Klamath Falls, the First State and Savings Bank. They were owners of the bank. Siemens, who began as a cashier, retired in 1947.

He is survived by his wife, Elsie; a son, Jack Siemens of Chiloquin, Ore.; two daughters, Mrs. Beverly Sinclair of Carmel and Mrs. Johanna Ray of Mill Valley; a brother, Jess Siemens of Medford, Ore., and six grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Russell and Gooch Mortuary, Mill Valley.

OLE MISS STUDENTS BOMBARD MEREDITH

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — University of Mississippi students bombarded the dormitory of James H. Meredith with firecrackers into the wee hours today.

It was the most serious incident since the bloody rioting when the 29-year-old Negro enrolled four weeks ago.

No arrests were made, but the MPs caused students away from Baxter Hall, the ivy-coated dormitory where Meredith has a two-room apartment.

Republican Candidates Have Chance In Alabama

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Republican candidates hope to ride into office in traditionally Democratic Alabama by stressing the Kennedy administration role in the recent racial crisis in Mississippi.

In their most intense vote-getting campaign in many decades, GOP challengers are putting pressure on the Democrats all along the line from Congress to the county courthouse.

The overriding issue is the use of U.S. marshals and federal troops at University of Mississippi, where the enrollment of Negro student James Meredith touched off violence.

Republican candidates have reminded the voters again and again that it was a Democratic administration in Washington which mobilized the federal forces.

Democratic nominees quickly denounced the federal action, too, and recalled that Republican President Dwight D. Eisenhower sent troops into Little Rock, Ark., during the integration uprising there in 1957.

One GOP group, the Montgomery County Committee, keynoted the party's battlecry with this slogan in newspaper ads: "Strike back at Kennedy—vote Republican."

Democratic candidates who normally would win without a fight have Republican opposition for the U.S Senate; three tion for the U.S. Senate; three House; two statewide offices; 28 seats in the 141-member legislature, and numerous county jobs.

For the first time within the memory of many politicians, Republican spokesmen are talking of the chances of victory. Always outnumbered in the past, they are counting on support from disgruntled Democrats.

GOVERNOR EDMUND G. "PAT" BROWN

Harold J. Powers Wants His Marin County Friends and Supporters to Know Why He Is Backing Governor Brown's Candidacy:

"The election of a qualified Governor to direct the affairs of our State Government during the next four years is of the utmost importance to all voters, irrespective of party affiliation.

"After careful consideration of the qualifications, integrity, experience, and demonstrated capabilities of both candidates, I have decided to join with a large number of concerned California Republicans in supporting the re-election of Governor Edmund G. "Pat" Brown, in the November 6th, General Election.

"The four year record of Governor Brown's administration is one of positive achievement and solid accomplishment!

"Under Governor Brown's competent leadership, California has made tremendous progress in every field of social and economic endeavor.

"Innumerable examples can be cited to conclusively prove that all the people of California are benefiting from the administration of Governor Brown.

"Among his many successful accomplishments are:

• Formulation and passage of The California Water Act. Which created the largest project for the conservation and distribution of water resources ever attempted in this county.

• Modernization and accelerated expansion of public educational facilities to meet the needs of a growing population.

• Fiscal responsibility in budgetary matters resulting in a healthy economic climate for California business, industry and labor.

"Governor Edmund G. "Pat" Brown merits your support and I urge all my friends, Republican and Democrats, to join with me in re-electing a great Governor for a great State."

Signed,
Harold J. Powers

CALIFORNIA CANDIDATES

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Campaigners for Gov. Edmund G. Brown say Richard M. Nixon is spending "a scandalous $1,440,000" —some of it eastern money—in a ruthless attempt to buy the California governorship Nov. 6.

Nixon workers answer that the accusations are "lies . . outright smears being used in desperation by the Brown campaign organization . . . we are spending only a fraction of that . . . Brown's spending is double that of our campaign."

They threw their punches in press releases issued only a few hours apart late yesterday.

First was a statement from Elizabeth R. Gatov, state co-chairman for the Democratic incumbent. She declared:

"The huge sum includes out-of-state money and money taken from other GOP candidates . . . Nixon's spending is a scandal. To pour $1.5 million into a governorship campaign is immoral. Governor Brown is spending approximately half that amount."

In reply came a statement from H. R. Haldeman, campaign manager for Republican former Vice President Nixon:

"The simple truth . . . is this: The Nixon campaign for governor is not costing $1,440,000 or anything near it. The figure was mentioned many, many months ago as a campaign budget goal for fund raising purposes. We are spending only a fraction of that, as the voters will see when we file our statements of campaign expenses with the secretary of state. The statement will show that Mr. Brown's spending is double that of our campaign . . ."

Meanwhile, the Democrats for Nixon Committee went on TV screens in San Francisco, Los Angeles and San Diego with what it called "six major charges" against the Brown administration. A Brown spokesman was on the phone immediately to news media with replies.

The committee's accusations, voiced by actors Lloyd Nolan and Victor Jory, and the Brown spokesman's reply:

1. Committee — Brown's strategy as governor and as a campaigner has been directed by a secret report compiled by a Madison Avenue public relations pollster.

Brown—Nixon also uses private polls in his campaign.

2. Committee — Brown's state disaster director has been guilty of "gross negligence in the handling of blood plasma."

Brown—The civil defense director in Washington complimented California only the past weekend on the state of readiness of California civil defense.

3. Committee — Brown's 1958 campaign benefitted from a $50,000 loan from a defense contractor.

Brown—The man in question was not a defense contractor but "Howard Hughes, when he lent $205,000 to Nixon's family, was then one of the largest defense contractors in the nation."

4. Committee — Brown and his administration allowed millions of dollars in losses to be suffered by California investors by failing to move quickly to investigate the financial manipulation of trust deed 10 per centers.

Brown— Rules under which 10 per centers operated were promulgated by Republican administrators, and it was the governor who appointed a special task force to force the 10 per centers into receivership. All are out of business.

5. Committee — Brown took a fishing trip in 1961 on a yacht owned by an oil company doing business with the State of California.

Brown— The company does less than $5,000 worth of business annually with the state. The governor and all other guests paid their own expenses and the governor has his check to prove it.

6. Committee — Brown in his television commercials is using fraudulent, untruthful pictorial representation.

Brown — They never document this. Twice this week Superior Court judges in San Francisco and Los Angeles have issued restraining orders against circulation of false and misleading campaign literature by Nixon supporters. There have been no complaints against materials used in the Brown campaign.

The television show, itself, the Brown spokesman called a fraud. It was originally advertised as being sponsored by the Citizens Committee for Good California Government, he said.

But when it came on the air, it was announced as sponsored by Democrats for Nixon. "Then they continued the fraud one step further by presenting two Republicans, who were the only participants. The contents of the show was just as fraudulent as the sponsorship," the spokesman declared.

The candidates also spoke for themselves yesterday.

Nixon declared in Sacramento that the Cuban crisis disclosed "major weaknesses" in California's civil defense setup. He didn't elaborate.

Brown at a meeting of the governor's council in the capital said the state's civil defense plan is among the most advanced in the nation. But he nevertheless ordered a setup in the program and said defense efforts must be "pushed ahead without respect to periods of crisis."

Nixon in a press statement said, "the experience of the Cuban crisis makes it clear that California cannot afford a provincial administration with an attitude of 'Stop the world; I want to get off.'

"My 16 years of experience in fighting the Communist menace can be put to work for California," Nixon continued.

Brown, in his first campaign speech on his return from a civil defense meeting in Washington, said in San Diego last night that Nixon has no special information about the Cuban crisis "but is simply trying to take political advantage of its existance."

"Let me say this to Mr. Nixon tonight: Leave Mr. Castro and Mr. Khrushchev to the man who won election to the presidency. That's his job."

In other developments:

Superior Court Judge Kenneth M. Chantry in Los Angeles issued a temporary restraining order forbidding printing, posting or distribution of the 32-page booklet "California Dynasty of Communism" which Democratic leaders say smears Brown and other Democratic incumbents by saying they are soft on communism.

Earl Warren Jr., a Sacramento attorney and son of the chief justice of the United States, announced in Los Angeles that he is supporting Republican Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel for re-election. Warren, who changed his registration recently from Republican to Democratic, has been working for the re-election of Governor Brown.

Dr. Ralph Richardson accused Dr. Maxwell Rafferty, his opponent for the office of state superintendent of public instruction, of using campaign literature which he said casts doubt on the loyalty of some of Richardson's supporters. Richardson referred to a three-page sheet he said Rafferty supporters distributed in a bi-partisan adult education forum in Palo Alto Sunday night.

U.S. Sen. Clair Engle, stumping Northern California for Democratic candidates, told a Redding audience last night that the election of State Sen. Richard Richards to the U.S. Senate was "vital to the success of President Kennedy's program in Congress."

DRIVING HOME THE ELEPHANT

Lee Sherry, women's vice chairman of the Republican County Central Committee, symbolically drives an elephant "right back to Sacramento" as she and co-workers Shirley Ness (left) and Gerald E. Misner, central committee chairman, prepared Bermuda Palms for GOP "Night of Fun" Friday starting at 8 p.m. The rally, last major Republican event here before election, will have Joseph Martin Jr. as principal speaker. Assemblyman William T. Bagley and Congressional candidate Donald H. Clausen will be present.

NIXON DOES GOOD TURN, GETS BOOED

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Hundreds of cars were whizzing by a stalled car on the busy Harbor Freeway when Richard M. Nixon spotted it. A Nixon campaign aid gave this account of what ensued:

The Republican gubernatorial candidate told his driver to stop. He offered to give the auto a push.

The stranded motorist thanked Nixon.

But as Nixon's car began to push the stalled auto, a car came by plastered with stickers supporting Nixon's opponent, Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Commented Nixon:

Commercial Bakeries Producing Less Bread

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Commercial bakeries produced an average of nine fewer loaves of white, whole wheat and rye bread per person between the years 1947 and 1959, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reports.

To partially offset this decrease, the average person ate an additional three pounds of buns and rolls and almost two and one-half pounds of raisin and diet bread.

Angeloni To Answer Charges For Recall

Novato City Councilman John Angeloni said today he will file a written answer to the recall charges of Alfred W. Bowman within the week allowed by law.

Bowman filed notice of intention to circulate a petition to recall Angeloni, at the city hall just before noon yesterday.

In addition to the charge of representing a small minority and not the majority in choosing a freeway route, Bowman added two other charges not included in a notice served on Angeloni at the Oct. 16 city council meeting.

He alleged Angeloni purchased an interest in 10 acres west of Highway 101 between Novato Creek and Yukon Way, becoming a joint tenancy owner on July 9 of this year. He also charged that Angeloni "failed to observe the principles of good planning and zoning in meeting the needs of our expanding community."

Mill Valley Halloween Parade Set Tomorrow

Mill Valley's Community Halloween parade will start at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at Lytton Square, circling up Throckmorton and East Blithedale avenues and down Sunnyside Avenue to the square.

There will be games, prizes for the best costumes, and refreshments will be served. The parade, designed for preschoolers through grammar school children, is the cooperative effort of the Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Commission, Parent-Teachers Assn. and police department, according to Ray Bell, parks and recreation commissioner.

Whist Party Tonight

Mount Tamalpais Lodge 399, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, will hold a whist party at 8:15 p.m. today in the Odd Fellows Temple in Mill Valley. Those in charge are Paul A. Hughes, Herbert A. Maxey, and Clifford L. Spinney.

SOMETHING COMFORTABLE

INTRODUCING THE 1963 DODGE

The something comfortable in this case is a 1963 Dodge Polara 4-door hardtop. It's not the clinging kind of comfortable, either. More like housecoat comfortable. Lots of room to move around in. See how the roof sweeps straight back instead of rounding off. That means plenty of headroom for passengers, front and back. Seats are sofa-soft and chair-high. All Dodge models offer this kind of comfort at a variety of prices—all low! We have a number of interesting items for the male set, too. For economy, a hustling 225 cubic inch 6. For action, a stable full of V8 horsepower. For assured satisfaction, a revolutionary new 5-year/50,000-mile warranty*.

*Your authorized Dodge Dealer's Warranty against defects in material and workmanship on 1963 cars has been expanded to include parts replacement or repair for 5 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first, on the engine block, head and internal parts; transmission case and internal parts; torque converter, drive shaft, universal joints (excluding dust covers), rear axle and differential, and rear wheel bearings—provided the vehicle has been serviced at reasonable intervals according to the Dodge Certified Car Care schedules.

While thoroughbreds were streaking toward the last turn at the Sacramento State Fair in September, California herself was pounding into the stretch. The theme of the Fair—"Join in the fun! California's Number One"—prefaced the long-expected December turning point when this State is scheduled to drive ahead as the nation's most populous.

Sacramento has been looking even farther ahead to completion of a capital city worthy of California's new stature. By the year 2000, a treelined, fountain-graced 138-acre "campus" will provide room for 40,000 employees and thousands of visitors who will assemble at the Capitol every day. The first elements in this bold plan are under construction.

This constructive answer to the challenge of growth typifies Northern California. Here where 215 new industrial jobs must be created daily to maintain the economy——public, private and business groups work together in an intensive search for new payrolls. Already more than 100 industrial subdivisions provide the basic needs to attract new and expanding industry.

Diverse, dynamic—this is the sound and soaring economy of which this bank has been a part since 1852. And from San Francisco to the Sierra, from Eureka to King City, this is Wells Fargo country. It is our own special land—its people and its promise our first concern.

Bagley, Carrow Discuss Propositions

By CHAPIN A. DAY

The two candidates for Assembly from this Seventh District, William T. Bagley, incumbent Republican, and Robert D. Carrow, Democratic challenger, met face to face last night, but most of their time was taken up discussing the 25 ballot propositions.

For less than 15 minutes in the more than two-hour meeting sponsored by the Sausalito Women's Club in its Sausalito clubhouse, the candidates discussed issues in their own race. About 40 persons attended.

Carrow, in Air Force uniform following his call to active duty Sunday, said he was not permitted to "direct myself to partisan issues" although "I hope to get permission immediately from the Defense Department to continue campaigning. I'm still very much in the race."

When asked about a stand of Gov. Edmund G. Brown, Carrow straightened his uniform and said, "I'm really not here to ask for votes for Governor Brown tonight. The governor has his problems; I have mine."

The two candidates discussed the ballot propositions and their stands on them, with Carrow speaking on the first 13 and Bagley on the last 12.

Carrow favored all of his baker's dozen except Proposition 5, the award of death benefits in industrial accidents, when he opposed "because it would have an adverse affect on employers," and Proposition 8, which would reduce the number of days between the time a bill is introduced in the legislature and the time it can be heard by committee. He said he would vote no on both of these.

Bagley favored eight and opposed four of the last dozen propositions.

Those he objected to were: Proposition 17, which would increase legislative salaries to $10,000 Bagley said. $10,000 isn't enough to pay a fulltime legislator and get good ones; besides we should continue the citizen-legislator concept as long as we can. Proposition 18 which would make the liquor appeals board more independent of the governor — "the governor should be responsible for its operation." Proposition 23 which "demands, cries out for a no vote" in giving Los Angeles five more state senators. Proposition 24, the Francis Amendment, which he said "has fatal flaws."

In their brief personal battle, Carrow declared there is a major difference between "the type of philosophy" each would take to Sacramento. Bagley, he charged, would equalize civil rights and property rights. "I believe if civil rights come in conflict with property rights, civil rights must predominate," Carrow declared.

He also restated his charge that Bagley had mishandled a state appropriation for a legislative assistant by paying it to a public relations man.

Bagley answered that such a charge illustrated "the pathetic lack of issues" Carrow had been able to develop. He said he had not improperly spent any of the legislative assistance fund and that any portion of it given to a public relations man was for services in connection with legislation, not with campaigning.

Bagley also briefly reviewed his legislative accomplishments and said there "obviously must be a balance between civil and property rights with neither overshadowing the other." He charged his opponent had been "touting civil rights" and flouting property rights."

Carl W. Gabrielson of Sausalito was moderator. Mrs. Russell H. Papenhausen was women's club chairman.

Mosk Explains Election Rules Should Late Rep. Miller Win

If Clem Miller should be re-elected to the United States Congress postumously, a special election to fill the vacancy could be held as early as next Jan. 16, Atty Gen. Stanley Mosk said today.

Mosk reviewed the legal implications of the Democratic congressman's Oct. 7 airplane crash death in response to a query by State Sen. Carl L. Christensen (D-Eureka).

Because Miller died with 40 days of next Tuesday's general election, it was too late to remove his name from the ballot. He will appear as the Democratic nominee against Donald H. Clausen, Republican.

If Clausen wins, he will take his seat in Congress next Jan. 9. However, if Miller obtains a majority of votes in the six-county First Congressional District, the seat will automatically become vacant.

Under such circumstances, the governor must call a special election, giving at least 70 days' notice.

"As soon as the governor has reason to believe that Miller has received a majority of the votes, he is permitted to proclaim the election," the attorney general said. "Thus, if he were convinced on Nov. 7 that Miller had been re-elected, he could call an election for as early as Jan. 16."

For such an election, the "independent nomination procedure" would be used. Signatures of 500 voters in the district would be sufficient to place a candidate on the ballot. Party designations would appear on the ballot, but candidates would not be limited to one from each party. The candidate receiving the highest number of votes would be elected.

Grand Jury Indicts For Gommo Death

The San Francisco Grand Jury last night indicted John G. Trischan for the Oct. 16 jealousy slaying of Kentfield attorney Albert H. Gommo.

Trischan, who is charged with shooting Gommo in the attorney's San Francisco office, was released from the hospital this morning and placed in the city prison, said Inspector Milton Piro. Police said Trischan turned the gun on himself after shooting Gommo twice in the head. Gommo died of the head wounds two days later.

Piro said the 50-year-old San Francisco electrician will be booked on the murder indictment on Thursday and probably will be arraigned on Monday.

Trischan, police said, accused Gommo of having an affair with the suspect's estranged wife, Louise. The wife formerly worked for Gommo as a legal secretary.

Bolinas Meeting Set

Gerritt Orton, chairman of the Marin Federation of Improvement Clubs, will discuss the federation's purpose, projects and goals at a meeting of the Bolinas Beach Improvement Club Saturday in the Mesa Clubhouse. A potluck dinner at 7 p.m. will precede the meeting, according to Dorothy M. Paul, secretary.

Martinelli, Castro On Board Of New Bank

Jordan L. Martinelli and Walter R. Castro, both of San Rafael, have been elected to the board of directors of the recently approved Redwood National Bank, it was announced today by Byron W. Leydecker, president.

Martinelli, president of the Marin County Savings and Loan Assn., was a Marin Superior Court judge for 11 years before his retirement from the bench in 1960.

Castro is a longtime San Rafael businessman and is chairman of the Marin County Board of Supervisors. He and Martinelli are native Marinites.

Leydecker also announced that applications for stock subscription in the new bank, now being organized in San Rafael, were distributed today to leading citizens of Marin County.

Redwood National Bank will be located at Fourth and E streets in the old Pacific Gas and Electric Co. building.

Marinite Gets State Accident Referee Job

Morton R. Colvin of 137 Holmes Avenue, Santa Venetia, has been appointed a referee in the Stockton office of the State Industrial Accident Commission. He will be attached temporarily to the San Francisco office of the commission prior to the Stockton assignment.

Hospital District To Elect Nov. 6

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

Marin Hospital District, which has had a quiet political history, will elect three members of its five-member board of directors Nov. 6.

One of the five candidates has been on the board since the hospital district was created in 1946. She is Mrs. Marion C. Ibach of Mill Valley. She was appointed by the board of supervisors when it set up the district's first board, and has served as secretary continuously since then.

A second candidate for re-election has been closely associated with the district since well before Marin General Hospital, which it operates, was built. He is Dr. Wilson P. Goddard of Bolinas. He was named to the board in the district's first election, in 1948. Shortly before the end of his four-year term he resigned from the board to become chief of staff at the hospital, which then was nearing completion. He resigned that position in November, 1957, and the following July was named to the board again, to succeed a director who resigned. He was elected without opposition the following November.

The third incumbent director whose term expires, Allan Chambliss of San Anselmo, is not seeking re-election.

Also seeking election to the board are three who have not served on it previously: H. Wallace Hickman, Kentfield real estate man; Forrest N. Johnson, Terra Linda physical therapist, and Ernest N. Kettenhofen, San Anselmo industrialist.

The hospital district has shrunk since the election of two years ago. It formerly included the whole county. But Novato seceded, subsequently getting its own community hospital. All the rest of the county remains in the Marin Hospital District.

The district was set up by vote of the people in 1946, following a survey of Marin's hospital needs which showed only one hospital bed for every 1,000 residents—with the postwar housing boom rapidly increasing the population.

It is a taxing agency. It built Marin General Hospital in Greenbrae, which was started in 1950 and completed in 1952 with a rated capacity of 104 patient beds. It now has under construction a 116-bed addition to that hospital.

The district has avoided taxation for operation, but levies a tax rate to pay off building bonds.

The bonds are to pay for the original hospital only. The addition is being built from a half-million-dollar William Babcock Memorial Foundation gift; a half-million-dollar gift from an anonymous wealthy Marinite, and $1,486,374 in state and federal funds.

The tax rate this year will be only one cent per $100 assessed valuation. Last year it was one and one-half cents.

To operate virtually without taxation, the district levies charges comparable to those in hospitals which have been privately built and are privately operated.

For instance, Marin General Hospital's rates for private rooms are $29 to $31 per day, and for beds in two-bed wards, $25 per day. Novato Hospital gets $30 per day for private rooms, $25 in two-bed wards. At Ross Hospital, private rooms range from $26 to $30, and the rate in two-bed wards is $26. At San Rafael Hospital, a private room is $30, a bed in a two-bed ward, $26.

Similarly, Marin General Hospital charges $45 for use of the delivery room, as does Novato Hospital—the only other one in the county with a maternity section. And both charge $13 per day for the nursery.

Rates of pay of the hospital's employees also are comparable. Dietary aides, nurses' aides and others on the same pay scale get $255 to $330 per month at Marin General. Rates of pay for the same classes range from a minimum of $280 to a top of $375 per month at the other three hospitals in Marin County.

Nurses' pay scale is $360 to $460 per month at the publicly operated hospital; scales at the others run from $360 to $520 per month.

The hospital district has legal power to levy a tax toward its operating cost. It has not done so. The plant was provided by the taxpayers—through local, state and federal bonding. Directors have chosen to make operations pay their own way, on a basis competitive with privately owned hospitals.

(Tomorrow: Who are the five candidates for directors of the hospital district?

Two Die In Fiery Truck, Train Crash

ANAHEIM (AP) — Two persons died and more than 30 others were injured when a gravel truck rammed the center of a speeding train, spewing rocks and flames over screaming passengers in the coaches.

The impact broke the train in two. One car careened wildly into a trestle and a steel I-beam from the bridge railing speared into the coach.

Four cars of the seven-car San Diegan, a Sante Fe train bound for San Diego, were derailed in the wreck yesterday. The truck driver was burned to death. A train passenger was the other fatality.

Twenty-nine passengers were hospitalized, many with broken legs. Several others were treated at the scene and released, unidentified.

When it hit seats toppled, passengers flew through the air and rocks the size of golf balls from the truck's load rained down on the train.

"The front of the car just peeled right back like a piece of paper being rolled back and big hunks of gravel came flying in," a passenger, Army Pfc. Melvin Best, 19, said afterward. "One guy started yelling, 'goodbye' to his buddies."

The train was traveling about 65 miles an hour when the accident occurred, C. R. Robertson, assistant general manager of Santa Fe, said.

The dead passenger, whose leg was severed in the crash, was Larry Joseph Divis, 21, Cedar Rapids, Iowa. He died in surgery at Orange County General Hospital.

The accident occurred three miles from the famed Disneyland amusement park and 25 miles southeast of Los Angeles.

'Prayer For Peace' Services Tomorrow

A "Prayer for Peace" service will be held tomorrow in the sanctuary of the First Presbyterian Church at 1510 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, as the inaugural service in a Monday through Saturday mediation hour.

The sanctuary will be open from noon to 1 p.m. for prayer and mediation for persons in the downtown San Rafael area. On Thursdays a minister will be available to talk with persons seeking advice. Music will be played during the hour.

School Reunion

A 20-year reunion of members of the 1942 class at George Washington High School in San Francisco will be held Dec. 1 at Roberts-at-the-Beach, 48th Avenue and Rivera Street, San Francisco. Additional information and tickets may be obtained from Clifford A. Gerstner of 163 Via La Cumbre, Larkspur.

Bob Hope Ribs Kennedy 'Royality,' Gets Laugh From Queen Elizabeth

LONDON (AP) — "We don't have titles in the United States," said Bob Hope last night, his eyes studiously avoiding the royal box at the Palladium.

A faint smile flickered over Queen Elizabeth's face.

"No, sir," Hope continued, "in America we have just two classes—the people and the Kennedys."

Elizabeth threw back her head and laughed out loud.

The occasion was the annual Royal Variety Performance which raised $126,000 for the Variety Artistes Benevolent Fund.

The queen appeared just as amused when Hope said: "President Kennedy's from Massachusetts, you know. He's going to split it in two parts—high Mass and low Mass."

"Why was the queen given the opportunity to throw back her head and laugh happily at jokes about the Kennedy family?

"Is there some hope here for the future of satire in our theaters?"

Jokes about the royal family are banned from the British stage.

The evening was a sentimental triumph for 78-year-old Sophie Tucker.

Impeached Student Not Guilty

Members of the congress Friday marked a secret ballot with three verdicts: Guilty, guilty with leniency, or not guilty. Had the majority voted "guilty," Robin would have been ousted from his student job.

Twenty-seven voted for "guilty with leniency," to 11 for "guilty." None found Robin, who had admitted the charge, "not guilty."

In separate action the judicial council yesterday voted unanimously that the impeach-proceedings were legal under the student constitution.

This ruling, agreed upon by five judges, was decided upon for two reasons: First, students said that, in observing other levels of government, the school constitution combines the regulations and procedures for impeachment; second, Cyril Beattie, student adviser who sat with the students who wrote the constitution, advised that the drafters did not realize a difference in spirit between recall and impeachment.

Prop. 24 Pros. Cons Discussion Thursday

Proposition 24 on the Nov. 6 ballot, the Francis Amendment, will be discussed at 8 p.m. Thursday at Edna Maguire School in Mill Valley.

ARTIST TO JUDGE ART SHOW

Arthur Espenet Carpenter of Bolinas, working here on one of his handmade cabinets, is a judge for the ninth annual art show of the Marin Jewish Community Center. Open to arts and crafts of all media by both amateurs and professionals, the show will be open 8 to 10 p.m. Nov. 10 and 2 to 5 p.m. Nov. 11. Other judges are Harry Crotty, College of Marin instructor, and Warner Philipp, Bay Area painter.

Two Fishermen Landed By Wardens In Marin

Two sports fishermen from San Francisco, caught with 29 striped bass when they were legally entitled to only six fish, were scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court this afternoon.

Game Wardens Alfred Giddings and Russell Ild said they caught Phillip Phillips, 39, a shipyard worker, and Carl R. Steder, 22, a cannery worker, with sackloads of fish in Richardson Bay near the Golden Gate Baptist Seminary last Saturday.

The game wardens said the two men fished in Racoon Straits and apparently had fabulous luck. Phillips and Steder kept making trips into Richardson Bay to leave sacks of fish hidden on the banks near the seminary.

At day's end, Phillips and Steder gathered up their hidden sacks of fish. The game wardens were waiting for them to help them count and weigh the catch. The 29 bass weighed 220 pounds.

Mill Valley Youth Group Asking For Pink Houses

Mill Valley's two "pink houses' are a bother to the city council but they look good to the Mill Valley Youth Activities Committee.

The committee's youth council today announced it will ask the city council to refrain from destroying the buildings pending a survey to see if they can be obtained for use for a youth center at nearby Project 17.

The city council on Oct. 17 turned down such a request from the youth committee, saying the buildings are inappropriate. The council gave notice that the houses must be moved by Nov. 22 or the city will destroy them.

The houses have been on blocks at East Blithedale Avenue and Camino Alto since August when a developer had them moved there to convert to professional offices. His plan fell through.

Richard Parino, secretary to the youth committee, said today the teen-agers would like the buildings inspected by Preston L. Canfield, city building inspector, and a "disinterested contractor" to see if they could be converted to a teen center.

"The fundamental need for the teen-agers is a clubhouse," the youth council has decided, said Parino. "By having something to start with immediately it could be demonstrated by their work and attitude that they would be worthy of larger and more elaborate quarters as needed."

Girl Thrown From Scooter Treated

Diane Carr, 18, of 61 Mirabel Drive, Mill Valley, was treated for cuts on her right arm Saturday at San Rafael General Hospital after she was thrown from a motor scooter on which she was a passenger.

Jose I. Wheelock of Larkspur, the driver, told San Rafael police he was eastbound on Mission Avenue at Lincoln Avenue when the scooter skidded and hit the divider strip at 8:46 p.m.

JFK Conference

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy will hold a news conference Thursday at 4 p.m. (EST).

Press secretary Pierre Salinger said he expected live television coverage of the president's first meeting with newsmen in six weeks, but he said none of the networks had time so far to make commitments.

Common bond ☆ Local news unites the community

News of the world is important. News of the county is essential.

For local news is the daily bread of communication which brings people together—even on controversial issues—and shuts out isolation.

Local news coverage, then, is the first function of your daily newspaper. Only by being informed on local issues and events can a community govern itself. Only through a fress press that reports all the news can local government become responsible to those who must do the governing—an informed people.

To put these events on paper for you, our city editor works with a staff of 18 reporters, desk men, correspondents and photographers—and with a sixth sense for news and its values.

Each community in Marin is covered. And not just events in politics. But the story of who married the girl next door . . . what the school board decided . . . where the new plant is going up in town—all the stories, big and little, which help a community to know itself.

To serve you, a newspaper must be more than a business. It must help create a common bond for all . . . by keeping every reader well-informed.

HANLEY

Elroy Hirsch is one of the nicest fellows you would want to meet. But old Crazy Legs, now general manager of the Rams, was talking through his hat when he said "there is more emotion wrapped up in pro football than there is in college ball."

Now, this may apply to some pro fans but Hirsch meant his estactic statement for the pros themselves. Hirsch doesn't realize it yet but he is a fan now, not a player. He was one of the coolest customers on the field in his playing days—emotionally detached—when catching passes from Bob Waterfield and Norm Van Brocklin.

Long ago George Halas discovered the difference between sitting in the stands watching the action and being on the field participating in the action. Periodically, Halas would relinquish his head coaching prerogatives of the Bears to Paddy Driscoll or Clark Shaughnessy and try to act like the owner of the team. Why did he go back to the sidelines a few years ago?

"I JUST couldn't take it any longer up there," Halas says. "Down on the field you're in the action and too busy to get all worked up emotionally, I really feel sorry for the fans. It's tougher on them than us."

Because Halas is a great story teller, a great showman and, incidentally, a very savvy man when it comes to football, we didn't attribute full faith and credit to his reason for once again moving Driscoll into an assistant's role.

IT TOOK Hank Sauer to convince us of the soundness of Halas' reason.

"Halas wasn't pulling your leg," said Hank. "I know from personal experience. When I was playing the outfield or at bat, I used to think fans were some kind of emotional nuts with all of their whistling and hollering in tight ball games.

"NOW, I'M THE same kind of nut — have been ever since my playing days ended and I began sitting in the stands. I find myself squirming in my seat, trying to put body English on a line drive I know is going foul. You don't have time for such stuff when you're on the field. You instinctively start after the ball, keeping after it if it is fair, pulling up if it sails foul.

Cal Soph A Smash Hit At Box Office

All hail California's Bears, the "best one-and-five team in the country!"

That's the latest appelation to be hung on Coach Marv Levy's gridders who have lost five out of six games this season but still expect to draw more than 50,000 at Berkeley this Saturday for their traditional against UCLA.

The original estimate had been 35,000. But then along came sophomore Craig Morton last Saturday who not only gave the Bears some great quarterbacking but an overnight drawing card even if they did lose to Penn State, 23-21.

Morton easily captured the "back of the week" award at yesterday's session of the Northern California Football Writers Assn. in San Francisco. Most of the scribes were present when Morton made his varsity debut by passing for three touchdowns against Penn State and netting a total of 285 yards gained to set a new Cal individual record.

The "lineman of the week" accolade went to end Frank Patitucci of Stanford who raced 82 yards for a touchdown with an airline fumble as the Indians were upsetting UCLA, 17-7.

Levy said that the last four games on Cal's slate constitute a new season.

"We're going after every one of them," Levy said. "You didn't need to look at the Penn State game films to know that Morton was great."

And an injured knee that had kept Morton out all season until the Nittany Lions came to town was tabbed as "medically 100 per cent," Levy learned from one of the quarterback's physicians.

Levy cautioned, however, that Morton could not be expected to come up every week with the kind of a performance he turned in against tough Penn State. And the Bear coach warned that UCLA is a good team despite its 2-2 mark.

"We're not counting on (quarterback) Larry Zeno to have another bad day as he did against Stanford," Levy said

Jack Curtice of Stanford rated the forthcoming Oregon game as "one of our toughest."

"Oregon has such stars as Mel Renfro and Bob Berry plus a good interior line," Curtice said. "As for us, our offense has picked up even if we were a little over-courteous to UCLA by fumbling the ball away so often."

Curtice was asked point blank if he thought his team could register two straight upsets.

"I've never played anybody yet when I didn't think I would have a chance to win," he countered. "When a person doesn't think in terms of winning, he's not much of a coach."

OTHER QUOTES: Bob Titchenal, San Jose State (0-6-1): "We've got to quit playing Santa Claus, and it had better happen quick because we don't have many games left. We'll try again against University of the Pacific." . . . Pat Malley, Santa Clara: "We were beaten 25-12 by Chico State which had looked terrible against Sacramento State. Now we look to bounce back against U.C. of Riverside Friday."

A RUN OF BASS AT KEZAR STADIUM

MAYS, CEPEDA

By HUBERT J. ERB

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Willie Mays is scheduled to check into a hospital today and Orlando Cepeda has an appointment with an eye doctor as the two right-handed slugging mainstays of the San Francisco Giants try to unravel the nature of physical ailments each claims plagued him during the 1962 season.

The two represent $135,000 worth of talent. Mays reportedly is the highest paid baseball player at $90,000 a year.

Willie, the 1950 "say hey" rookie who ever since has roamed center field for the Giants, said from midsummer on, "I'm tired. Awfully tired." He collapsed in the dugout in Cincinnati's Crosley Field on Sept. 12. He was hospitalized, missed four games but then sparked the club in its pennant playoff victory.

Mays is entering Mount Zion Hospital to start a complete series of physical tests. His doctor, Harold Rosenblum, said the results would be known Friday or Saturday.

Cepeda, 25, brawny Puerto Rican first baseman with a ready smile, says a doctor has told him he has a cataract on his right eye, a condition that produces a haze over the lens. He reiterated his earlier statement that the condition came to light when he took a driver's test.

FUZZY SIGHT

"Then the doctor told me I have a cataract. I don't know. I feel O.K. My right eye is kind of fuzzy. But I can see, like when I close my left eye, which is fine."

Between them, Mays and Cepeda drove in 255 runs during the 1962 National League season and his 84 home runs. Mays led the majors in homers with 49. He had 141 runs batted in. Last year Cepeda led the league in homers with 46 and RBI with 142.

In 1962 Mays hit .304 and Cepeda .306.

Neither did well in the World Series, eventually lost by the Giants to the New York Yankees. Willie started fast, hitting safely three times in the first game but didn't live up to his slugging reputation thereafter.

Cepeda went 0-for-12 before getting three hits in the Giants' sixth-game victory and, as Giants' President Horace Stoneham said, "was missing the ball by inches."

Chub Feeney, the Giants' vice president, talked to both men yesterday and said the club had ordered Cepeda to see opthalmologist Dr. George Campion. He said Mays had said nothing about going to the hospital.

"But if he hadn't done it on his own, we'd have sent him," Feeney said. "We might send him to our doctors anyway, depending on the outcome of the tests."

When Mays collapsed in Cincinnati, Giants' manager Alvin Dark said it was a case of mental and physical exhaustion.

"You've got to be a ball player to know what kind of a strain a pennant drive is," Dark said, "especially for a player like Willie, who always goes all out."

Troy Expects Rugged Battle With Huskies

LOS ANGELES (AP) — If the Southern California Trojans can beat Washington here Saturday, they should go through the season undefeated and wind up in the Rose Bowl.

But there are grave misgivings in the Trojan camp about the Huskies, who were held to a tie last Saturday by Oregon.

"We are going to have a real battle on our hands this time," says Coach John McKay of Southern California. "Mel Hein of our staff, who scouted Washington, tells me this is the best Husky team and the best running team he has EVER seen among the collegians."

Hein, who starred at Washington State before he became an All-Pro center with the New York Giants, says the Huskies have a powerful ground game that comes out in four, five and six-yard chunks.

McKay says Washington appears stronger, physically, than the Trojans, and that his team will try to win the game in the air. Their best weapon this season has been the forward pass, and the giant Hal Bedsole has been hard to handle for everyone.

The Trojans have two fine pitchers in quarterbacks Bill Nelsen and Pete Beathard, and Bedsole tops the receiving corps.

Washington threw only three passes against Oregon last week.

"We'll have to throw, and keep on throwing to win this game," said McKay, "and that's what we intend to do."

Southern California has been made a 2½-point favorite, probably on the basis that the Trojans are undefeated while Washington, also undefeated, has two ties.

McKay has coached two Trojan teams against Washington, losing 34-0 in the rain in 1960, and playing to a scoreless tie last year in a game in which the Huskies had a 50-yard touchdown pass called back for holding.

The Washington defense, undoubtedly capable, is going to get its severest test Saturday. Not only must it contain the Trojan running game but it must stop an aerial attack against which only one interception has been recorded in 97 throws.

Palmer Far Ahead In Money Parade

Gene Littler is in second place on the top 10 list released by the Professional Golfers' Assn. with $66,200 in 27 tournaments. But that still is more than $15,000 shy of the $81,448 Palmer has banked in 21 events.

Yanks To Rebuild Pitching Staff; Turley Sent To L.A.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bob Turley's conditional sale to the Los Angeles Angels was interpreted today as the first move by General Manager Roy Hamey in his announced plans to rebuild the New York Yankees' pitching staff.

After the Yankees knocked off the San Francisco Giants in the recent World Series, Hamey admitted that the champs got by all season with only seven pitchers. The other four members of the Yankee staff —Turley, Luis Arroyo, Tex Clevenger and Rollie Sheldon —were only of nominal value, according to Hamey.

Now Turley is gone and Clevenger and Sheldon may be next. Arroyo had some arm trouble this year, posting a disappointing 1-3 record, but the veteran relief pitcher is being counted on for a comeback next season.

"We're still trying to make a deal for a starting pitcher," Hamey said, "and we aim to get him."

Hamey was disappointed when the St. Louis Cardinals recently traded Larry Jackson to the Chicago Cubs because he figured the veteran right-hander was just the man he was seeking.

The Yankee G.M. still is trying to dredge a starter out of the National League. Failing this, he may turn to his own league and the Boston Red Sox, where Bill Monbouquette and/or Gene Conley might be available.

Turley's sale to the Angels rests on his ability to shake off the arm trouble that has hampered him for the last two seasons.

"If Bob is retained by the Angels on opening day of 1963, they will send us a mutually satisfactory player in return," Hamey said in announcing the transaction.

49er Lineup Uncertain; Two Injuries

REDWOOD CITY (AP) — Coach Red Hickey says he's uncertain whether there will be lineup changes when his San Francisco 49ers play the Baltimore Colts at Kezar Stadium Sunday.

Still smarting from Sunday's loss to Los Angeles, Hickey said, "We've got to check the injuries and talk over the situation."

Offensive tackle Bob St. Clair and offensive guard Ted Connolly were two of the injured doubtfuls. St. Clair has a rupture in the calf and Connolly is suffering from a pinched nerve.

Hickey watched films of the Rams game yesterday and then noted that the Los Angeles club deserved a better reputation than it received before whipping the 49ers.

Marin Baseballers Take 13-0 Victory

"Dons of Marin," a baseball team representing all of the county's high schools, chalked up its second win in three games in the San Francisco "A-A" midwinter league by clouting the Vaughn Liquors nine, 13-0, Sunday.

Dave Beswick of Marin Catholic allowed only four hits and struck out 15 batters. Batting leaders for the Dons were Larry Gerughty of Drake with four hits, Dave Perlis of College of Marin with a single and a triple and Beswick with a single and a double.

Wilt Leads Scoring, Rebounding In NBA

NEW YORK (AP)—A franchise shift from Philadelphia to San Francisco hasn't affected the scoring and rebounding prowess of the Warriors' Wilt Chamberlain in the early weeks of the 1961-62 National Basketball Assn. season.

League statistics showed today that Wilt the Stilt has accumulated 205 points in four games for a 51.2 average, exactly the same average he had at a corresponding period last year. Chamberlain has hauled down 120 rebounds, an average of 30 per game.

Walt Bellamy of the Chicago Zephyrs is runner-up to Chamberlain in the scoring race with 200 points and a 33.3 average. Elgin Baylor of the Los Angeles Lakers ranks third with 191 points for a 31.8 average. Both Bellamy and Baylor have played two more games than has Chamberlain.

Bellamy and Baylor also trail Wilt in the rebounding department. Each has snared 96 for a 16.0 average. Bill Russell of the Boston Celtics a perennial rebounding leader, has averaged 22.7 retrieves in three games.

Sam Jones of the Celtics has been the most accurate field goal shooter with a .618 percentage. Dave Gambee of the Syracuse Nats is the most effective free throw marksman with a perfect 13 for 13 and a 1,000 percentage from the foul line.

Guy Rodgers of the Warriors and Oscar Robertson of the Cincinnati Royals are tied for the most assist, 48. Rodgers, however has th best average, 12.0, as compared to 9.6 feeds per game by Big O.

FAIRFAX PRO IN FINALS OF PGA TOURNEY

MODESTO (AP) — Sacramento's Dave Bancourt and Leroy Silva of Fairfax meet today in 36 holes of match play golf for the Northern California PGA championship.

Bancour defeated Joe Zakarian, host pro of the del Rio Golf and Country Club, 7-and-5 yesterday. Silva topped Eddie Duino, Pleasanton, 2-up, in semi-finals matches. Silva is the professional at the Meadow Club.

Golden Gate Winner

USC Captain Is Lineman Of Week

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Damon Bame, Southern California defensive captain, was designated big six lineman of the week today, Executive Director Thomas J. Hamilton announced.

Bame, a major contributor to the defense that has made the Trojans a major football power this year, was selected for his work as linebacker in USC's 28-16 victory over Illinois Saturday.

The Trojan junior called the defensive game and repeatedly led the USC tacklers. He has called the defensive signals all season for his unbeaten team.

Big Baseball Project On Tiburon Peninsula

The culmination of a long-range plan for Little League and Pony League facilities on the Tiburon Peninsula is coming within sight, according to H. F. Green, Tiburon Peninsula Little League president. When the season opens next spring, well developed fields will be in use at both the Bel Aire and Del Mar Schools.

Although Judge Field will remain as the peninsula's main Little League field, its facilities can no longer meet the increasing needs of the 240 youngsters registered in Little League, as well as providing the facilities for the semi-pro games of the Tiburon Pelicans. The Bel Aire and Del Mar fields will supplement Judge Field in the program.

The Del Mar and Bel Aire development program has been a joint venture of Little League and the Reed Union School District resulting in mutual benefits, according to Green. Sparked by past president William F. Carroll, the project has been underway for more than a year with school and league authorities dividing the cost and the responsibility.

The necessity for cooperation stems from the fact that because of the topography of the peninsula, no flat land, except that belonging to the schools, is available and there are no public parks which can be used.

In addition the school district, because of budget restrictions, is unable to provide backstops, bleachers and other requirements for a complete Little League program.

With monies from community service funds and undistributed reserves the district supplied $1,500 for Del Mar Fields and $4,000 for Bel Aire, committing itself to the purchase of top soil, the materials for a sprinkler system and a promise to maintain and water the area once the turf was grown.

TOP QUALITY

The Little League has provided professionally drawn plans, architectural supervision and expert volunteer engineering and construction personnel to insure top quality for both fields. It also agreed to contribute the equipment and qualified labor necessary to grade the sites, install the sprinkler system and turf, provide backstops, dugouts, bleachers, fences and see the diamonds.

The league's estimated cost of $6,500 is being met through a fund campaign, sponsorships, dances, barbecues and an annual brunch sponsored by Brice Bros. Market.

As yet the Little League has not completed raising its financial commitment and has borrowed money which it is paying off in monthly installments. About $2500 is still to be raised to achieve solvency.

MAJOR EFFORT

The Del Mar field was completed last spring and was in use for the 1961 season. Bel Aire, the major effort, is currently being developed. Thousands of cubic yards of dirt have been moved and, last Saturday, a dozen volunteers turned out to start installing the sprinkler system which should be completed next weekend. The field will be ready for Pony and Little League games next Spring.

When completed the facilities will be used jointly by both the Little League and the school district under a contract for an indefinite period. The schools on which the sites are located will have prior rights to the diamond during the regular school hours for use as play areas. The Little League will have prior rights for certain days and hours during the Little League season, unless a special school event is scheduled. Otherwise the play areas will be open to the community at large.

GUIDING LIGHT

Green gives credit to Carroll as the guiding light in the entire project; to district superintendent Edward C. Pino for cooperation and to John C. Fitch, Bel Aire school principal, who has acted as the chief trouble shooter. Little Leaguers who have contributed most to the installation are Charles Estudillo, engineer, Paul Hantzsche, who has been in charge of major construction, and Robert MacCarthy, who is supervising the installation of the sprinkler system.

Cougars Dominate Big 6 Statistics Despite Setback

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Washington State was the most surprising loser of Big Six football teams last weekend, but two Cougars were the only players to retain their leads in the circuit's individual statistics.

Despite a 13-12 shocker at the hands of University of Pacific, Hugh Campbell held onto his pass receiving lead with 30 catches for the season. Bill Mathieson held onto his commanding total offense edge with 766 yards, 833 in the air and minus 67 on the ground.

Mathieson took the passing lead away from Cal's Larry Balliet. He has completed 58 of 113 and had only four intercepted.

George Reed became the new rushing leader with 287 yards in 72 carries, but lost his scoring lead to Hal Bedsole of USC, who has scored 44 points to Reed's 40.

Marin Golfer Is Sonoma Champion

Mat Palacio of Santa Venetia defeated Bill Mason of Mill Valley for the Club Championship of the Sonoma Golf and Country Club Sunday.

Palacio, former California and Kansas state amateur champion in the late 1930's, won the Sonoma championship with a 4 and 3 victory over Mason in the 36-hole tourney.

Mason was the Mill Valley city golf champion for five consecutive years and is former Marin amateur champ, and the North Bay champion. He won the club championship at the Sonoma Golf and Country Club in 1956 but couldn't repeat the win Sunday.

GRID RATINGS

Northwestern Voted No. 1 Troy Third

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Northwestern's Wildcats, current favorites to win the Big 10 championship, went into first place today in the national college football rankings.

Northwestern crushed Notre Dame 35-6 Saturday for its fifth straight victory and climbed past Alabama and Southern California in the weekly poll by the Associated Press.

For a school which has had little to cheer about in the past, Northwestern took its lofty ranking in stride. There were no demonstrations on the Evanston, Ill., campus and the players showed little concern.

"I don't believe Northwestern ever has been voted No. 1" said Coach Ara Parseghian. "Naturally it gives our boys a lot of pride."

PRIME OBJECTIVE

The Wildcats' prime objective is a Big 10 title they have not won in 26 years. Northwestern, however, must get by Indiana, Wisconsin and Michigan State on successive Saturdays to reach the goal.

Texas, the top team the last two weeks, dropped to fifth after being tied by Rice, 14-14. Alabama, the defending national champion, held second place following a 35-6 triumph over Tulsa.

The top 10 teams, with the first-place votes in parentheses, points on a 10-9-8, etc., bases:

POINTS

1. Northwestern (34), 494; 2. Alabama (15), 445; 3. Southern California (1), 351; 4. Louisiana State, 304; 5. Texas, 281; 6. Mississippi (1), 270; 7. Michigan State (1), 174; 8. Arkansas, 126; 9. Washington, 54; 10. Auburn, 50.

Judge Cracks Down On Poachers; Pheasant Season Opens On Nov. 10

STEVENS

In these days of ever-increasing costs it seems that everything is affected. We pay more for sardines, for shotgun shells and even for poaching. For example, in the old days a guy got caught with an illegal duck or goose or deer, a kind hearted judge slapped a 50-buck fine and told the culprit he was a naughty boy, and go and sin no more. Not so today.

No wonder poachers Warren Lucas and Larry Shull, of Campbell, are crying in their beer. All these two did was to kill two yearling does in the Mendocino National Forest. They carefully wrapped the animals in a tarp, and gloated over the feast to come.

But alack and alas, two other men, wardens both, tracked the hardy hunters for eight hours and bingo! Judge Glenn Evans in the Covelo justice court fined the boys $500 apiece, placed them on probation for three years, suspended a six-months jail sentence and took away their hunting licenses and deer tags. Oh yes, the deer were taken away from them, also.

A READER called me the other day asking where would be a good spot to hunt pheasants last Saturday. Claimed he had read that the season opened on that day.

Not in California, it didn't. The season opens on Nov. 10. Runs through Nov. 25 in our section of the state, but to Dec. 9, down south.

I opine what my caller read was the opening date for pheasants in Nebraska. Pheasants opened on the 27th of October in that mid-western state (and runs through January 20—the longest season in United States).

SPEAKING OF hunting pheasants, Dick Shaffer of Nebraskaland informs that permits to hunt from out-of-state nimrods have come, so far, from 37 different states.

Schaffer also reports, however, that due to extremely high growth of vegetative cover, all hunters will have a toughter time finding and flushing the ringnecks. Could be that the wise guy will wait a few weeks before heading for Nebraska.

GENERALLY SPEAKING, shooting was good on all the state-managed waterfowl areas. The four areas that opened on the 21st did better than many expected. Especially Mendota where there were 352 vacancies. On Saturday, 699 hunters took 3,042 ducks for an average of 4.6, and that's about as close as you can come to legal limits. (The figures include six coots.) At Grizzly Island, the average was 2.3; at San Luis Wasreway it was 4.1; and at Los Banos 3.8. Not perfect, but pretty good, eh?

Sunday's take was a bit under the averages, with Los Banos dropping to 2.3, San Luis Wasteway to 2.4, Mendota to 3.3, and Grizzly Island came last with just over one bird per hunter.

FISHING HAS maintained the status quo. I will report on current conditions in my next. Until then, goodbye, good luck and go get 'em!

Warriors Vs. Knicks In S.F. Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Warriors return home tonight against the New for a change they'll have to play just 48 minutes of basketball.

The Warriors split their two-game road trip, but played their second and third consecutive overtime games. They're now 3-1 in the National Basketball Assn.'s Western Division, a half game behind the St. Louis Hawks.

The Knicks are 2-4 in the Eastern Division. They feature a flock of players who played college ball on the West, including Willie Naulls from UCLA, Ken Sears from Santa Clara and John Rudometkin from Southern California.

The game is at University of San Francisco's Memorial Gymnasium, 8:15 p.m.

Pender Title Bout Reset For Nov. 15

BOSTON (AP)—A heavy cold suffered by challenger Jose Torres wrote a new chapter today in the tortuous trial of title defenses by partial middleweight champion Paul Pender.

Pender, who was to risk his version of the 160-pound crown this Friday night at Boston Garden against the unbeaten Puerto Rican, now must wait until Nov. 15.

The latter is the date set by promoter Sam Silverman yesterday after a series of secret conferences with both camps.

While Torres' cold was the official reason given for the postponement, Silverman revealed another. On Nov. 15, the Pender-Torres fight will be followed by a closed-circuit showing of the Archie Moore-Cassius Clay heavyweight bout in Los Angeles.

By such a combination the promoter hopes to gain a bigger box office for a fight which lost some of its luster after the Dick Tiger-Gene Fullmer brawl in which the former won the title recognized in 50 states.

Pender, 31, recognized as champ in Massachusetts, New York and Europe, reluctantly agreed to the delay. He closed down his North Falmouth, Mass., training camp, returned to his Brookline home and announced he'll do the rest of his work in the Boston area.

Postponement is the word Pender knows best. He has lost four dates with Fullmer, three of which had been set to clear up the title picture. Fullmer just didn't show in Boston for a fight before either reached the champion level.

Rejuvenated Seals Face Hot Vancouver

VANCOUVER (AP)—The rejuvenated San Francisco Seals run into the Western Hockey League's hottest club tonight at Vancouver.

The Seals, in a three-way tie for the Southern Division lead, face a Canucks club that is 6-1 and already four points ahead in the Northern Division race. San Francisco is 4-6.

Waterfield Still Insecure In Job

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Bob Waterfield, Los Angeles Rams' football coach, says he doesn't know whether his job status has changed since his club beat San Francisco for its first victory of the National Foodball League season.

"It's nice to be a winner for a change," Waterfield told the Football Writers Assn. Monday, "but I don't know if I feel any more secure than I did the week before."

Voters' President Says Women MUST Go Into Politics

(EDITOR: Gay Pauley is on special assignment gathering material for the woman's view column. In her absence, authorities in the women's news field will be guest columnists. Today, Mrs. Jerome A. Schack, president, League of Women Voters of New York City, discusses why women should go into politics.)

By MRS. JEROME A. SCHACK,

NEW YORK (UPI) — Why should women go into politics, you ask. Why indeed:

Women MUST go into politics. And, let it be said, so must more of the men.

This country needs all the brain power it can command. It need a citizen body that not only can, but will, understand the problems with which the country must deal and then seek and support logical solutions.

Politics determines the character of our government and the government, in turn, affects almost every aspect of our lives.

Only the un-reconstructed feminist wants to be dealt with as a woman when it comes to politics. Today's woman has learned that she must be politically "hep" if she is to be effective. She is learning who and what makes the wheels of government turn and how to put the heat on when necessary.

TODAY'S WOMAN wants to be and is becoming a politician. She wants to be regarded as an intelligent citizen and neither wants nor expects special treatment because of her sex.

It cannot be said that the old line politicians have greeted this attitude of women with great delight. It's doubtful, however, that they would be any happier if large numbers of men suddenly took an interest in political affairs.

THE OLD-FASHIONED political leader welcomes the "green horn," the "do-gooder," and women during the heat of the campaigns, but hopes they will disappear immediately after election day.

In recent years, women have not retreated at the end of election campaigns to traditional female concerns.

INSTEAD, they have stayed in the club houses, have fought for, and, in some cases, won the right to participate in political decisions. Others have joined such organizations as the League of Women Voters and have fought for, and in some cases won, major governmental reforms.

None of this has been easy.

SUCCESS STORIES of women politicians and women's civic organizations will continue to require years of hard and dedicated work. And, will require bitter fights against prejudice of politicians in general and woman politicians in particular.

WHICHEVER avenue for political activity they take, women are in the political arena to stay. They are interested in everything from space exploration, Cuba, world trade and business cycles to the cost of living, schools and the draft status of their men.

Robert Forsyths Are Given Housewarming In Tiburon

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Forsyth (Loa Bacigalupi) who recently moved in their beautiful new home in Lyford's Cove, Tiburon were given a surprise house warming recently by a group of San Rafael friends. The Forsyths lived for many years in San Rafael. Loa is a third grade teacher at Bel Aire School in Tiburon. Her husband owns the Forsyth Dental Laboratory in San Rafael.

Among those attending were: Messrs. and Mesdames Rich Rich, Frank Ench, William McDevitt, Edward Kaenel, William Seegar, Carl Schieck, Joe Petersen, W. C. Cornwell, Guido Todaro, Robert O'Brien, Miss Marie Caletti and Dr. George Fuller.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM R. BATEY of Marin Bay entertained at a cocktail party Saturday night before the barn dance at Peacock Gap Country Club. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Carol Snyker, co-chairmen of the dance and Dr. and Mrs. John Beales, Messrs. and Mesdames Hale Wiss, Jock Dawe, Paul Jensen, Nathan Pinkus, Robert Finley, Roy Claxton, Frank Tavel, Mike Lescander, Robert Carpenter and Mr. Deane Cooke.

For the barn dance, bales of hay were at the club entrance. Saddles and bridles were in a corner of the lounge and the decor was completed throughout the clubhouse with brightly colored autumn leaves. A breakfast was served at midnight. Mrs. Fred Alston and Mesdames Pinkus and Dawe were in charge of decorations.

PATRICIA ANN Blaskover, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard B. Blaskover of Ross, reached the semi-finals of the 1962 Eastern Collegiate Tennis Tournament for Women. She represented Vassar College, Poughkeepsie, N. Y. at the tournament. Patricia, a graduate of Katharine Branson School, is a member of Vassar Class of 1966.

A LONG WEEKEND at Del Monte Lodge, Pebble Beach was enjoyed by eight Marin County couples. The Rudy Langs, Henry Skinners and LeRoy Pages went to Del Monte Wednesday. The others, Dr. and Mrs. Harry Hensler, the Richard Tissots, Mel Wolfs, Floyd Gilmans and Charles Trosts drove to the Monterey Peninsula Friday and all the couples were back in Marin Sunday night. Both men and women played golf and the men staged a tournament which Floyd Gilman won. Dominoes and bridge were the pastimes at the lodge.

THE FIRST CHILD of Sgt. and Mrs. Daniel Dunlap of Tiburon has been named Kevin Mitchell.

The baby's father is stationed at Hamilton Air Force Base and the little one was born at the bast hospital last week. The baby's mother, the former Margo Mitchell, is the daughter of Mrs. James Mitchell of Tiburon, formerly of Lenerkshire, Scotland. The paternal grandmother, Mrs. Georgina Dunlap, lives in Texas.

MRS. SIDNEY RUDY will honor her co-workers for Hadassah's golden anniversary buffet supper dance at a tea Thursday at her Kent Woodlands home. The supper dance will be held Saturday night at Temple Rodef Sholom .Among those at Mr. Rudy's tea will be Mesdames Philander Beadle, Louis Roth, Fred Pechner, Jack Herscowitz, William Rubin, Sol Langsam, Andrew Rosen, Rachelle Zwonkin, Fred Wellen, Daniel Chaffin, Frank Battat, Ernest Silverfield, Edward Finston, Benjamin Berkow, David Resnick, Richard Wagner, Milton Fleischman, Fredrick Kerr, Walter Fink and Saul Smith.

NEW VOGUE FOR WOMEN, THE CIGAR

LOS ANGELES, (UPI)—As if the plunging neckline and caused enough controversy high hem line haven't in feminine fashion circles, a new accessory may further complicate the ideal vision of womanhood—the cigar.

The Cigar Institute of America, noted in the past for staunchly opposing the smoking of cigars by women, has done an about face.

The institute's president Eugene L. Raymond has gone on record as encouraging the invasion of the woman into this previously all-male pleasure "providing women smoke cigars in keeping with their femininity."

Raymond said the Corona-sized stogies were out for lady cigar smokers, and urged women to stock to the small cigars just slightly larger than a cigarette.

Explaining his organization's turnabout on the issue Raymond said, "When you can't lick 'em, join 'em.

Red Cross Enrollment To Begin

November is enrollment month in the American Red Cross for Marin youth from public, private, and parochial schools. Students in senior high schools will become members of High School Red Cross, and those in elementary schools, members of Junior Red Cross.

For the second year, the enrollment campaign will be headed by a high school student, Mike Boss, from Marin Catholic High School. Under his direction, the high school Red Cross County Council will plan and carry out the campaign.

Junior and High School Red Cross programs, operated with separate funds, are used to build a bridge of understanding between children of all nations, creeds, and colors. In addition to international programs, there is an opportunity for children's service both in community endeavors and to children with physical or mental handicaps.

Contributions from students at the time of enrollment are deposited by the teacher-sponsor with the chapter treasurer and make up the chapter high school and junior Red Cross Service Fund. The money pays enrollment fees, supports local service projects and contributes to the American Red Cross Children's Fund which makes possible the gift box program.

Theaters Must Stress Conduct To Insure The Best Behavior

(Q) "There is a nice little neighborhood theater near our home. My children go to the Saturday matinees; occasionally, I take them to evening shows. During the past six months the conduct of the boys and girls has deteriorated. Now they run up and down in the aisles and scream at the wrong times. The older ones pet openly. The big boys even tear up the seats. The manager is an ineffective person. He says he is powerless to stop them. What do you suggest?"

Mrs. D.L.

(A) Ask the manager to go to the principals of your nearby schools, the P.T.A. presidents and the officer in charge of the nearest police precinct station. He should tell them what is happening. With their help he, or someone else, should set up a temporary theater conduct committee. Bulletins can be prepared and sent home through the schools, stressing good behavior. The police can cooperate by taking troublemakers home, and laying the law down to their parents. The worst of the kids might need a trip to Juvenile Hall. However, if all the people concerned will work together they can improve the children's conduct overnight. I've seen it happen many times.

(Q) "Our girl is in the fifth grade. She gets straight "A" marks in all the subjects. Her teacher and principal want her to skip to the sixth grade. Then she can start junior high school next year. She is very anxious to do it. Should we say yes?

Mrs. N.R.

(A) Check these questions carefully first: Is she big for her age? Does she seem mature? Does she enjoy being with the slightly older children? Has she already mastered information and skills taught in the fifth grade? Is her IQ well above the average? If the answers are yes, let her go ahead. Years ago schools skipped pupils carelessly. Far too many were moved ahead and some lives were ruined by it. That caused a reaction which was so strong that for a long time skipping was completely abandoned. Now schools are working toward a more reasonable position. A few bright, hard working boys and girls are moved ahead after careful study. The results are excellent.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

Woman In Kentfield Is Selling Candy, Ice Cream And Antiques

Unusual retail combination: Candy, Ice cream — and antiques. But it seems to be working out satisfactorily for Kay's of Kentfield, newly opened store of Mrs. George Fossey at 943 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield. This is in the same building that houses Michelle Craig, women's wear.

Mrs. Fossey, a former newspaperwoman, has secured the Marin franchise for Edy's candy and ice cream, uses extra store space for old porcelain and china pieces. Husband George is with Cal-Wide Realty.

BROTHERS Milton and Richard Schwartz of Casa Marin Furniture Co., San Rafael have returned from a week of looking over new selections at the Southern Furniture Exposition in Highpoint, N.C.

The South accounts for 64 per cent of wood bedroom furniture, 54 per cent of wood dining room furniture and 35 per cent of upholstered pieces, according to the Department of Commerce.

More for the money and a wide variety in early American, French provincial, Italian provincial and classic, 18th Century English, contemporary, Scandinavian and transitional styles is the report on fall showings.

DIRECTOR Joseph M. Cullen of Internal Revenue for the San Francisco district, announces that residents who suffered property damage as a result of recent storms in Northern California may deduct casualty losses on federal income tax returns under certain conditions.

Deductible casualty losses, he said, include losses of property resulting from fire, storm, flood, automobile accident, hurricane or similar event—complete or partial destruction. Generally speaking, it must have been caused by an identifiable event of a sudden, unexpected or unusual nature.

On personal or non-business property, the loss is computed by comparing decrease in the fair market value with the adjusted basis. The loss, for tax purposes, is the lesser of these amounts. From this must be subtracted insurance or other compensation received or expected. Remainder is deductible as a non-business casualty loss.

PATTERSON AND HALL, a commercial art service in San Francisco but owned and staffed by several Marinites, recently received the "SCORE" award in Chicago for the outstanding annual report design of the year. The award was based on the firm's production of the 1961 Bank of America's annual staff report.

Chet Patterson lives in Greenbrae; Haines Hall lives in Kent Woodlands; Tom Hall is a resident of Terra Linda; Jim Hasse and Milt Ghee with the firm are of San Rafael and Corte Madera.

G. RAYMOND KALLMAN of San Rafael has been named assistant advertising manager of Schlage Lock Co., San Francisco. He joined the firm in 1957; has been art director for the past three years.

KEITH M. ASKEW of San Anselmo spent last week in Hartford, Conn., representing the Pacific department of the Hartford Insurance Group at a conference of company officials from all over the U.S. and Canada. He is assistant manager in San Francisco for nine western states, Alaska and Hawaii.

Insurance Firm 'Not Dragging Feet' In Mill Valley Plan

Occidental Life Insurance Co. of California declared today it is not "dragging its feet" with the City of Mill Valley with regard to closing out its insurance contract with city employees so they may switch to a pension plan with the California State Retirement System.

Further holdup is expected, however, in effective date of the state plan, adopted in August by the city council to become effective Oct. 1.

Occidental has written to City Manager A. E. Almcrants that it has no plans to make a cash payment to the city of $90,154 in acturial reserves since it is not provided in the contract. It proposes the money go into the state plan in paid-up annuities.

Almcrants said he doubts if this can be done since the two plans are different. Occidental's plan covers only a portion of employees. The state's plan is to cover all employees.

He added that the state plan cannot become effective until Occidental turns over the funds.

Bringing Up Baby®

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

Toddlers are by nature inquisitive and acquisitive. (Ever know one who didn't want everything he could lay his hands on?) And somehow, your favorite "what-nots" are always most desirable. A few helps to satisfy baby's curiosity . . . spare your breakables and your patience:

- Let baby have safe things to inspect. Pots 'n pans have great play and put-together value.
- It's wise to remove non-touchables before baby sees them. Be surprised how this cuts down "no-no's."

Thumbs down. You can cut down excessive thumbsucking if you: (1) provide toys and play 2-way games that require the use of both hands; (2) distract your toddler with a finger-food snack.

New, nutritious snack or main course! Gerber Meat Sticks . . . the fine-and-dandy finger food for toddlers. These delicious baby sausages are made from selected Armour Pork and Beef, plus nonfat dry milk. The happy result? Flavor galore . . . quality protein to spare. More protein, far less fat than regular sausages. P.S. Gerber Meat Sticks make wonderful sandwich fillings for older children.

Shoe cue. Toddlers dearly love to do things with their hands. Why not give your pet a pair of outgrown shoes to play with? He'll have fun trying to lace 'em, acquire deftness to boot.

How 'Common' Can You Get?

NILES, Ohio (UPI)—When Mrs. Alvin Jones chose "What's in a Name" as the topic for her guest spot at a Book Review Club meeting she discovered just how much she had in common with a host of people across the nation.

In listing the standings of the common surnames in the United States, she learned that JONES is numbered fifth in the nation and the name ANDERSON is rated eighth.

Marinite Helping Bring Two Asti's Together

A San Rafael resident has provided the spark which is bringing Asti, Italy, and its namesake in Sonoma Counay together in a friendship program.

Mrs. G. V. Thring of 320 Third Street, San Rafael, a native of the Italian town, which is located in a northern wine-growing province, returned from a visit to Italy.

She proposed to officials of Italian Swiss Colony Wine in Asti, Sonoma County, a sister city program with its namesake because they seemed to have more than their names in common.

The idea was taken up by city officials and plans to exchange wines of the two regions for sampling and cultural and historical information are being studied.

Mrs. Thring met with city officials in Asti, Italy, on her visit. Also attending the meeting was Leon Adams of Tiburon, a writer and wine authority.

Immigrants from the region of Asti settled in Northern Sonoma County and gave the city there its iname.

The last official contact between the two communities was in 1898 when Italian Swiss Colony wines won gold medals at a wine exposition in Asti.

Strong Man Is Needed As State's Lieutenant Governor

The office of lieutenant governor in California is at present a sterile position. Its legislative power as speaker of the Senate was emasculated several years ago. Its administrative powers are dependent upon the whims of the governor. Only as member of boards and commissions does it have its own authority, and here it is diluted by other members of the boards and commissions.

In such a situation, the job of lieutenant governor can become only as important as the ability and leadership of the man who holds the office and the cooperation, respect and confidence that the governor has in his lieutenant governor.

Unhappily, in California today we have a poor situation in all respects. The man in the office is not strong in himself, has little leadership ability, has practically no cooperation, respect or confidence from the governor's office.

As a result, although he advertises himself as the "hardest working man in Sacramento," (a boast some of his coworkers in the Capitol resent) his hardest work has been to find something to do.

Happily, there is a remedy for this situation.

A candidate for the office of lieutenant governor is George Christopher, mayor of San Francisco. We have not always favored the mayor's activities; sometimes we felt him so overzealous in his determination to serve San Franciscans that he overlooked the interests of Marinites.

But he has shown tremendous leadership ability, rugged determination and insatiable drive.

His combination of political experience and that of a businessman has given him an insight into the difference between beaurocracy and efficiency.

He is quite capable of stepping up to governor if called upon to do so, an eventuality which even the Democrats look to with apprehension with the incumbent lieutenant governor.

All in all, he's the kind of a man we'd like to see in Sacramento.

We recommend George Christopher for lieutenant governor.

Apple Cider Season

Gallon jugs of golden apple cider appear in Marin food stores each year around Halloween.

As an adjunct to the "dreadful night," apple cider is as necessary as Jack-o-lanterns and horror masks. On a warm day a glass of cool cider transports us to a cool shaded orchard. On a chilly evening nothing is quite so delightul as a cup of hot, spiced apple cider.

Those of us with stomachs and tastebuds full of pits and corrosion caused by stronger drink might be pleasantly surprised with the smooth, fruity taste of fresh cider.

Surprisingly, fresh cider is believed by some competent medical men to contain an unknown, natural tranquillizer. Generations of frontier Americans knew of the tranquillizing effect of cider that had been allowed to "set" for a while.

MARIN LOOKS AT POLITICS

Campaign Has Quieted Down In Marin Except For Schools Battle

By CHAPIN A. DAY

'CHIP' DAY

Next week by this time you should have voted and within a few hours we should have a pretty good idea of the election results. These last few days of the campaign actually have become rather quiet for most of the party workers in Marin County. The tragic air crash eliminated a contest in the race for Congress; the call-up of the Air Force Reserve units took the Democratic candidate for Assembly back into uniform, and the Cuban crisis has practically eliminated Gov. Edmund G. Brown from his last-minute campaigning.

Of course we still have the bitter battle for state superintendent of public instruction, one of the nastiest, mud-slinging affairs we've seen in many years.

Dr. Max Rafferty, speaking Sunday to a group gathered on the cruise boat "Barbary Coast," said he expects a last-minute attack from supporters of Dr. Ralph Richardson. He predicted that in the last three or four days of the campaign it would be charged he had been a patient in a mental hospital in Southern California last month. Of course it's not true, he said, but watch for the smear. He did not say how he found out it will take place.

Dr. Rafferty talks tonight at a dinner meeting in the Corte Madera Recreation Center. If you want to hear him and can't get there for a beef and spaghetti meal, he's scheduled to talk about 8 p.m.

IN THE LAST weeks we're hearing from the minority parties too.

We've had a couple of communications from and about Dr. Robert L. Wycoff. You may remember him as the gubernatorial candidate of the Prohibition Party about which I wrote a couple of columns at the time of their annual state convention last August.

He's asking for votes for the "American (Prohibition) Party." That's the way he phrases it because he wants to change its name. On the ballot it will be Prohibition Party.

His major objective is not to get elected, but to keep the party on the ballot. He needs to get 2 per cent of the vote to do it. He's trying by saying there's no difference between the candidates and the major parties, so why not vote Prohibition?

AND THERE IS the Constitution Party, which always appears about this time of year. It's big pitch is a write-in campaign for R. C. Irvine for governor.

In case you've forgotten, the Constitution Party wants the sale of all government property back to individuals, repeal of the income tax, repeal of the inheritance tax, opposition to "compulsion where labor is involved," local control of schools, take the government out of loan and all other business in conflict with free enterprise.

And then there's the Committee For The Preservation Of The Democratic Party in California; but Roger Kent is suing them already.

PROBABLY THE LAST chance for Marinites to see Richard M. Nixon in person in action before the election is tomorrow night (Halloween) when he will be main attraction at a rally in Santa Rosa's Veterans Memorial Auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

Cuba Crisis Has United Americans

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

As the Cuban crisis continues to dominate the thoughts of most of the citizenry of the nation, not to mention the world, the unification of all patriotic Americans is significant.

It is soul satisfying to see Democrats and Republicans forget their party affiliations long enough to turn with one accord towards the ugly face of communism and shake their fists, yelling: "We've had enough. You have pushed me as far as we have allowed. It is enough."

The nationalistic feeling is strong at this time, and the times make it necessary.

Larkspur-Corte Madera
School Board
Larkspur

Does the Larkspur-Corte Madera School Board plan to abolish the common cold from public schools?

At the board meetings of Oct. 9 and 23, some board members expressed concern over the minutes lost each week of regular school work by children being released for religious instruction. They expressed their concern for the following reasons: 1. Release time interrupted classroom routine; 2. Teacher could not introduce new material with some of their class absent; 3. Classes were being held back due to these absences.

What happens in our classrooms when three children are ill, or two are out having school music lessons, or nine are out to an opera, or six are practicing band or orchestra, or the milk girls and boys have left the room?

I can't believe that the teachers despair and don't go on teaching the remaining children—I can't believe that we don't have capable and able teachers who CAN manage to carry on!

My understanding of school policy regarding absences is that when a child misses his regular school work, it is HIS job as well as the teacher's to see that he gets the lesson assignments missed and that his classmates need not suffer for HIS cold, HIS music lesson, HIS religion, etc. etc.

Am I mistaken in this, or does the board have TWO policies—one for religious release time and one for other absences? Surely the board isn't planning to devise a complicated schedule over such a common thing!

What alarms me is the inherently sterile approach of measuring education by minutes—what amount of time equals an excellent education? Has the board forgotten that in our "affluent society" we have many technical devices and gadgets—our need is for literate, thinking human beings to man them—not just "globs" that have had an "X" amount of time poured into them—and that if these literate, thinking human beings have picked up a little understanding and tolerance along the way—that we stand to gain as a nation rather than lose?

Draws Cynical Conclusion

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

This is the first time I have written a letter of this type, but I feel it involves a very important and ethical point which should be made.

This afternoon (Oct. 27) I took three little children to the Sequoia Theater in Mill Valley to see the movie, "Lady and the Tramp." We had been previously disappointed when the feature ran at the Rafael Theater a couple of weeks ago, and the youngsters (ages 4-6) were especially anxious after waiting in line on two separate occasions, to see the picture.

We waited a total of 45 minutes this time, and would have been seated easily had it not been for the "cut-ins" of about a hundred other children and their parents.

In many cases, parents deposited the children (many in costume) by the carload, and these boys and girls joined others ahead of us in line whom they knew.

As the number of available seats grew small, I saw parents pushing up to the box office and buying tickets (having actually formed a separate "line" of their own), and then instructing their children to "march right up to the door and give the man your tickets."

Just in front of us was a mother and two boys from San Rafael. The boys wanted to do the same thing (after all, an "adult" had set the example) but their mother steadfastly refused to allow them to join the "hoodlums" (my description). So they too missed getting in, as we did, by a few seats.

The important thing about this experience was not the fact that many children were unable to see the picture, after waiting almost an hour in line. Had the affair been run fairly, it would merely have been a lesson in learning to take disappointment cheerfully.

But, my children and those of the lady ahead of me, understandably concluded that "next time, we'll crowd ahead, too." None of our theoretical and moral explanations got through to them. All they could say was: "But, they got to see the movie!"

I hope some of the children and parents involved in this shameful incident see this letter and blush.

I trust the management of the Sequoia will also. I realize financially they couldn't care less, since they filled every seat and got their profit regardless of how the line moved. But, I feel that the theater management had a moral responsibility to see that justice was served and could have done so by having someone police the line, especially since they admitted to me that they were well aware of the situation.

What pains me the most, however, is the cynical conclusions we all were forced to draw concerning present-day moral standards, and the effect this will have on future generations.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

W. C. Fields was host one evening at his Hollywood hacienda to a group of convivials that included Robert Benchey,, Roland Young and Jack Barrymore—all past masters at the gentle art of bending an elbow. The liquor supply gave out—scant wonder—and the party decided to move on to another oasis down the road.

Fields' swimming pool lay in their path. "Let's walk across," suggested Mr. Fields. The entire gathering thereupon walked solemnly into the pool, sank like plummets, and were rescued by kindly and totally unsurprised neighbors.

Veteran raconteur Harry Hershfield tells of a dictator who ordered one of his victims to receive 50 lashes on his bare back. The victim bribed the lash-wielder to take it easy. For 49 strokes, the wielder stuck to his bargain, but the 50th stroke was so wicked that it sent the victim reeling.

The victim screamed, "You broke your bargain! Why?" The weilder told him, "I wanted you to realize what a bargain you got!"

Novato City Runs On Even Though All Top Brass Goes To Convention

Who runs the city?

That might be a good question to ask after observing Novato last Monday.

Mayor M. E. Silva and Councilmen Lucile Cannon and Howard Schoof attended the League of California Cities convention in Los Angeles. With them were City Administrator J. Julien Baget, who is also the city clerk, and Chief of Police Roy McLeran.

In addition, the deputy city clerk had the day off.

In short, there wasn't anyone of supreme authority in the City Hall to run the government.

So what happened?

Nothing.

Everyone else did his job as usual. No crisis arose. No problems were unsolved. The city did not come apart at the seams.

Let this be a lesson to them. They had better not try that too many times, or people will begin to think that their services aren't essential to running the city.

LAST SPRING I wrote a feature story about some baby ducks that were being cared for by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Morley Jr., of 565 Sunset Parkway, Novato.

A mother mallard duck had just hatched her brood near Highway 101 and the Black Point cutoff. She started across 101 just during the rush hour. A car killed her and two of her babies.

Highway Patrolman Theodore E. McGuire of Santa Venetia caught the ducklings. Morley asked for them and was given the ducklings to take home where he had a shallow concrete pond for them.

When the story was written, the ducks were thriving under the Morley's care. But like so many wild creatures, they were not resistant to diseases of civilization. They contracted a fungus disease of poultry. Only three of them grew up.

Then the Morleys took these three to Calistoga where friends of theirs had a ranch with a stream and pond. There the three were given their freedom.

I wish I could report that they are still there enjoying life, but that is not the truth. One of them flew away with some wild ducks. One disappeared, probably the victim of some predator, which left only one lone duck on the pond at the ranch.

AFTER NOVATO Police Department moved into the old Presbyterian Church manse, I tried for two months to find the history of the two trees in the front of the building. Local inquiry led me nowhere.

Finally I got a lead that took me to Hilda MacDonald in Forestville. She wrote me the history of the trees, which I quoted in this column two weeks ago. In it she said that the two Irish yew trees were planted right after the manse was built in 1915.

The ink wasn't dry on the paper when I received a call from Mrs. William Hanen of 908 Sherman Avenue. She said that the trees were planted in 1934, and not in 1915.

So I am passing this along, too.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Kennedy And Republicans Both In Line To Lose In The Election

SALT LAKE CITY — When it comes to choosing the 88th Congress on Nov. 6, the outlook is that the voters are going to be perverse.

The way the Congressional campaign is now going there is every probability that President Kennedy and the Republicans are both going to lose.

Barring the most unexpected developments, the prospects now are:

THAT DEMOCRATS will lose enough seats in the House to put into total jeopardy the President's New Frontier legislative program, much of which failed to pass the 87th Congress.

That Republicans will fail to gain enough seats to demonstrate anything more than anemic party strength in the off-year voting when, by all the norms of politics, the party out of office should make substantial gains.

SUCH A RESULT — that is, the loss of as few as six to 10 Democratic seats—would be a serious blow to the administration. It would be a rejection of Kennedy's early participation in the congressional campaign—a far more active participation than any President since Woodrow Wilson tried to elect a pro-League of Nations Congress in 1918. More than that, it would mean the election of a Congress less responsive to the President's leadership than the one which has already defeated him so often, and more conservative.

Such a result—that is, the failure of the Republicans to gain at least 25 to 30 House seats—would be a serious blow to the Republicans. It would mean that the strength of the Democratic Party, whether pro-Kennedy or anti-Kennedy, would have proved itself pretty much unshatterable.

All this is why I report that it looks as though the voters are going to prove to be rather perverse this fall.

Most of the evidence suggests that the shape of the new Congress will appreciably hurt the President without appreciably helping the Republicans.

IT IS ONLY in the governorship contests that the Republican prospects are promising. Here the Republicans have their best chances. They will almost certainly make significant gains and may score something near to a nationwide sweep in the populous states.

If this should happen, it will be noteworthy that in nearly all of these states — New York, Pennsylvania, Michigan, California—it will be the progressive, activist Republican leaders whose appeal extends far beyond party ranks who would be the big winners.

Better Plan To Stop, Think, Work To Make The Most Of Your Cards

There is a happy land, far far away, where you never have to work for your tricks.

Until you move to that land, however, you'd better plan to stop, think, and work to make the most of your cards.

East won the first trick with the queen of diamonds and contentedly led the ace of diamonds next.

This made for contentment all around; South made the contract, and nobody noticed that East had muffed the defense.

SOUTH RUFFED

South ruffed the second diamond and led a trump to West's ace. Declarer took the club return, drew two more rounds of trumps and tried a heart finesse.

Back came another club to dummy's ace, and South tried another heart finesse.

When the king of hearts appeared, South was home.

WORK IT OUT

You can work it out if you take the East seat and concentrate on just your own hand and the dummy. You win the first trick with the queen of diamonds and ask yourself how you can get three additional tricks to defeat the contract.

You don't expect to win a second diamond trick in view of West's raise and the fall of the jack. If West has nothing in hearts, your king will be useless, and your partner will have to take three tricks all by himself.

This is impossible, since West would have bid more if he had held so strong a hand.

ONLY HOPE

The only hope is that West has something in hearts.

Hence you switch at the second trick to the king of hearts. South must win the trick and lead a trump, but West takes the ace of spades and the queen of hearts, after which he leads his last heart to give you a ruff.

Your ruffing trick defeats the contract, but you had to work for it.

ALMANAC

Today is Tuesday, Oct. 30, the 303rd day of 1962 with 62 to follow.

The morning star is Mars.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1948, an Army transport from Germany arrived in New York City with the first refugees to arrive in the United States under the Displaced Persons Act of 1948.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Many Experts Talk Like Farmers When It Comes To Predicting Flu

VAN DELLEN

Many health authorities talk like farmers when it comes to predicting an epidemic of influenza. Asian flu crops out in two or three year cycles. This coming winter will be the third since the last outbreak in the U.S. and it is natural to suspect another epidemic.

There is another clue. Last spring isolated cases of Asian flu occurred in many parts of the country. Such spring seeding, as it is called, usually is the forerunner of fall and winter outbreaks. The influenza virus goes into hibernation during warm weather and comes to life with cold, damp days.

BUT HEALTH authorities can be as wrong as those who forecast the weather. The epidemic may fizzle out or never get started if our population has acquired immunity through contact with the A2 virus during the two previous epidemics or via the flu vaccine. There is no simple way to determine whether immunity exists and it is safer and easier to get the vaccine than to take a chance of becoming a statistic.

In late 1957 and early 1958, the first wave of Asian flu struck a susceptible population and the number of deaths above the normal expectation increased 59,300. The second epidemic hit two years later and the excessive death toll amounted to 26,700.

INFLUENZA is a common cause of absenteeism in industry and schools but most of the victims get well after a few days at home. Some experience fatigue thereafter and complications prolong the illness for much longer periods. Prevention is stressed because there are no specific remedies. Many industries offer the flu vaccine to their employees for this reason, giving the first dose in October or November and the second, two or three months later.

Influenza is particularly dangerous to pregnant women and persons with chronic heart, circulatory, or kidney disorders. More than 50 per cent of those who died during the previous epidemics suffered from one or more of these general ailments. Many of the victims also developed pneumonia which added to the burden of chronically diseased lungs.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

BALD PATCHES

R. P. writes: My 5-year-old granddaughter has thin hair and patches with just a light fuzz. Her parents cut her hair before she was a year old. Could this be a cause of her poor hair?

REPLY

No, but the almost bald patches are not normal and the condition should be investigated for ringworm or other disorders.

SMOKER'S DISEASE

I. N. writes: Does Buerger's disease favor diabetics?

REPLY

No. Circulatory disorders are common in diabetics but are caused by hardening of the arteries rather than by Buerger's. The latter is a disease of young men who smoke. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on this disorder.

ABNORMAL BLOOD COUNT

W. B. writes: Is a person with a low blood count in danger of developing leukemia?

REPLY

No. I assume you mean anemia when referring to a low blood count. This is not the cause of leukemia, a condition in which there is an excessive number of white blood cells. On the other hand, the two disorders may co-exist.

HEALED BONE

S. S. writes: Can a person who has a cured case of osteomyelitis of the knee become active in sports?

REPLY

Yes, but he should avoid sports in which there is body contact, such as football. This bone infection tends to recur, especially after injury.

One-Acts Plays Set At Dominican

Dominican College Troupers, the school's drama club, will perform the contemporary one-act plays "Impromptu" and "John Turner Davis," Friday, Saturday and Nov. 10 in Angelico Hall on the San Rafael campus.

"Impromptu," an expressionistic drama by Pulitzer prize winner Tad Mosel, examines the motives and inner conflicts of a cast of four characters played by Hansi de Petra of Carmel, Maureen Minehan of Los Angeles, Tom Bertken of San Francisco and Monte Hickok of Hawaii, a student at College of Marin.

"John Turner Davis," by Horton Foote, is the story of a 12-year-old boy abandoned at a Texas river camp by a family of migrant workers. Harry Matsinger, 12, of San Rafael, plays the title role.

Feminine roles are played by Dominican students Sharon Cross of San Francisco, Cecilia Heinz of Salinas, Dianne Phoenix of Bakersfield, Jean O'Meara of Stockton, Jean Murphy of Piedmont, Marion Zingheim of San Jose, Marianne Geiger of Pasadena, Sue Schaafs of Anaheim, Nancy Vasconcellos of Honolulu and Penny Becknell of Washington, D.C.

Male roles are played by Don Van Ettem of Corte Madera, Don McLaughlin of Terra Linda, Larry Selna of Mill Valley, Stan Morris of San Francisco, Kenneth Franceschi and Guy Robinson of San Rafael.

Performances are to be at 8:15 p.m. Friday and Nov. 10 and at 2 p.m. Saturday.

Measles, Mumps Lead Disease List

Nineteen cases of measles and 24 of mumps termed a "seasonable amount" by Marin County Health Officer Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, were reported last week in San Rafael.

The only other case of measles was recorded in an unincorporated area. There were no reports of mump cases other than in San Rafael.

The highest number of streptococci infections was registered in San Rafael with eight. Six cases of strep infection were reported in Novato, two in Corte Madera, one in Mill Valley, and four in unincorporated areas.

There were two cases of gonorrhea in San Rafael and one in Belvedere-Tiburon. One case of syphilis was reported in Marin City and one in Belvedere-Tiburon.

Promoted To Captain

Robert G. Gage, son of Mrs. Hazel B. Williams, 325 Richardson Way, Mill Valley, has been promoted to captain in the Air Force at Williams Air Force Base, Ariz., where he is instructor pilot with the 3525th Pilot Training Squadron here.

Thalidomide Babies

LONDON (AP)—The Ministry of Health reports that 390 thalidomide babies were born in Britain between January 1960 and last August.

At least 302 of these are still alive—224 with malformed limbs and 58 with internal deformities which may never be cured.

The news of today's events is always waiting for you in your evening I-J. (Which is a little different than waiting until tomorrow to read about "yesterday.")

As an evening newspaper, our deadline is always today. Our entire editorial staff combs the county, the nation, the whole world, to bring you the news as it happens. That is the basic job of a newspaper . . . and of the far-flung news-gathering resources of AP and UPI who serve us that we may serve you.

As a result, 68% of all Marin County families take the I-J. By being part of today it's part of their lives . . . and part of the fun of coming home.

NOTICE OF SALE OF REAL PROPERTY AT PRIVATE SALE

In the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the City and County of San Francisco.

No. 160056, Dept. No. 9

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on or after the 7th day of November, 1962, the undersigned, WELLS FARGO BANK and ALICE BRADY, as Executors of the Last Will and Testament of Herbert Luhn, deceased, will sell at private sale to the highest bidder, subject to confirmation by the above-entitled Superior Court, all the right, title and interest of the Estate of said decedent in and to all that real property situate, lying and being in the County of Marin, State of California, described as follows, to wit:

Property commonly known as 19 Fern Lane, San Anselmo, Marin County, California, described as follows:

Bids or offers are invited for said property and must be in writing and may be delivered to Mr. D. S. Green, Real Property Management Department, Wells Fargo Bank, Seventh Floor, 464 California Street, San Francisco, California, or may be filed in the office of the clerk of the Superior Court at any time after the first publication of this notice and before the making of said sale.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF SAID SALE:

All bids shall be for cash, ten percent (10%) of the purchase price offered for said real property shall accompany bid for the same, and shall be by certified check or Bank cashier's check, the balance to be paid upon confirmation of said sale by the Court, and upon the recording of deed conveying title to the purchaser.

Said real property shall be sold subject to rights, rights-of-way, restrictions, covenants and easements of record. Also attention is directed to the fact that a survey of this property on behalf of the Executors indicates that the old frame garage encroaches approximately 4 ft. 7 inches on the property to the northwest. A copy of the survey is available at the Real Property Management Department, Wells Fargo Bank, 464 California Street, San Francisco, California, for anyone's inquiry. The property will be sold in its present "as is" condition; taxes for the fiscal year to be prorated as of the date of the recording of deed; also proration of any rent, insurance, expenses, etc. Recording of Executors' deed of conveyance to be at the expense of the purchaser; Escrow charges and title insurance to be paid by the purchaser.

Executors reserve the right to reject any offers.

PROJECT NO. 2452

MARIN COUNTY DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS SAN RAFAEL, CALIFORNIA NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Sealed Proposals will be received by the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin, State of California, until November 13, 1962, for:

Resurfacing and constructing channelization of Sir Francis Drake Blvd., from Drake Market to the Hub.

The work shall be done in accordance with official plans and specifications prepared in reference thereto which may be seen at the office of the Department of Public Works, County of Marin. Request for forms or information shall be addressed to the Department of Public Works, County of Marin, 1711 Grand Avenue, San Rafael, California.

Plans, Specifications (but not including Standard Specifications or other documents included by reference), and Proposal Forms may be obtained by prospective bidders upon payment of a deposit of Ten Dollars ($10.00) (cash or check made payable to the Department of Public Works, County of Marin) to guarantee safe return of the plans and specifications within ten (10) days after bid opening. Failure to so return the plans and specifications will cause forfeiture of the deposit to the County.

All bids must be submitted on the Proposal form obtained from the Director of Public Works and shall be accompanied by a Proposal Guaranty of at least ten (10) percent of the bid. Guaranties shall be in the form of a certified or Cashier's check or a Bidder's bond. Failure of the successful bidder to execute and return the contract, or to file acceptable bond, as required, within the time allotted shall be cause for the annulment of the award and the forfeiture of the Proposal Guaranty. All guarantees not so retained by the County shall be returned to the bidders within fifteen (15) days after the award of the contract.

Proposal shall be filed with Clerk of the Board of Supervisors, Court House, San Rafael, California.

Said Proposals will be opened and read by the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors at 1:30 P.M. on the day specified above for receiving bids, or as soon thereafter as the matter may be heard. The Clerk will read only the total amount bid and not specific items going to make up said total unless written request for reading of each sub totals and individual items of the bid is requested in writing at the time of the submission of proposals. Bidders will be at liberty to inspect and review bids in the Office of the Director of Public Works to which they will be removed for this purpose of checking after the opening and reading of the totals by the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors.

Bids are required for the entire work described herein, and neither partial bids nor contingent bids will be considered.

The Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

The parcel of land, situate in Rancho San Jose (Pacheco), conveyed by Kaehler Construction Co. to San Jose School District of Marin County by deed dated September 29, 1960 and recorded in the office of the County Recorder of said County of Marin in Book 1404 of Official Records at page 632, and the parcel of land, situate in said Rancho, described and designated PARCEL ONE in the deed from Beverly-Maple Corporation to San Jose School District of Marin County dated September 8, 1960 and recorded in the office of said County Recorder in Book 1404 of Official Records at page 183.

WHEREAS, the PACIFIC GAS & ELECTRIC COMPANY, a corporation, has requested an easement from the School District for the purpose of placement of wires, cables, etc., over and across the following strip upon said land:

All of that real property, situate in the County of Marin, State of California, and more particularly described as follows:

Beginning at the 1¾ inch iron monument (marked R.E. 7595) marking the northwest corner of said lands and running thence S. 89° 58½' E., along the northly boundary lines of said lands, 809.2 feet to the 1⅝ inch iron monument (marked R.E. 7595) marking the northeast corner of said lands; thence along the easterly boundary line of said lands on a curve to the left with a radius of 630 feet, through a central angle of 9° 24' 23", and tangent at the northerly terminus thereof to a line which has a bearing of S. 5° 51' 57" E., an arc distance of 103.4 feet; thence N. 87° 56' W. 837.5 feet to a point in the westerly boundary line of said lands; thence N. 7° 01½' E., along the westerly boundary line of said lands, 72.3 feet, more or less, to the point of beginning.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that this Board hereby declares its intention to convey said property as above-described to the Pacific Gas & Electric Company for the purpose of placement and maintenance of cross-arms, wires and cables, etc., over and across said property, said conveyance shall be made for the consideration of FOUR THOUSAND DOLLARS ($4,000.00) and shall be upon the terms and conditions more particularly set forth in the proposed form of deed which is on file in the office of the School District;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that Tuesday, the 13th day of November, 1962, at 8 o'clock P.M., at the regular meeting place of the San Jose School District, Hamilton Field, California, is hereby fixed as the time and place for a public hearing upon the question of making the above set forth conveyance;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Clerk of this Board be and he is hereby directed to give notice of the adoption of this resolution and of the time and place of holding the meeting by posting copies of this resolution in three public places in the District, not less than ten days before the date of said meeting, and by publishing said resolution once, not less than five days before the date of said meeting, in the INDEPENDENT-JOURNAL, a newspaper of general circulation published in Marin County.

PASSED AND ADOPTED this 22nd day of October, 1962.
/s/ ROBERT R. ALLEN,
/s/ JEAN ANSLEY,
/s/ WM. H. VANDERGRIFT,
Members of the Governing Board of San Jose School District, Marin County, California.

3.25 ACRES
Two Fawns Playing Tag
In the Southern heart of S.R., back to back with KENTFIELD'S DEL MESA is this tree studded horse - shoe - shaped 3.25 acres. When we first walked into this idyllic haven, 2 fawns were happily playing a graceful game of tag across its gentle upper rim. This could be your private close-in hidden-glen estate, or, for the investor or builder zoning has geen granted for six individual home sites. (min. 20,000 sq. ft. each). EXCLUSIVE!

'60 Chev Wagon

Here's a 9-passenger, 3-seat wagon in the best that Chevrolet built in 1960. It's a Kingswood with all the equipment including power steering, brakes, power tailgate window, powerglide, radio, heater, new tires and all the extras. One owner wagon used mainly to haul kids around the county. Low mileage. Like new. Average Blue Book price is $2,395 but we'll sell for $1,995 this weekend only.

Council To Set Freeway Hearing

A date for a public hearing on freeway routes through Novato will be set by the Novato city council at its meeting at 8 p.m. today in the community building.

The state Division of Highways has held its final hearing on a freeway route through Novato. The Novato council is holding its own hearing before giving the state its official stand.

Drainage on Vallejo Avenue also is to be discussed at tonight's meeting.

26 Students Join Journalism Society

Six Tamalpais High School journalism students have been initiated into Quill and Scroll, a national journalism society, and received key pins.

They are Vicki Poling, Tamalpais news editor; Pam Windsor, Pete Lieberman and David Locey, page editors and Jean Norton and Moira O'Connor, reporters. Ann Rogers, journalism teacher and news adviser, received her first adviser key pin, a gift from the staff.

Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon"

New laxative discovery re-creates 3 essentials of normal regularity

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge.

Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style bulks and moisteners may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and drugs frequently cramp and gripe. Of all leading laxatives, only new COLONAID gives you its special 3-way relief that works only on the lower colon (area of constipation).

(1) COLONAID prevents the formation of dry, hardened waste for easy passage without pain or strain. (2) COLONAID'S unique rebulking action helps retone flabby colon muscles. (3) And COLONAID acts gently on the nerve reflexes that stimulate the vital "mass movement" of your lower colon.

COLONAID relieves even chronic constipation overnight; is so gentle it was hospital proved safe even for expectant mothers. And COLONAID won't interfere with absorption of vitamins or other food nutrients. Get COLONAID today! INTRODUCTORY SIZE 43¢

Redwood's Bill To Give 'Shrew' New Background

The shrew still be Katherine but she'll be dressed like Catalina in Redwood High School's production of "Taming of the Shrew."

The Shakespearean comedy will be played — with early California flourishes — in the high school's little theater in Larkspur Thursday, Friday, and Nov. 8 and 9 with curtain at 8:30 p.m. It will be the first play presented in the new little theater.

DIRECTOR OF PLAY

Joseph E. Wadlington, Redwood drama instructor who is directing the play, is responsible for the Spanish California costuming of the Elizabethan masterpiece. The setting has been changed, too, to California of the grandee days. But the dialogue remains as Shakespeare wrote it.

Twinka Thiebaud, daughter of Mrs. Patricia Hardesty of Mill Valley, will play Katherine, the shrew. Jeff Garrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Garrison of Corte Madera, will play Petruchio, the man responsible for the taming.

Bianca, sister of Katherine, will be played by Cindy Southmayd. Baptista, father of the two sisters, will be played by Dave Youens.

OTHERS IN CAST

Adults Helping Complete UNICEF Halloween Plans

More than 500 Marin women are working to complete plans for what they hope will be the largest United Nations Children's Emergency Fund drive ever held in the county on Halloween.

About 7,000 children will carry cartons from door to door tomorrow night for the collection. Churches, schools and youth service organizations such as Girl Scouts, Campfire Girls and Cub Scouts will aid in the drive.

Area chairmen for the UNICEF drive are Mrs. Joseph A. Moore, Mill Valley; Mrs. Thomas Laufer, Sausalito; Mrs. Donald MacKay, Tiburon Peninsula; Mrs. Harold Kling, Larkspur-Corte Madera; Mrs. Frederic S. Coolidge, Kentfield.

Mrs. Frank L. Miller, Greenbrae; Mrs. Hal E. Moore, Ross; Mrs. Arnold B. Come, San Anselmo; Mrs. Edward E. Hewitt, Fairfax; Mrs. Joseph A. McConnell Jr., San Geronimo Valley; Mrs. Taylor Smith, San Rafael; Mrs. Julian W. Mack II, Terra Linda; Mrs. Robert H. Conradt, Marinwood-Lucas Valley and Mrs. Earl Siegel, Novato.

Great Books Course Set

Robert Shepardson of San Francisco, area director for the Great Books Foundation, will conduct the first session in a six-week course for discussion group leaders tonight at 8 o'clock in the Mill Valley School District office, 20 Miller Avenue.

There are no fees, membership or prior experience requirements for the course. Shepardson said there are nine Great Books groups in Marin County now, and more are expected to be formed.

Information on the program may be obtained from Mrs. Peter Ballinger of San Rafael.

On English Committee

Prof. Thurston Womack of 36 Fairway Drive, Mill Valley, a member of the English department at San Francisco State College, has been appointed to the Committee on Teaching English as a Second Language, National Council of Teachers of English.

Oklahoma State University has won five straight Big Eight golf titles.
